

Breaking the Cosmic Egg

Who are we? Where do we come from? Where are we going?

Book I.

Beloved brothers and sisters of Light!

I offer you a summary of the knowledge, insights and experiences that I have accumulated along my journey through life, as one possible view of the infinite and wonderful reality that we all experience. In this book, I try to include a general - holistic view of the functioning of the world around us, and for this purpose I combine a wide range of different doctrines, sciences and arts.

My goal is not really to provide exhaustive information from some area.

I want to achieve that itate gets oriented and understands the common denominator in the many different sources that I am uniting here. The one who succeeds can easily guess the details and other information in today's multimedia world.

The guesswork, guesswork and guesswork that you will get after reading these few pages will help you understand the causes and consequences of the events taking place in this historically pivotal time for humanity and the planet Earth and will help you find the direction you should go in order to find peace in your lives. , satisfaction, joy, love and happiness.

I am asking you to open your minds and your hearts to reading and accept these words and energies as a gift that I am giving you out of true Love and without any effort to prove or convince anyone. Recognize the right of everyone to have their own opinion and belief and live your life according to your convictions, even if it sometimes seems to you that yours is the right one.

Approach the information offered with love, common sense and the necessary distance. Accept as yours only what you internally agree with, it helps you to know a better life, creates better relationships and elevates you to joy and satisfaction.

With Love and Respect

what will you learn in this book and its sequels?

Dear aunt, dear aunt. This e-book is the first of three books in which I try to gradually answer the three basic questions that are the subtitle of the book:

1. Who are we?
2. Where do we come from?
3. Where are we heading?

In the first two chapters, which are included in this first publication, I deal with cosmology - the basic principles and laws of the formation of our Universe on a spiritual and also a material level. In the second chapter, I deal with the dimensional structure of Creation and the interplay of beings that ensure the running and functioning of our reality. During this trip beyond the boundaries of our ordinary senses, I will briefly touch on topics that I will cover in more detail in the next two parts of the book that I am preparing for you. In the appendix of this book you will find invocations of the violet flame - the most effective technique of spiritual liberation and karmic purification.

In the following second volume, you will find an overview of the esoteric history of the solar system and cosmic events that are not recorded in classical materialistic history. I will deal with the epic story of Sanat Kumar, Lemuria, Atlantis, the origin of ancient structures such as the pyramids and other megaliths. This publication will also include an extensive pictorial appendix documenting UFOs in prehistoric and historical art and the best UFO photographs of the past 100+ years.

In the third and final part, you will learn about prophecies about 2012, the Mayan calendar and the arrival of the New Age and our Union with the Light Galactic Family. We will deal with this in more detail - about Ascension - and we will look into the subtle anatomy of the hunter and the Light Body. We will end the whole series with practical instructions and instructions for simple but very effective techniques for Spiritual Growth.

I wish you a pleasant reading...

...and let this book be a light for you on your path of ascension!

How does this e-book work?

My goal is to provide them with the widest overview of information in the smallest amount. Originally, I wanted to include all three books in one book, but during the work, it became clear that even with the greatest effort to be concise, I would not be able to narrow this scope down to a hundred pages, as I intended. The condition that I try to comply with is that it provides less known information to those who already have a certain understanding of esotericism, but at the same time preserves the comprehensibility and coherence of the text even for a person who is a complete novice in esotericism. For this reason, I created the e-book in several layers, which are distinguished in the text by bold or colored highlighting of the font, and itate can choose according to the level of his knowledge and interest how deep he wants to dive into the given issue.

The meaning of individual font types is as follows:

Chapter titles are marked with an orange background.

The lowest text level is marked with a yellow background and a thin font.

Important information is displayed in bold font.

Interesting information is shown in italics.

Detailed information is written in normal font.

Channeled messages and examples are shown in smaller font.

1.1 Suffering and happiness

I'm sure you will agree that every sentient being wants to get rid of suffering and find lasting happiness. When we observe the material world around us with our senses and the feelings and thoughts within us with our consciousness, we notice that all these phenomena are constantly changing. New material and thought forms are constantly emerging and old ones disappear. From this it is clear that permanent happiness cannot be found in identifying with some form, because no form lasts forever and cannot be relied on to last until the end of our life or until the next month or the next day. The fact that the future of material possessions, partner relationships and also belief systems such as religions and science is uncertain is especially obvious in the current era of rapid revolutionary changes in society. Even if we were to find happiness in merging with some forms, when we lose them, we will necessarily experience misery and suffering. We all know this misfortune of losing someone with whom we have identified, we have experienced it many times: someone's house floods, another's car crashes, another gets injured, gets divorced, and so on. Creation and non-existence - birth and death - change of forms - this is how life manifests itself.

If we observe something long enough, we will notice that this thing exists only temporarily and not permanently. So in the long run we can say that things do not exist! Let's take, for example, an ordinary apple. There is no apple on the tree in winter - it doesn't exist yet. Buds appear in the spring, then flowers, a whitefly flies in to pollinate the flower and it turns into a fruit in which seeds are formed. The fruit ripens and in this brief moment we say that this is an apple. Then the fruit falls under the tree and rots or we eat it and the apple does not exist again. However, a new tree can grow from its seed and the whole cycle can repeat itself. So if we think about the time period of one year, the apple does not exist as a thing and is actually a phenomenon - change, creation and disappearance. And this is the case with all things/phenomena in nature, with our body, entire animal species, even planets and galaxies.

So, how can you find the right thing to do? Something permanent, on which we could direct our life and thus find our destiny. When we search hard in life, we really find nothing permanent: first of all, it is change itself. They say that change is life, I would rather say that change is a manifestation of life, life itself is something that hides behind changes. The second permanent thing in the life of each of us is ourselves! I've been here all my life and I'm still me no matter what happens! I know that I am, and I know that I am the one living this life. But who or what is this "I" actually?

"I" cannot be our body, because it is constantly changing - since we are in the womb our mothers were created as an embryo, through birth, childhood, adolescence, old age and even death. Obviously, the body we had at birth is not the body we have now or had ten years ago. The body developed, grew, cells and atoms were created and destroyed by the intake and excretion of food.

Scientists have calculated that every 5-7 years all the cells in our body are replaced. My body changes with every breath, I take in oxygen and excrete carbon dioxide, blood circulates in my veins, but I am still Me. Even if I lose an arm in an accident, or I am operated on for blindness, my Self will not diminish. It might be a trauma, a misfortune for someone, but that misfortune arises precisely because the person in question finds misfortune in identifying with his body, which is inevitably subject to changes. This is often the case with various models and celebrities who identify their Self and Shasti with their body, and then when the body ages or gets damaged, they are miserable for the rest of their lives. But for most people (at least until a certain age or weight ;-), constant body changes are not a problem. When a person does not identify his Self with his body, he knows that although the body changes, I am still the same being as a year ago.

"I" is not even our mind. The very fact that I say "my mind" makes it clear that I am someone or something different from the mind, and the mind is my instrument, like the body. Our knowledge, memories and ideas, just like our body, are also constantly arising, disappearing and changing, and therefore identification with them inevitably leads to mischief and suffering over time. Most people, however, do not understand this fact and create various ideas and fantasies about what should and should not be done, it is not a problem in itself, but the problem arises for them when they tie their thoughts to these thought forms, which will not be fulfilled. or they fulfill and last for a certain period of time, and then, together with the ideas, their final state breaks down, and the phase of mischief and suffering comes again. This is how most of us live our whole lives as if on a roller coaster, up and down, up and down, bad luck... Many of us are even obsessed, even morbidly fixated on various bad memories from the past and constantly renew them in our minds and thus ourselves they suffer mentally for years, as a result of which they create various diseases and other suffering. Today, people are so immersed, even drowned, in their thoughts and feelings that they - their "I" - probably cannot detach themselves from their mind and emotions for a few minutes in order to experience their true essence - life itself.

However, each of us knows at least fleeting moments of calm and peace, when we got outside of our thoughts and feelings. When we forgot about the past and the future, our head was beautifully emptied and in silent wonder and joy we merged with the presence of our heart. It could be with a beautiful view from the top of the hill on the surrounding nature or when merging into unity in an embrace with our close hunter or animal. At that moment, when our whole being is flooded with happiness and love, thoughts are lost and we perceive in ourselves infinite joy and satisfaction from our existence, existence ceases and we plunge into eternity for a while. Now, to thoughts, doubts or problems they do not exist, "I am" still here - perceiving, aware of my existence - expanding into infinity, bliss and perfection. Perception - consciousness - is my permanent and unchanging essence: "I am" - the all-aware consciousness. I am aware of my thoughts, feelings, my body, I am aware of what my senses convey about me - colors, sounds, smells, tastes, touches. "I am" here even when I dream, and it is "I" who is aware of my dreams. Without consciousness, I do not know that I exist, and without consciousness, I cannot make sense of the snake.

Consciousness is immaterial and formless, it does not change in my life, and everything that has a form - body, thoughts, feelings, experiences - changes and is perceived by my consciousness. The consciousness "I am" is the canvas and the world of forms is the projected film. It is clear from this that permanent happiness cannot be found in the future, but only in the present. We must learn to stop clinging to the fleeting images of happiness that we project into our future and rejoice in the here and now.

Finding lasting happiness means being present with an open heart and an open mind.

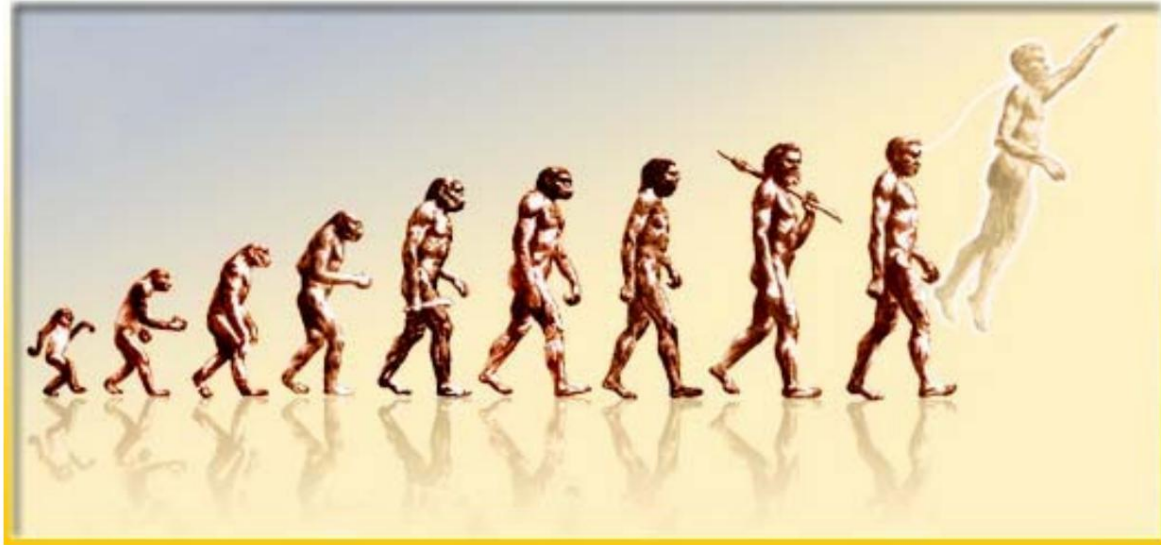

1.2 Materialism

There are two philosophical views on the origin of matter and consciousness. Materialism is a worldview that is widely accepted today in everyday political, economic and social life and claims that matter came into existence first and then consciousness, which is a further "accidental" product of matter. Idealism, on the other hand, assumes that consciousness and intelligence are primordial and that the universe, space and matter are their creation.

I will try to summarize in layman's terms what is known about me from the theory of materialism. According to materialist physics, the universe was created by the Big Bang billions of years ago from an infinitely material point that exploded and has been expanding ever since. From the masses of matter, elementary particles and atoms were formed, which, under the action of physical forces such as gravity, electro-magnetism and nuclear reactions, gradually combined and created increasingly complicated elements and molecules.

Clouds, galaxies, stars and planets were formed by compaction of star dust, i.e. various gases, liquids as well as metals and minerals. (Where the material point came from and what happened before, as far as I know, this theory does not say.)

According to materialistic biology, other "random" reactions and interactions of these inorganic compounds in the so-called In the "primordial soup", (however, as it is still generally assumed, exclusively on Earth), increasingly complex structures were gradually formed: organic compounds, and these, through other action of physical laws and "accidents", spontaneously created an amazingly complex DNA - gene compound, which enabled the creation, reproduction and development of unicellular organisms such as bacteria and microbes.

These ancient single-celled organisms, still lacking any consciousness or intelligence, evolved spontaneously until they became more complex - multicellular - organisms with various specialized tissues and organs such as plants and animals. According to Darwin's theory of the evolution of species, these organisms have evolved (and Darwinists emphasize this) for millions of years on the basis of the so-called of "natural selection" and "random mutations".

Priom random mutations are essentially errors in multiplication, i.e. DNA copying and natural selection is the law of the jungle, which says that the strongest will survive or "more suitable" (gene).

The last and most perfect stage of this chain of development on Earth (and since it is believed that life probably did not originate elsewhere or develop to such perfection as on Earth - as well as in space) is man, who is the "master of creation" and differs from other organisms mainly due to the fact that, as a single species, consciousness and the ability to think "emerged" in the hunter. Consciousness as a scientific product of matter (no longer like stool :-)) arose again spontaneously and "accidentally" by the interaction of unconscious bodies, from a geological point of time a relatively short time ago, some tens of thousands of years.

In this same, ridiculously short period of time, called the "history of mankind", after "the brain matter gave rise to consciousness" (the material essence of which is not known), a primitive cave hunter in the Stone Age got brilliant ideas for building a settlement, develop agriculture and animal husbandry, and with "rocket speed" using "intelligent selection" created countless species with new genetics - crops and domestic animals that would otherwise take millions of years to evolve naturally. It assumes the implementation of such complex manipulations with nature over the course of some 5,000 years in eight geographical areas can only be described as a Miracle. However, the credibility of this scenario the fact that a Neolithic visionary would have to look at wild ancestors, imagine what he could do with them, and finally did it is greatly emphasized. This someone would also have to somehow ensure that his visions would be carried by countless generations, who would have to remain devoted to his idea and sow, gather and sort wild plants that would not put any food on their table during their lifetime, but could one day become the food of descendants living in a very distant, unpredictable future.

Materialistic and evolutionary faith is faith in the most fantastic miracles that do not even happen in fairy tales and fables. They are miracles that no one causes, that just happen by themselves. For every normal miracle, there is someone in the background who has a mysterious power. The frog is transformed into a prince by a magician and a fairy with a magic wand. In evolution, the transformation of a frog into a prince (that is, an amphibian into a hunter) takes place without cocci.

Materialism as a philosophy of life does not recognize our separate existence as consciousness and claims that our personality, feelings, thoughts, memories, imaginations and dreams are the result of chemical processes in the body without any deeper meaning and meaning. The goal of materialistic life is to survive and pass on your genes to the next generation - reproduce. On the basis that there is no intelligence in the body other than the arrangement of matter - that is, the genes - the survival instinct is also coded in the genes. How and especially why this code / instinct of self-preservation, which tries to replicate itself, without being aware of itself at all, got into the DNA is another mystery to me. However, it would have to be there from the beginning through the action of some "miraculous material coincidence", otherwise no copying / reproduction and evolutionary development could occur at all. In this way, unintelligent chance becomes the all-powerful materialistic God who created the universe, life and man.

This unbelieving opinion that our world has no intelligent cause was created about 100 years ago and is spreading only because every person has to deeply believe in someone if they want to live. We can summarize the basic links of materialistic faith as follows:

1. Everything in the world is in its basis and origin only material in nature. Other things are just a manifestation of matter - that is, joy, sadness, compassion, ... love and the hunter is a genetically programmed bio-robot that cannot control the snake or decide about its life, because all this is stored and given in the atoms and molecules of its body and of mystical scientific "chance", an unconscious force over which the hunter has no power.
2. Everything in the world is in the process of long-term self-improvement. Matter is capable of achieving the highest organization we know even without a constructor - it creates a hunter. In the course of time, matter came to life and began to think, feel and ... love.

3. There is no superior form of life, and therefore man is responsible for his thinking and actions only to social agreements and his own conscience, which is also relative like everything else in the world.

Some scientific quotes on the topic:

Dr. Denton: "There has been a widespread illusion that the theory of evolution was proven a hundred years ago, and that all subsequent biological research provides ever-increasing evidence for Darwin's idea. It couldn't be further from the truth than this... His theory that all life evolved on Earth as a result of the gradual accumulation of random mutations, is still - as in Darwin's time - only a highly speculative hypothesis without direct factual support.

dr. George Wald, nob. prize 1967: "When it comes to the origin of life on Earth, there are only two possibilities: creation or spontaneous generation (evolution). There is no third possibility. Spontaneous procreation was denied 100 years ago, but that leads us to only one other conclusion: supernatural creation. We cannot accept it for philosophical reasons (personal reasons); and so we choose to believe in the impossible, that life arose spontaneously by chance." (American biochemist and physiologist, 1906-1997, Nobel prize for discoveries in the field of primary physiological and chemical processes in the process of vision, together with two other scientists).

Prof. Bruno Vollmert, macromolecular chemist: "The widely held view of chemical evolution, which preceded biological evolution, lacks any scientific justification."

Dr. Denton, molecular biologist, Evolution, a theory in crisis: "There is no doubt that if molecular evidence had been available a century earlier, the idea of organic evolution could never have been accepted."

Pat Shipman: "...we don't know who comes from whom; we only know who does not come from whom..." . "...we have absolutely no evidence of where Homo came from , and we can eliminate all Australopithecus species from the hominid era." (CRSQ 3/88)

All those trees of life with their branches of our ancestors, that's a bunch of nonsense. (deceased Mary Leakey, 12/1996) A+F,9/97 - World's leading paleoanthropology and archaeology. (impact)

Ernst Kahan: "It is absurd and absolutely unthinkable to believe that a living cell arose by itself. However, I still believe it, because I can't imagine it otherwise."

Biologist, prof. Conklin from Princeton University: "The probability that life arose by chance is equal to the probability that the perfect dictionary is the result of an explosion in a printing press."

Isaac Newton: "The wonderful arrangement and harmony of the universe could only have come about under the plan of an almighty being. That is and will remain my last piece of knowledge."

The fact that we can explain how life and the universe work to a certain extent with the laws of science does not mean that there is no Creation. Would it be rational to believe that there was no designer at the beginning of airplanes, because we can explain by scientific laws why airplanes fly? Science cannot prove that we are here due to an Intelligent Creature, but neither can we prove that we are here due to random evolution. Both are accepted as faith. The question is which one, Darwinian evolution by chance or Intelligent Creation, has better philosophical and scientific support. What we believe about the origin of life affects our philosophy and life values, as well as our view of ourselves and others.

1.3. Holographic model of the universe

In the previous chapter, I summarized what is known about materialism, and indicated that this faith, from its very principle, offers its believers no possibility of higher meaning, higher intelligence, or permanent happiness. Does science offer us any alternative today? Of course...

Physicist Alain Aspect in 1982 at the University of Paris experimentally discovered that under certain circumstances subatomic particles, e.g. electrons able to instantly communicate with each other regardless of the distance that separates them. Each particle seems to be aware of what the others are doing. Based on Aspect's discovery, David Bohm from the University of London believes that objective reality does not exist, the appearance of a compact universe is just an illusion - a huge detailed hologram.

The natural property of any hologram is that it contains the whole in every aspect. This principle motivated Bohm to understand Aspect's discovery. Bohm believes that the reason for the mutual interaction between variously distant particles does not lie in the transmission of signals between them, but in the fact that separation is an illusion. Bohm argues that from a certain deeper level of reality, particles cease to be individual entities and rather represent their unified essence.

Stanford neurophysiologist Karl Pribram, independently of Bohm, engaged in brain research and also came to the conviction of the holographic nature of reality. Pribram died with the holographic model while struggling with the question of how and where memory and memories are stored in the brain. After decades of research, he concluded that memory is not limited to a specific area but is spread throughout the brain. Pribram believes that memories are not encoded in neurons or small clusters of neurons, but in patterns of nerve impulses that cut through the brain in the same way that laser light interferes with the entire surface of the film on which a holographic image is stored. In short, Pribram believes that the brain is itself a hologram. Our mysterious ability will instantly recall any memory, which from the vast we just need a lot of stored information, and the fact that each piece of information immediately seems to be related to other pieces of information becomes more understandable in this way.

another neurophysiological puzzle that became clear in the light of Pribram's holographic model of the brain is: how the brain transforms an unprecedented rush of frequencies (for example, light and sound waves) that it receives through the senses into a concrete form of the world as we know it.

Coding and decoding of individual frequencies is exactly what the hologram principle explains best. Pribram is convinced that the brain acts like a lens and, on a holographic basis, mathematically converts the frequencies it receives through the senses and transmits them to our inner world of perception.

The tangible world is only a secondary reality, the universe is a hologram, whose specific frequencies are converted into a sensory form, and *although we may think that we are physical beings moving in the physical world, it is nothing more than an imagination. We are just receivers floating in the middle of a kaleidoscopic ocean of frequencies, and what we choose from this ocean and translate into physical reality is only one of the many variations that are possible within the superhologram of manifestation.

This new picture of reality is called the holographic paradigm, and it is one of the most accurate models of reality that science has come up with. This paradigm can solve some mysteries, the so-called paranormal and parapsychological phenomena that have not been explained by traditional science. In a universe where individual brains are actually an inseparable thread of a giant hologram and everything is interconnected, telepathy is possible only by making the holographic level accessible.

Stanislav Grof also feels that the holographic paradigm offers a model that explains many mysterious phenomena experienced during altered states of consciousness. During his psychotherapy practice, he encountered psychological mysteries such as regression to the animal kingdom, came into contact with patients who seemed to have penetrated some kind of collective or racial unconscious. people with little or no education were suddenly providing detailed descriptions of funeral practices from the time of Zarathustra and scenes from Hindu mythology. Another group may include persons who have convincingly described their out-of-body experiences, glimpses into the future, and regressions into past lives. The common denominator of the haunted experiences was the transcendence of individual consciousness beyond the usual boundaries of the human ego and the limitations given by the a-spatial continuum, but he could not explain these special psychological phenomena. That only changed with the advent of the holographic paradigm.

Keith Floyd, a psychologist from Virginia, has argued that if hard reality is only a holographic illusion, then the claim that the brain produces consciousness cannot be valid. Rather, it is consciousness that creates the appearance of the brain—as well as the body and everything that surrounds it and that we interpret as the physical world. Such a radical reversal in the view of biological structures also changes our understanding of medicine and the healing process. From the idea of a holographic projection of the physical structure of our body, it is clear that each of us is responsible for our health more than current medical knowledge admits. What we now consider a miraculous healing of an illness can actually only be a change in consciousness, which will subsequently manifest itself in a change in the hologram of the body. In accordance with the holographic paradigm, there are also questionable healing techniques such as visualization, which surprisingly brings successful results, because on the holographic level, thoughts are as real as "reality". Paranormal experiences are not a common human experience simply because of our conviction that it is not possible. In the holographic universe, there are no limits to the extent to which we can alter the structure of reality. Magic is our birthright, therefore everything is given only by our abilities to program reality according to our wishes.

As Pribram stated, even random events must be viewed in holographic principles. Synchronicities, or significant coincidences, suddenly make sense, and everything in reality must be understood as a metaphor, for even the greatest of coincidences express some deeper symmetry.

1.4. The primordial Creation is consciousness

Idealistic philosophy, in contrast to materialism, assumes that the universe and human life have a meaning and that it does not arise by itself and without a cause, but the action of intelligence and consciousness is necessary to create objects. Idealism supports the holographic model, it considers the consciousness that is primary it is omnipresent and omnipresent, and the universe, matter and life are manifestations of this consciousness.

In idealistic philosophy, we believe that it is illogical to suppose that any intelligence (DNA) could create a higher intelligence (consciousness) that transcends itself, or even that something unintelligent (matter) could create intelligence (DNA). Always only a higher intelligence creates a lower one and not the other way around.

The universe, life and man are the work of some higher intelligence.

Even if the evolutionary theory as it is currently built in our science correctly describes the development of species on our planet to a certain extent, it completely forgets about the inner control, the "hidden" motive behind this deeply creative process. The spread of species on Earth was caused by internal movements at the level of the soul. Because spirit always precedes and creates matter. At first, earth souls incarnated into material forms that best suited their primitive sense of self: single-celled organisms. After a period of gaining experience and incorporating it into consciousness, there was a need for more complex means of physical expression. Thus, more complex life forms were propelled into being. Consciousness created physical forms in response to the inner needs and desires of earthly souls.

The idealistic worldview of the creation of life and man is shared by all world religions and mythologies of all indigenous peoples (except for the just mentioned Darwinian theory of evolution, which, however, is mistakenly considered science, although it is also a religion, because its validity is not supported by any scientific evidence).

When we look at the world's religions, we find that they have a lot in common (to which I will come back later) but also that they differ in many ways. The basic difference between different religions from the point of view of creation is that they recognize the existence of one or more creatures. Based on this, we divide religions into polytheism - polytheism and monotheism - monotheism (theos - god, Greek, from which, for example, theology - the doctrine of God). However, if we are consistent in our idealistic thinking, we will notice that in the case of polytheism, this is an incomplete model of creation and that many gods who created the hunter must also have been created by some higher intelligence.

If we continue in this way, by successive guessing of higher intelligences (consciousnesses), we will find one highest intelligence (supreme consciousness) that surpasses all other intelligences.

From this we see that there is only one Primordial Creature (God / Source / Supreme Reality). The original Creator is outside of time and space: they are his creations. Therefore, it has no beginning or end, it is everywhere and in everything, beyond and above. All manifested worlds and beings are only faces and forms of this one Source. There is only one Consciousness, the Consciousness of the Creator, and all others are only locally living, algorithmically structured and hierarchical, multifaceted expressions and projections of this one unified divine identity.

The original Creation is perfect and perfect, and nothing can be taken away or added to from its perfection. It is immutable in its perfection, it is not subject to transformation in this sense. But this does not mean that He is not different, but on the contrary, the creative innos, which is nothing different from Him, but only His movement, is His same aspect as His immutable, formless as. Manifestation and non-manifestation, these aspects of Creation cannot be separated and always exist together and form an inseparable unity. The unmanifest aspect is consciousness, which is His being. The creative aspect of the Stvorite is its power, which is the intelligent, manifestation and formative principle of its being. Life is a bond of all-pervading basis and material formation. That all-pervading basis is all-pervading, ie. formless and immaterial consciousness; matter is creative energy itself.

The third equally important aspect of Stvorite is Unconditional Love which is the giver of happiness and bliss. Love is a separate existence, a separate principle, and needs no object or reason. It is its own reason, object and goal. In this sense, Love is the First Creation, which, however, is not exhausted by Love (it also has other aspects).

The goal of life is the achievement of external bliss, which is a conscious union with the Primordial Creation in the mentioned three aspects, or in other words, divine life. This is possible because unconsciously, but essentially still, we are His followers, as all the great spiritual teachers of humanity such as Jesus, Buddha and many others more or less clearly state.

Since there is only one Primordial Creature and there is no other, that is why the principles of consciousness, power and love are present in all creation and therefore also in man. the hunter is the image of the First Creation and everything that belongs to Him can also be found in the hunter. Consciousness animates him and is his life and bearer of identity in time and space. However, due to his ignorance, he does not recognize it and identifies himself with the body and mind, thus creating a false self, the ego. The body and the world of humans are created by life force. He himself has an unlimited, unconditional and independent ability to induce a state of love and thus also its gifts, happiness. Because man has separated himself from the Creator by his own will, he is in a non-divine state, and divinity is only his hidden, unused possibility. However, in order to truly recognize the Truth that everything, including himself, is perfect, he does not simply read the relevant teaching and accept it as his opinion, but he must consciously know his essence and learn to live in it. In the dry state, his only reality is life in separation from his essence, which is characterized by ignorance and suffering, and until he reaches the state of unity with the Original Creation, his divinity is not even valid for him.

The path to unity is through discovering, cultivating and developing aspects of the Original Creation that are innate to us. In other words, knowing yourself we know the God who is closest to us directly in us and therefore also the easiest to find.

The consciousness of objects is many and variable, but that which is aware of everything is only one and it is a pure awareness principle. This principle, although it is the only one, manifests itself in all beings and gives them conscious life.

I undoubtedly am. Doubting itself proves my existence. Because I realize that I am, I am what I realize that I am. I cannot be aware of something I am not, because I would be aware of a self other than myself. I am my self, self-aware consciousness I am. My being, my Self, is my consciousness. I am consciousness I AM.

With the same consciousness with which I am aware of myself and what I am, I am also aware of the objects of awareness, the whole world. So my consciousness is a condition for the existence of mine and the world. It does not exist without I AM; not even her, because no one would be aware of him. Consciousness of something - objects and oneself, is first and foremost a proof of the existence of conscious consciousness, because without it there could be no awareness, not even one's own existence. Even so, the so-called "others" can be aware only in the consciousness that is aware of them, they are conditioned by it and fully dependent on it for their existence.

They too can recognize themselves and objects only when they are conscious and in consciousness. No other way. Their testimonies and reality are as subjective as ours.

Objective reality is unproven, even if it were proven, it would become an awareness of it and thus it would suddenly become truly subjective. Even the very idea of the existence of an objective reality independent of awareness can only exist in consciousness. Without consciousness or even outside of consciousness, it is impossible to be aware of it, and thus neither can it be proven. Upon closer examination, we will soon find out that what is pretending to be objective truth is just a coincidence of the statements of several subjects. This is again conditioned by the existence of conscious subjects and several, and we get back to the primary meaning of consciousness and the subjectivity of everything.

Consciousness is the primary cause, basis and existence of everything: our Self and the World. It is independent of the umbilical cord, it is an existing Reality and a self-aware being. Everything else is secondary and exists only in consciousness.

Consciousness is supra-dasa, in consciousness, as in the sense of a linear flow does not exist, consciousness is not subject to as, as is a representation of the mind. Memories of the past, as well as ideas of the future, can be brought to consciousness at any time, and they always exist in consciousness in the present moment. The whole venos is hidden in the consciousness of the present.

The potential of consciousness is unlimited. Everything we can imagine and everything we can't imagine can appear in consciousness: we can be aware of all kinds of thoughts, images, feelings, dreams, fantasies and ideas.

Empty consciousness is consciousness without content, without expression - we call it

Emptiness, Darkness or Unconsciousness. Empty consciousness is not dead, it is still the same consciousness full of life - endless possibilities and potentials, but in a state of rest - without content, without expression, without movement. Creation - Manifestation - The cosmos is created by the movement of consciousness, and that is at the moment when consciousness becomes aware, first of all, of itself, of its existence. In order for consciousness to be aware and imagine the Universe, it must first be aware of itself, realize that it is consciousness and that it can be aware. Creation of Manifestation - Universes and Beings begins with the Primordial Create with the awareness "I Am" - this awareness is the first movement of consciousness, the first wave - vibration. With this first movement - awareness - the Light in the darkness will be lit, the cosmic symphony will be heard - the Music of the Spheres. This first change / movement / wave / vibration is referred to by religions that explain the origin of creation as "Bu Light" or the primordial sound "Om". The universe is created by the movement of consciousness and its essence is wavelike. The wave nature of the universe has already been discovered by physics, light is an electromagnetic wave, energy / heat is created by the movement and oscillation of particles, and also the elementary particles themselves, which make up matter, are distinct forms of oscillation and wave. The mathematical connection between energy, matter and light was summarized by Albert Einstein in his famous formula $E=mc^2$.

We also call the universe the Cosmic Cape, because it creates by thinking. "In the beginning was the Word" - the thought "I am" appeared in consciousness. What I understand here by the term mind is, of course, much broader and finer than our usual logical / verbal mind. Consciousness did not realize itself with the words "I am" but abstractly on a higher / subtler / immaterial / spiritual level - on the level of ideas.

The essence of the universe is vibrations / waves that have one common Primordial Source but differ from each other in frequencies, i.e. wave length, and amplitude, i.e. wave height or intensity/power. We do not know how many galaxies and universes the Primeval Creator creates, but we know from the properties of light and sound that in our galaxy the waves are arranged in groups of 7 - the light spectrum has 7 colors, the musical octave has 7 tones and as it says in the Bible, God created the world at 7 a.m. and our life pulsates in this rhythm even today. We know that sound is made up of harmonic octaves, a new octave always starts with the eighth note. This repeating / cyclical structure is a universal property and also applies to light, and our entire universe is organized into cycles / octaves, which are also called dimensions.

1.5. Wave propagation

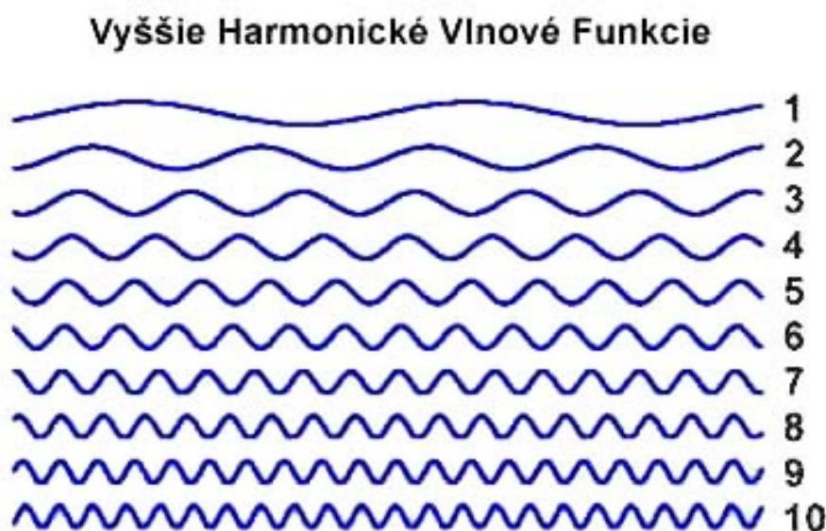

Cosmos / Speech needs a Source and an environment through which it spreads for its existence. The source of the Universe is the movement of consciousness - the Primordial Creation, and the environment in which the Cosmos spreads is the Void, which is not different from the Creation, but it is the Creation at rest. The entire Creation takes place within the Creation (Consciousness), it is its ace, and the Creation transcends it with its Emptiness (where, by an immutable ace).

The essence of the cosmos is wave, and thus this propagation of movement / Creation / Cosmos takes place in waves that emanate from the Source of waves, which is the first movement of Consciousness. Since the Cosmos / Creation is a hologram, the property of which is that the whole (consciousness) is found in every part of it, the principles of spreading consciousness must be found in the form of analogies (metaphors) throughout the Cosmos. Suitable analogies for wave propagation can be seen in light, sound, but also in matter, especially liquids.

The following principles, which are known from physics, describe the propagation of vn. In the substance (medium) in which the wave propagates, areas in which the substance is denser, called clumps, alternate with areas where the substance is thinner, called dilutions. For example, when an oscillating string vibrates, it is sold with its kinetic energy to air gas molecules. At the same time, the gas molecules on one side of the string are more tightly bound together, on the other side they are separated from each other. In the following moments, the drunk phenomenon occurs. Through this regularly repeating event, energy is gradually transferred to more distant sequences of matter (space). A commotion spreads through the air from the vibrating string, in which air molecules alternately and regularly thicken and dilute.

The following illustration shows the way a wave can be represented using the so-called wave function.

If the substance (space / consciousness) were in a lump (no undulation), the density (of cells) would not change in the substance, i.e. the wave function would be the horizontal axis. Waves are probably also represented using wavefronts. If we imagine ripples on the surface of a lake, then the wave function represents the projection of the waves from the side and the wavefront the projection from above.

The Huygens principle applies to the propagation of v_n : Each point of the wavefront (the wavefront of a continuous wave is a set of points in which the wave has the same phase at a certain moment), which the wave reached at a certain moment, can be considered as the source of the elementary wave that propagates from it in elementary wavefronts.

In common human language: Waves propagate along a plane in circles or in three-dimensional space along surfaces. An example can be seen when we throw a kame into a lake, that circles always spread from it, regardless of the shape of the kame.

1.6. The structure of matter

We found that the Primordial Create a perfect shape - guu (or a circle if we look at the projection of the sphere onto the plane) by undulation. Physics, chemistry, biology and sacred geometry explain to us how more complex formations such as atoms, molecules, crystals and the physical bodies of living organisms arise from matter. All the yarn of our fabric is made of "balls" - in all different ball sizes. All light waves that travel through space are spheres.

We are on the earth-sphere and the spheres are also rotating around us. The Moon, Planets, Sun and stars are spheres. The entire universe from the macrocosm to the microcosm is made of spheres, one way or another.

Atoms are also made of gu. When we look at a hydrogen atom, the proton is in the center and the electron orbits around it. If a proton were the size of a golf ball, an electron would be a football field away from it. (The actual size of an atom ranges from 0.1 to 0.6 nm; nm = 10^{-9} m – i.e. 1 cubic centimeter contains on the order of billions of atoms; the size of molecules is tenths to tens of nanometers). And this electron moves really fast!

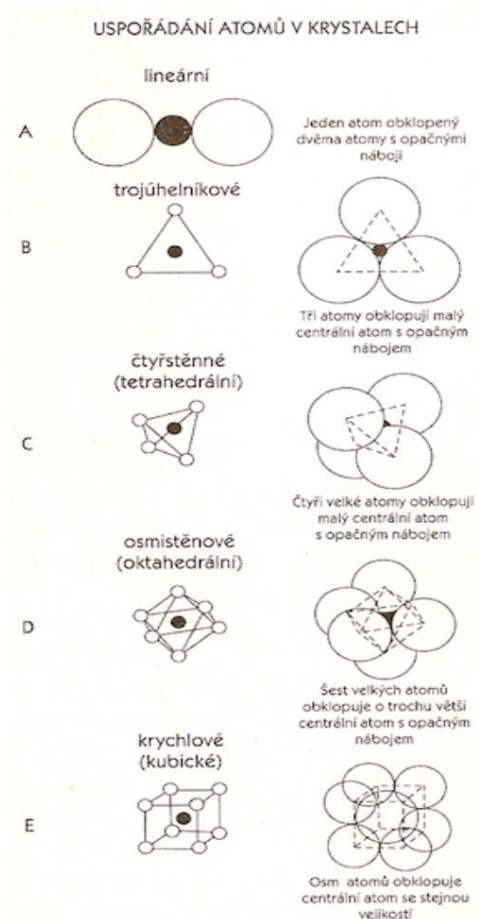

A tiny electron that we can't even see moves around in in microscopic space the speed is nine tenths of the speed of light. It means that an electron travels around a proton at about 270,000 kilometers per second - and there are billions of such electrons in a pea-sized ball! Reason remains above that. This tiny electron moves so fast that it looks like a cloud. In fact, they call it an electron cloud. There's only one electron, but it's moving so fast that it looks like it's creating a bubble around the central proton.

Let's imagine a classic television screen (with a light bulb). An electron beam moves along it at every moment in a certain sequence; it peeks back and forth until it goes all the way down and then back up again. It does this so quickly that it creates a very believable image. The Matrix of elementary elements of our material reality works similarly .

Therefore, Gua is the primary essence of Reality that we experience. Although the orbit of an electron describes a gu, it can also describe other patterns, such as a figure eight. Physicists are able to calculate these paths only for hydrogen, they only make guesses about the rest.

The basic characteristic of an atom is related to how old it is and what its charge is.

An atom is called an ion if it has too many or too few electrons and has either a positive or negative charge. The characteristics also include other, more subtle factors, but the size and charge are of primary importance and are determined even when two atoms combine to form a molecule.

The picture shows how the atoms clump together. They are elementary formulas known for a long time, until scientists discovered quasi-crystals. Scheme A shows a linear arrangement pattern with a smaller atom in the middle. B shows a trigonal arrangement of three atoms with one atom in the middle. The little atom in the middle there may or may not. C shows a tetrahedral (tetrahedral) arrangement pattern with or without one atom in the middle. D shows an octahedral (octahedral) arrangement pattern and E a cubic (cubic) pattern. Now we can add a dodecahedral (icosahedral) and a dodecahedral (dodecahedral) arrangement to new scientific information.

Atoms are always arranged in a specific way during crystallization.

For example, they form into a cube, and then that cube puts another cube into

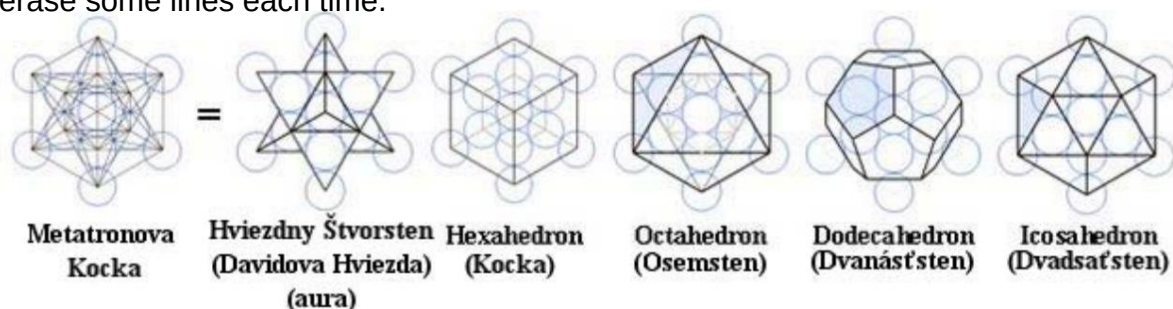

to the next one and then to the next one until finally they create a so-called grid. There are all sorts of ways to bond atoms. The resulting molecules always have a connection with sacred geometry and the five so-called platonic solids.

There are five unique geometric shapes that are the key to understanding both sacred and mundane geometry. Platonic solids have certain characteristic properties according to the definitions. The first of their properties is that the thickness of all walls is the same. For example, the cube, the most famous Platonic solid, has a square like every face, and all the squares have the same size. The second property concerns the edges of Platonic solids that have the same radius; all edges of the cube have the same length. Third, there is only one internal angle size between adjacent walls. In the case of a cube, this angle is 90° . And fourth, when a Platonic solid is placed in a sphere (of the correct size) all its vertices touch the surface of the sphere. Apart from the cube, only four solids fit this definition. It is a tetrahedron, a polyhedron that has four congruent sides, which are equilateral triangles. another solid is an octahedron, whose eight faces are made up of equilateral triangles. the other two Platonic solids are icosahedrons, which means that it has two identical faces made up of equilateral triangles, and the last one is called a dodecahedron, whose walls are made up of twelve identical equilateral cuboids. These shapes represent the basis of all structures.

The Flower of Life is a geometric figure that consists of a number of evenly spaced overlapping circles that are arranged to form a flower-like pattern with six-fold symmetry like a hexagon. The center of each circle is at the intersection of six surrounding circles of the same diameter. It is considered a symbol of sacred geometry and contains a representation of the basic forms of space and asu.

The five Platonic solids come from a geometric information system called Metatron's Cube, which is derived from the Flower of Life. When we look at Metatron's Cube, we see all five Platonic Solids at once. In order to always recognize them, we have to erase some lines each time.

we can easily see how the Platonic solids affect the structural patterns of crystals and metals. Metals also have atomic lattices. It is easy to observe the geometric relationships of these molecules, but when we look at ourselves or at things, it is even more difficult to recognize that this type of geometry may be somehow related to it.

After all, it is related. At the beginning of life in our mother's womb, we are nothing more than geometric forms. In fact, all living forms—trees, plants, dogs, poppies, in short, all of them— have the same geometric and structural patterns as we did when we were microscopic.

Every known form of life starts in a sphere. It is the most feminine form possible and therefore the feminine chooses this shape to form the perfect germ cell, the egg. After fertilization, it develops into two cells and then into a tetrahedron of four cells and then into two interpenetrating tetrahedra of eight cells called a star tetrahedron or MerKaBa. According to the angels, these eight cells are closer to who we really are than the physical body. It may sound strange, because we have become accustomed to identifying with our human body.

The angels said that these eight cells are the equivalent of our immortal body. Every five to seven years we have a brand new body; every single cell in our body dies in five to seven spring periods and is replaced by a new one, except for these eight original cells. They remain alive from conception until we die and leave the body.

1.7. Birth of the soul

The essence of the Cosmos is wave. Souls are also born in waves. There is a sense in which souls are bound without beginning or end. But in another sense they are born at a certain point. It is at this point that their consciousness reaches the sense of a unified SELF. They already exist as an option before this point. However, there is still no awareness of self and others. The consciousness of "me" arises when the boundary line between groups of energies is somehow stretched. Let's imagine consciousness as a vast field/ocean of flowing energies, currents that are constantly merging and diverging. We used to say that during waves, clumps and dilutions are formed in the substance/environment through which the wave propagates. At some point, clusters of consciousness will arise in some places of the ocean of consciousness, where consciousness is more concentrated, less scattered than in its immediate surroundings. Discrimination takes place throughout the consciousness, which leads to the development of transparent forms, which are focused points of consciousness, moving independently of their environment. They experience themselves as different. What is going on here is the birth of the basic sense of self as the self-consciousness of a being. The energy of consciousness (ocean) seeks the best possible expression for all its streams or layers of consciousness.

After the soul is born as an individual unit of consciousness, it slowly leaves the oceanic state of oneness that has been its home for so long. The soul is becoming all the time more aware of their separateness and independence. With this awareness, a sense of loss or lack arises in the soul for the first time. When the soul embarks on its Path of Exploration as an individual being, it will carry with it a certain desire for wholeness, a desire to belong to someone greater than itself. Deep within, the soul retains the memory of a state of consciousness in which all is one, in which there is no self and no other. This is what is considered "home", being in a state of ecstatic Oneness, a place of complete safety and fluidity. With this memory, the traveler's soul wanders across reality, across countless fields of experience and inner exploration. The newborn soul is driven by curiosity and has a great need for experience. The soul can now freely explore everything it wishes to explore. He can freely seek wholeness in all ways.

Twin flame

Souls are born in pairs with opposite polarity as the so-called twin flames that originate from a single primordial egg of light. These souls are an exact duplicate of each other, and when descending into form, one assumes a positive, male and the other a negative, female polarity. Together, the twin flames form one perfection. We can think of this as a positive and negative half-wave on the wave function, which together form one full wave. The egg of light from which the twin flames are created contains a unique pattern that only the soul and its twin flames have. We all started out as golden aces with our twin flames, but as we fell into lower vibrations we were separated.

Triple flame

The triple flame, the divine spark, Atma, sustains physical life, and the sacred trinity of love, wisdom and power is placed in our heart at the entry of the soul into the body, at birth and after death it returns again to the higher realms. The colors of the three flames that emanate from the small ball of white light are blue, yellow and pink. The blue flame embodies the desire of the soul to do God's will. It is a quality that moves the soul forward to its goal and gives strength to reach. The yellow flame represents the right use of knowledge and wisdom and discernment based on truth. It manifests itself as a desire for learning and transmission that's what the soul learns about others. The pink flame represents love and compassion, the very nature of God, which knows the difference between sympathy, the debilitating emotion, and empathy, the empowering emotion. It is not a suppressing or controlling love, but supporting and liberating.

Ideally, these flames are in balance in us, so that strength is softened by love and love is saturated with wisdom. We achieve mastery by balancing, expanding and accelerating the swirl of flames.

1.8. Cosmic laws

Two cosmic laws follow from the wave nature of the universe:

1. Cyklynos - Everything is repeated in a specific order

When we observe a wave function or wavefronts, we see that in their course there are regular alternating phases of growth and phases of decline. From this property we can deduce that everything in the universe takes place in cycles. We observe the cycle of nature directly in our body as basic vital functions in the rhythm of our heartbeat and breathing.

The essence of asu is also cyclical. The cyclical movement of the planets and stars is visibly manifested on Earth by the alternation of day and night and the alternation of spring seasons. The alternation of spring seasons beautifully illustrates the cycle of life: in spring life is born, in summer it matures, in autumn it matures, grows old, during winter nature sleeps, rests, and in spring comes to life again and the whole cycle repeats itself. Although nature in winter is seemingly lifeless at first glance, it is not so, everything is consciousness and everything is alive, and after the phase of rest comes the phase of movement and growth again.

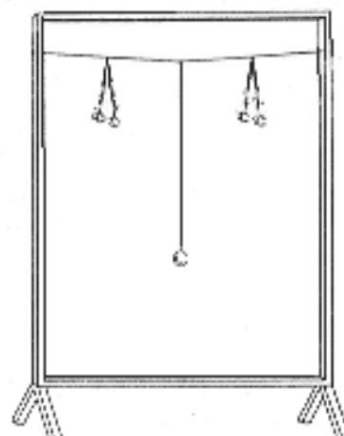

In the spiritual realm of Creation on Earth, this recurring love manifests itself in the reincarnated cycle. The soul is born on Earth, lives its life here in which it gathers new experiences and grows spiritually, after death it passes to Nirvanas where he disconnects, processes it, survives, prepares for a new life, and then the cycle repeats.

The arrangement of sound into repeating octaves gives us an idea of how the universe is arranged into dimensions according to wave frequencies. The Source has the highest wave frequency, or vibrational level, and the vibrational levels of dimensions decrease from the Source. Life on Earth has been in the third dimension with very low vibrations for many millennia, which manifests itself in separation from Creation and the suffering of the souls who live here. In the universe, we are going through a breakthrough period, and the Earth, together with the beings that live on it, is passing from very low (gross / dense) vibrations to a dimension with higher (softer / brighter) vibrations, which manifests itself as a surety from lower energies in the form of various disasters and the revelation of the Truth. Beings are located in a dimension that suits their vibrational level. The transition between dimensions can be done by changing your vibrational level.

2. Law of attraction - Like attracts like

Resonance is a phenomenon known from physics, which can be observed during oscillation, when a suitably acting small force can cause large changes in the entire oscillating system. For a better understanding, let's imagine this experiment below the picture. On the one is shown a stretched string, on which 3 pendulums are suspended, 1 longer and 2 shorter ones of the same length. If we swing one of the two identical pendulums by deflection, after a while the other swings as well, and in a few seconds there will be swings that we don't even recognize which one started moving first. At the same time, it is interesting that the middle pendulum does not even move. Pendulums of the same length have the same natural oscillations.

Things and phenomena with the same essence attract, resonate, harmonize with each other. they often say that opposites attract. Yes, that's right, opposite charges attract and like charges repel, but the law of attraction is talking about the same essence and not the charge. An intoxicated charge is not sufficient for adduction, the same essence is required. A man as a positive charge attracts a woman as a negative charge. However, the offensive force does not exist, for example, between a male and a female carp, although their charges are opposite, because their essence is different.

The mutual influence and resonance of phenomena in time through the law of attraction is called synchronicity. The effect of this law is mainly used by the hermetic sciences: astrology, magic and alchemy. The formulation of the law of attraction from the Emerald Tablet is known from hermeticism: "as above, so below".

Astrology uses both of the first cosmic laws and, on the basis of the mutual position of known heavenly bodies at a certain time, makes judgments about the quality of a given moment.

This one can explore in relation to other moments in time and/or place on Earth. In ritual magic, in order to achieve a certain result, astrological knowledge is used, which enables conditions suitable for performing the ritual, and artifacts and procedures with properties that have the same essence (so-called signature) as the desired magical effect. Today, a well-known and very effective application of alchemy in medicine is homeopathic medicine, which uses the principle of treating like with like. For a better understanding of synchronicity and the functioning of hermetic sciences, it is worth recalling the holographic structure of the universe, which clarifies the mirroring of the whole in every part of it.

The application of the law of attraction in the spiritual realm is the Law of Karma, whose physical equivalent is the law of action and reaction. According to the Law of Karma, every deed we do will return to us in a similar way in the future.

From the Biblical Old Testament, the wording "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" is known, and this wording is probably misinterpreted from the position of the victim, as if it were a call for retribution or revenge. On the contrary, this sentence should be understood in the same way as another well-known biblical example of the law of attraction: "what you sow is what you will reap", from the position of a potential aggressor as a warning that if we hurt someone, it will come back to us in the future.

Although it sometimes appears at first glance that cheating, lying, stealing, and causing others to suffer pays off in this world, this is only an illusion caused by the low vibrations on Earth, in which the consequences of others are not likely to be returned in the life in which their victim he did, but only in one of the other lives. In connection with the vibrations of the soul, the rule applies that the higher the vibrations of the soul, the less karma it carries and thus the consequences of actions return to it faster. For many broken souls, it is months, hours, or it happens instantly.

It is necessary to realize that the law of Karma is a manifestation of the law of attraction and it is not a punishment as many people mistakenly believe. Its purpose is to provide the soul with feedback during its learning process, so that it literally "firsthand" experiences the consequences of its others. Through experiences in the reincarnated round, the soul learns the cosmic laws, i.e. the Will of the Supreme Being. Without the operation of the Law of Karma, spiritual growth would not be possible. As long as we act conditionally, we remain in the karmic carousel.

The basic spiritual tools for freeing yourself from the cycle of karma are acceptance and forgiveness.

Spiritual growth happens by freeing yourself from the automatic reactions of the mind through an alert awareness of your others and by acting in accordance with the cosmic laws of Love and Free Will that I describe below.

Through Vigilance and Unconditional Love, the soul gets closer to its Creator, raises the level of its consciousness, its vibrations.

In addition to the Law of Karma, the Law of Grace acts on the head at the end of the reincarnated cycle, through which it is possible to forgive the accumulated karmic burden of a broken soul, which is already consciously working to raise its vibrations. In the modern age, we have many tools at our disposal to ensure personal, ancestral and planetary karma, the most effective of which is the purple flame of freedom.

It follows from the law of attraction that we attract into our lives what we think about. we often witness synchronicities in our lives, when we think of someone and the person immediately calls us or we meet them on the street. Positive thinking is based on this knowledge, the basic rule of which is: Let's think about what we want! (and we don't ask for that). For example, if we have an important exam or business deal, let's imagine how everything is going smoothly, thus we send our energy to the future and strive for success. (When we fear something, not only do we bring that fear into our lives, but we also immediately fall into fear, mischief and low vibrations).

It is necessary to realize that, in addition to our mind, there are countless other minds and other influences operating in this shared reality, and that positive thinking helps to achieve a result, but does not guarantee it. Therefore, it is important to distinguish positive thinking from desire and clinging to the result, which lead to suffering in case of failure. We can get rid of mental suffering by turning our mind away from memories of the past, by entering the present moment and accepting the past as it is.

An effective mental technique derived from positive thinking is Magical Visualization. We can practice visualization. Let's close our eyes and remember the face of our best friend or our favorite piece of clothing. In short, visualization is seeing without eyes.

Magical and creative visualization is the creation of images similar to our magical need. In other words, we "see" the should, as if it were already there. In a sense, this visualization is a cue that moves energy toward a goal. Creating and perfecting magical imaginings is easy with practice.

The key to visualization and to all magical rituals is the mystery of the four-pole magnet, called the Tetragrammaton. Quadrupole-conceived action is concentrated action (meditation) in the spheres of all four elements of seusene. It means that we focus all four poles of our being on our intention: the Oha element represents our Consciousness, the Air element our Head, the Water element our City and the Earth element our Body.

Therefore, if we want the action to be magically effective, we adopt the appropriate attitude, let the emotion of our need as well as our need itself, wrap us in a warm embrace and in our imaginations, we concentrate on "watching" the energy flowing from our inside out to do its work.

The Primeval Creation is unlimited and perfect consciousness, and Its basic properties are Freedom, Joy of existence and Enthusiasm of creation, i.e. Unconditional Love. Love is Freedom. Love is Light. Love/Freedom is a fundamental aspect of the Primordial Creation and is manifested in Creation by two other laws:

3. Free will - Principle of Non-Interference

Every being has the right to physical and psychological freedom, they should not be forced to do so, but they have the opportunity to decide their actions in all areas of life completely freely and without coercion anytime and anywhere, and this of course also applies to entire nations and civilizations.

Free will is a tool of the soul that enables its spiritual growth, because along with free will comes responsibility for one's actions. Every deed performed on the basis of a free decision has its consequences, and the soul will know the consequences of its decisions due to the law of karma. This is a responsibility that cannot be avoided. This is how the soul can find out whether its decision was right or wrong. The right decision is in accordance with the Will of the Creator (which is expressed by cosmic laws) and brings happiness and bliss to the soul. A wrong decision brings suffering and pain. With each experience and free decision, the wisdom of the soul grows, the knowledge of right and wrong, that is spiritual growth. Even wrong decisions, when the soul realizes their wrongness, bring spiritual growth to the soul.

Many people try to get rid of their responsibility by handing over voluntarily and with their power - the ability to decide - to someone else, who then decides for them. In this way, power is concentrated in the hands of a few individuals, who then make decisions for the masses. However, handing over one's power is also a decision based on free will and the person does not absolve himself of responsibility, but must bear a reasonable amount of responsibility for the decisions of the person to whom he has given his power. An illustrative example can be seen in politics, where people bear the consequences of the decisions of the political leaders they elected. Politicians should not represent or rule them, but should serve them!

4. The Law of Love for Neighbor

Every creature in the universe encounters another creature that may find itself in need or danger. It is the duty of every creature to help this other creature according to its abilities. A creature is a mineral, a plant, an animal, a hunter, a spiritual being.

The Law of Free Will and the Law of Love of Neighbor are mutually beneficial and always needed used in harmony with each other. For example, if we want to help some being, we must take care not to disturb her free will. So we can help but in case the other being asks us for help, or when we accept our offer of help. Unsolicited or even refused help does not it is a help, but it is a violation of the law of free will. That's why we need help, we need you please! Likewise, acts by which intentionally or from carelessness, we hurt other beings, we cannot defend it by the fact that they are an expression of our free will.

It is necessary to understand and live according to cosmic laws, however, there are situations, in which these laws seem to contradict our logical one the mind cannot decide how to behave.

However, inside us there is an aspect, called Intuition or

The Higher SELF that transcends logical mind and these laws knows intimately. Every would-be,

even if you are just that she doesn't realize it or doesn't believe it, she is after all the ace of

Creation and the Universal Laws are hers

the deepest essence. When there is a crisis situation, for example, when it is immediate endangering the life of another being, it would obviously be pointless to speculate about it

if we have or we don't have helps, they need to be intervened immediately. When we see that he sneaks up on our neighbor poisonous snake, we instinctively know how to behave and scream at it we warn, or if we have enough courage, we intervene and neutralize the snake.

Life is endlessly varied and it is impossible to give exact instructions on how to do it live him It is up to us to fully consciously and lovingly experience and explore each one day, every second of our lives. Whatever we decide in the given situation

however, the consequences of our actions will be determined sooner or later by the Law

Karmas, we will feel and recognize.

Intuition, the Higher SELF, that quiet voice in us that we also call conscience, always he gives advice on how to behave and answer the question and we did the right thing. In order to find our Higher Self, however, we have to silence the mind, which drowns it out with its constant chatter. The state of stopping the mind is well known to all of us from various crisis situations, when a hunter saved another hunter in danger and when asked how he did it, he only answered that he did not think and behaved automatically. In moments of shock, our mind stops, and we perceive it as if it flows more slowly, and the body acts automatically under the guidance of the Higher Self, without having to give it instructions with the mind. Quieting the mind and the level of connection with one's Intuition is different for people and can be developed using different techniques, especially meditation.

Disobeying the law of free will is not only physical restriction of freedom and harming another being or group of beings, but also various forms of psychological coercion and manipulation. There are three types of manipulation: 1. fear manipulation - eg. if you do that, you'll hurt yourself! 2. guilt manipulation – e.g. if you don't, I'll be sad! 3. manipulation of hope - e.g. if you study well, you will be successful!

A more powerful form of manipulation is manipulation with a gesture, it's called beckoning. A gesture could be, for example, stomping. Rape with loss of control (that is, conscious awareness) is called rape. For example, we say manipulation and slam the door (gesture) in anger (loss of control). The strongest form of rape is sexual rape. Let's note that we can also manipulate, deceive or rape ourselves. Advanced forms of manipulation and mind control with an effect directly on the subject's consciousness (mostly a group of beings) are suggestion and hypnosis, which are widely used in today's world through the media, especially in advertising and politics. Such advanced manipulation is most effective when the manipulated does not know that he is being manipulated and is fed false information and suggestions.

Manipulation in our society is very common and we should try to manipulate others as little as possible, or if manipulation does occur, for example when raising children, we should at least be aware of it and not put a gesture or an emotional charge into the manipulation.

We also have to be vigilant and take care that we ourselves are not subject to manipulations. The greatest danger of social manipulation lies in centrally powerful and corporate-controlled media such as TV, radio and newspapers. In our global community on Earth, there are power groups whose roots go back to extraterrestrial groups. They are very adept at manipulation and have penetrated the basic structures of society such as religions, education and science. I will deal with this very current and serious issue in more detail in the next installment of this book.

Of course, all forms of manipulation have karmic consequences.

1.9. Esoteric natural sciences

Today we see a number of natural sciences and scientific fields that at first glance are not related, but in reality all natural sciences have one common basis, and only after a while they separated and moved away from each other. the parts of science that are based on synchronicity and an idealistic basis were even from science under the influence of materialist philosophy declared outside the boundaries of science and are the subject of disparagement and ridicule.

Pythagoras studied the properties of individual numbers, the relationships between them and the laws they create. He realized that numbers live and exist independently of the material world, so their study is not affected by the inaccuracy of observation. Pythagoras changed the understanding of mathematics, he came up with the idea that the number is the essence of all things, because it forms the basis of everything that exists. It also has the property that it is necessary, given, undone, did not arise, will not disappear and gives form to everything. Matter is created by the mathematical limitation of the unlimited, such as fire, which is limited by four walls (a tetrahedron), earth by six walls (a cube), air by eight, ether by twelve, water by twenty. Each of the six basic shapes has its elemental aspect.

In the picture we see the connection of the six elements with the six primordial shapes drawn in three columns that show the triple polarity. the left column (male) represents the left hemisphere and the proton and includes shapes with walls of triangles and quadrilaterals; the middle column (diea) represents the corpus callosum (the bridge connecting the hemispheres) and the neutron. The right column (female) represents the right hemisphere and the electron and zaha shapes with walls of triangles and cuboids. Aether, prana, and tachyon energy are the same; they extend everywhere and are reached at any point in space/time/dimension. This is the great secret of zero point technology. And Gua is the boundary of space (between Creation and Void).

In alchemy, we usually only talk about fire, earth, air and water. In the Pythagorean school, prana is not discussed because it was too sacred for them.

Even if you uttered the word dodecahedron outside of school, you would be killed on the spot, because the dodecahedron, located near the outer boundary of our energy body (which is the gua), represents the highest form of consciousness. Towards the cape he reaches the end of space - and the end of space exists - he finds it there a dodecahedron enclosed in a sphere. We can say that because the human body is hologram universe and contains the same principles. Twelve also fit into the system zodiac signs. A dodecahedron is a point closing geometry and is a vemi important. At the microscopic level, dodecahedrons and icosahedrons are parameters ratios in the DNA matrix of all life. The dodecahedron is also the basic form networks of Christ consciousness around the Earth.

Pythagoras assigns symbolic meaning and specific properties to each number.

They can be summarized as follows:

0. All or absolutely
1. An individual. Attacker. Yang.
2. Balance. Volume. Perception. Yin.
3. Communication. Operation. Neutrality.
4. Creation.
- 5th in. Activity. Restlessness.
6. Reaction. Flowing. Responsibility.
7. Thought. Consciousness.
8. Power. Both.
9. The highest level of change.
10. Rebirth.

Numerology and numerology divination explore the mystical (mysterious) or esoteric (hidden) relationships between numbers and physical objects and the living beings. The letters contained in the name and the numbers in the date of birth are added together in different ways that will reveal important knowledge about the hunter's life, his nature and fate. The results are based on the symbolic meanings of the numbers and the Law attractiveness, or synchronicity and were very popular during the time of Pythagoras. The balance of experience and immeasurable symbolic meaning of numbers in different in the cultures of humanity throughout its history, it is noticeable, but it is not in the totality Numerology, due to the prevailing materialism in science, is considered to be false mathematics. This is similar to the historical relationship between astrology and astronomy, between alchemy and chemistry.

The Pythagoreans recognized four mathematai, i.e. scientific disciplines: arithmetic (theory of numbers), accordion (theory of music), geometry (science of shapes) and astrology (the science of the stars). So the numbers determine the musical harmony and also planets and stars move according to mathematical relationships, o it corresponds to a musical note and thus produces a symphony, which they called "music of the spheres".

The astrological picture of the world is geocentric, o means that it places the Earth in the center and describes the movement of stellar bodies as they appear to our eyes from ours earthly beauty. In Astrology, we perceive the movements of the heavenly bodies as the cosmic clock that shows us what minute is currently striking on Earth.

Stars that do not seem to move in the sky are known as fixed stars (e.g. seven stars of the Great Chariot), in contrast to some orbits, planets, z seven of which are seen with the naked eye (Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn). From the point of view of the law, it has the strongest attraction for our life the influence of the Sun and the Moon. Because they move across the sky, we count them in Astrology between the planets, but as basic factors they have the special status of the so-called heavenly lights.

From our point of view, the planets move in a circular orbit, so-called ecliptic. The moon (since it represents female energy is a more appropriate name is Luna) as the fastest planet, it takes 28 days to complete this orbit, it therefore became the basis for the calculation of the months, while the Sun (male energy) it goes around the circle in 365 days, and it still recognizes the year. On the background of circular along the path of the planets there are twelve constellations/ signs that make up the Zodiac. They are: Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces. Each planet and also each sign has its own specific energy.

For illustration, I present the assignment of planet archetypes, which is less known than sign archetypes:

The sun	king, hero, father, leader
Luna	queen, heroine, mother, lady
Mercury	reconnaissance, location expert, merchant, you investigate
Venus	beauty, muse, zvodkya, dove of peace, graceful
Mars	soldier, fugitive, philanderer, conqueror, villain
Jupiter	kaz, scholar, philosopher, squeamish
Saturn	an old man, a serious man, a staunch opponent, you intimidate
Uranus	a freak, a madman, an outsider, a rebel, an inventor
Neptune	prophet, fantasist, weirdo, drunkard
Pluto	mage, lieite, devil, craftswoman

Symbolic representation of the position of signs, planets and houses in a given time and place is called a horoscope. We judge the effects of the planets in the horoscope according to them positions in the signs and houses and also according to the angles that they form with each other.

The combination of the properties of signs and planets creates the effect of force fields in the universe.

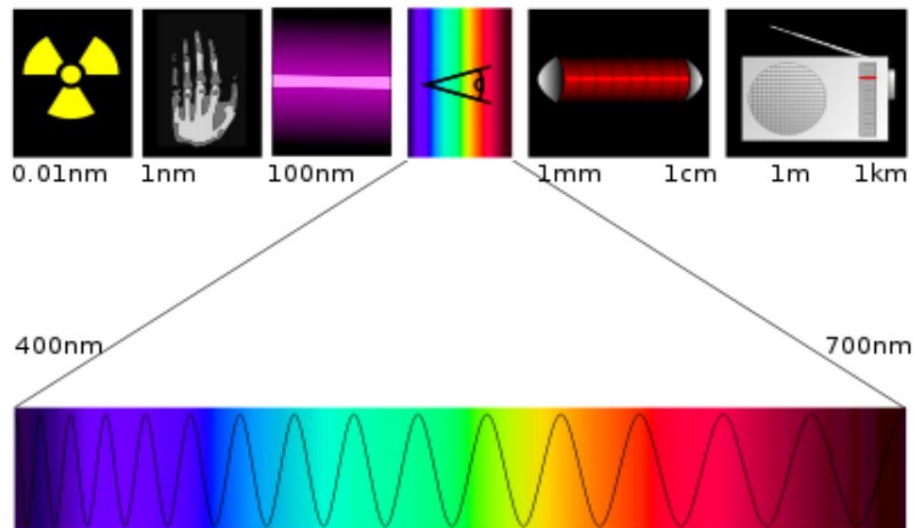

The influence of planets and signs on our life is not governed by the causal principle, but principle of synchronicity.

The Platonic year is the time during which the celestial pole (the transversal of the earth's axis with the celestial sphere) completes a closed circle around the ecliptic pole. It lasts approximately 26,000 years. In astrology, the Platonic year is divided into 12 Platonic months or ages named after the signs of the Zodiac, where each age has approx 2160 years. In the dry season in the age of the sign of Fish, which started approximately at the beginning of our era and it will soon end and we are entering the age of Aquarius.

2. Dimensions and beings

2.1 Electromagnetic spectrum

The electromagnetic spectrum (sometimes called Maxwell's rainbow) encompasses the electromagnetic waves of all possible wave jockeys. In physics, it is divided into seven bands according to the wave length (the bands partly overlap):

1. Radio waves are emitted by antennas. Their dimensions range from millimeters to hundreds of meters (frequency from 3kHz to 300GHz). They are used for various transmissions of information using services such as radio broadcasting, television, amateur radio transmissions, mobile phones and others. (they are on the far right in the picture)

2. Microwaves have a frequency in the range of 3-300GHz. Microwaves are absorbed by liquid molecules, mainly water, and are used for heating in a microwave oven. Microwaves are also used for wireless communication called Wi-Fi.

3. Infrared radiation (IR) covers frequencies from 300GHz to 400THz. It is probably considered thermal radiation, but the fact is that the surfaces of bodies are heated by the absorption of electromagnetic radiation. However, it is true that objects at room temperature emit additional radiation in the infrared range. IR radiation is also used to transmit information over short distances, e.g. in mobile phones or remote controls.

4. Visible light with wavelengths of 400-800 nm (480-700THz) is light to which the human eye is sensitive. Scientists have been trying to figure out the nature of light for a long time time. For example Plato thought that the eyes were active sources of light.

Newton understood light as a stream of particles in a mechanical sense. But the theory was in contradiction with the experiment. The explanation was based on the wave theory of light. Astic's view of light has been revived by quantum physics. Light behaves like a wave that carries a quantum amount of energy. The duality of wave and particle refers to the fact that matter can be described either as a wave or as a particle, depending on the arrangement of the experiment and the way of observation.

5. Ultraviolet radiation (UV) with wavelengths of 400-10 nm and a frequency of 10^{15} - 10^{17} Hz . Photons of this radiation have high energy and can therefore break chemical bonds. For example, chlorine does not react with alkanes under normal conditions. After UV exposure, it reacts quickly because UV radiation breaks the bond and Cl_2 disintegrates into extremely reactive individual atoms. They then react with otherwise more or less inert alkanes. Photons of UV radiation can also damage DNA, cause cell death and uncontrolled reproduction - cancer.

6. X-ray radiation with wavelengths of 10-0.1 nm and a frequency of 10^{17} - 10^{20} Hz . In practice, it is primarily used for its ability to penetrate a whole range of materials and be only weakly absorbed by them. In medicine, it is used primarily in diagnostics (scanography, CT) and in industry in defectoscopy. Some astronomically interesting objects can also be observed in the X-ray spectrum, e.g. black holes or neutron stars.

7. Gamma radiation is produced during radioactive and other nuclear and subnuclear events (such as annihilation). The name is based on the designation of ionizing radiation (other types of ionizing radiation are not electromagnetic in nature). It is used in neurosurgery in the Leksell gamma knife device.

From this brief overview of waves of an electromagnetic nature, we see that the visible light spectrum is only a small part of the real ocean of waves that surround us. At every moment, the environment in which we move is transmitted by millions of images and sounds from television and radio stations, and innumerable amounts of bits of information that we are not able to directly perceive, some of which literally penetrate us. The world is not as we see and perceive it, it has many more wave bands, layers or dimensions, of which we perceive only a tiny part. Images, sounds and other sensations of our senses only convey to us reality, from which our brain then creates an internal image, similar to how a computer creates an image from electric and magnetic currents oscillating in its memory circuits and circuits. The world that we perceive with our senses and create with our brain is, in a sense, the same illusion as our flat reflection in a mirror. Although our essence traverses all wave dimensions, our consciousness is stuck in a dimension limited by our

the body in which we focus all our attention.

2.2 Multidimensionality

Our multidimensionality is our as which is completely independent of space and time. This as can freely enter any dimension or space of experience at any moment as it wishes. From a timeless, multidimensional point of view, our true SE does not evolve in the ace, it is the one watching the evolution.

Our true self does not need to evolve. It invites this experience by its own free will. He can always activate the dulled reality of consciousness. This perspective can help us break through internal barriers, break through the veil of illusion and get in direct contact with our own Light SELF: the Angel energy that we really are. In order to understand it as a real idea from which we look at ourselves, we have to explain a little about the concept of asu.

what time is it?

1. There is no as at the highest level of Unity. This is the level of the Spirit, God, the Supreme Being, a certain being. At this level there is no development, no becoming but only being.
2. At the lowest level of Unity, at which the separateness is experienced, the deceptive, linear concept of asu is used most strongly.

By "deceptive" I mean the scientific, abstract concept of asu, which is completely devoid of subjectivity and felt content. as, according to this perception, is an objective structure outside of us that overlays our experiences as some kind of external framework.

At the energy levels between unity and separation, there is a reality that changes with our experiences. as is an experiential concept: a way of creating experiences. At these levels there is as, but it is not independent of us or outside of us. For example, on the astral planes, where we travel during sleep and then when we die, it is with the rhythm of our experiences. The point at which one phase ends and another begins is not determined by "what time it is" - not external - but by an internal flow of feelings, which seems natural to us.

This natural sense of time or rhythm can also be a part of earthly life. The subjectivity of the asu, i.e. the fact that as can be experienced differently under different circumstances is known to all of us. We say that "time flies" when we are talking, but it seems that time has stopped when we are at the dentist's office.

Our objective measurement of time - the hour - is not actually based on something external, but is a product of the human mind that desires to create and classify. The human mind created a certain order of things from natural phenomena on Earth. But as itself, independent of the human factor, does not exist. It is an illusion that is a creation of a kind of consciousness that is caught in the belief of separateness.

as is inherently subjective. as is a way of pouring out experiences in such a way that we can gain meaning from them. and in the full sense of the word, the "dynamics of events" is on an internal level. It can be a useful concept if it helps us formulate a natural rhythm or flow of things. But when it is conceived as something objective, standing above us, it tends to limit and distract us. We are not a linear being. There are levels of our being that are beyond the asus we experience in the present. Precisely to this aspect of ours, i.e. we now turn our attention to multidimensionality.

o is it multidimensionality?

In accordance with the linear concept of asu, we cannot be present in more than one place in the same asu. But linear poatie refers "I" to our body, our brain, and our consciousness, which is bound to the body/brain.

According to the subjective concept of time, we are present wherever our consciousness resides. Where we are in space and time is determined by the focus of our consciousness, not by the location of our body. Our consciousness is not limited by time and space. Even during our life on Earth, we have a basic agreement that some part of our consciousness is still connected to our earthly body, our consciousness is not limited to a certain point in the part. Consciousness can be in different places at the same time, that is, it can reside in different energetic realities. Consciousness is capable of splitting. This is the meaning of multidimensionality.

Really, the physical facts aren't that important. It is the felt content of the situation, our energetic reaction to u, o that really shapes our life and our reality.

We are not limited by the past or the future, because they are not fixed. It is possible to change them and we can act on them from the Present Moment. When we look at the memory from a different perspective, we can become aware of facts that we had previously forgotten or did not know. A new perspective stirs a different emotional response in us . At this moment, we are recreating the past.

We overlay it with a different interpretation of the facts that replaces our original reaction. To be clear, this does not mean that the original reaction did not occur, but that the emotional energies were transformed. Through the interaction of the past and the present, spiritual alchemy took place .

Example:

You were talking to someone who was genuinely touched by your comment, which had none critical intent. The other person you were talking to started cursing and then left. Now, for a change, you felt touched, misunderstood, angry and shocked all at once. After you got home, you felt uncomfortable for a few hours, but then you let it go and had a good night's sleep. The next morning at the train station, you had to board your train and suddenly you had this strange memory where things went so surprisingly wrong.

Now you looked at u from a different perspective and suddenly realized why the hunter felt so touched by your remark. You remembered some facts from his past that you had simply forgotten before during that conversation. Now you can see his emotional reaction in a completely different light, and especially that he has nothing to do with you. You weren't the one who caused the hurt, you just triggered the old pain inside him. This perspective stirs a different emotional response in you. You feel a sense of wonder, insight and yes... forgiveness. "Oh, I see..now I understand...poor friend."

Another

example: Your consciousness is multidimensional even when you think you are trapped in your physical body. You know the expression: "She's stuck in the past"? Someone cannot let go of the past, and his consciousness is filled with past experiences and emotions such as grief, remorse or sorrow. This person is "not here". She is literally in the past. She, as in the example above, interacts with the past from the Present Moment, but not in a liberating, alchemical way. Her body is present in the here and now, but she is stuck in the past. as has stopped for u, for now the clocks are ticking and measuring the passing weeks and months. This is because it does not move within experience. It does not flow with the natural process of life and experience. This is an example of multidimensionality. Even when you limit yourself to such a narrow focus of consciousness, you are multidimensional.

Multidimensionality is not something we become, it is something we are. It is our nature, it is the natural state of our being. The real question is: how can we in a multidimensionally liberating and transformative way?

There are realities of the past, future, astral planes, past lives, the reality of the angel within us, and even others that meet within us right here and right now. Consciousness can exist in different dimensions at the same time. We are multidimensional now, but are we multidimensional in a conscious way? To be consciously multidimensional means that we abandon the illusion of a linear as, o also means that we abandon the belief that we are no more than our body. To be consciously multidimensional means to identify with the spirit (consciousness, God) within us, which can completely freely enter any realm of experience, ie dimension, that it chooses. Being consciously multidimensional is an integral part of reality on New Earth. It is our destiny to become fully conscious multidimensional creators.

Multidimensionality is not being in two places in a physical way. Our physical body cannot lie in two places. However, dimensions are not physical places, they are not "chunks of matter". Dimensions are realms of consciousness that are maintained by fixed energy laws.

We interact with other dimensions that we are with all the time, but if we do so in a conscious and accepting way, then we are truly projecting those dimensional realities. By embracing stuck or closed energies from those dimensions and bringing them into the light of our consciousness, we free and integrate parts of our SELF and change our presence. Many realms of consciousness meet within us, and we are essentially the Master who chooses to experience any one of them. We can freely travel through each of them, fast or slow, near or far. As we identify with the Spirit within us, we maintain the awareness that we are free.

But if we get stuck in thoughts of limitation, maintaining convictions such as "this is not possible", "this is not allowed", "this will end badly", etc., we sink into the illusion of separateness. We are caught up in the illusion of linear time, the illusion that we are the body, the illusion that we are separate from God. In this way, the soul becomes permanently "bound" to the realm of experience. The soul forgets its true origin, its divinity and its freedom. This being trapped or "bound" is also called karma. Gaining "detachment" or relaxation takes place in a series of steps or stages of what we call "inner growth". From the human linear point of view, we "release karma" and slowly transform ourselves in the sequence of phases of internal development. From the hose of the Spirit, however, we simply stumble back into our natural state of divine awareness. From this point of view, remembering karma is nothing but remembering our own divinity.

2.3 Dimensions

Everything in all of Creation is energy that moves, ripples, and vibrates. Spirit, the energy of Source, vibrates at a higher rate than matter, and we have different levels of vibration between them. The difference between frequencies creates different dimensions or realities. Everything is constantly changing, everything is with one Consciousness. In every dimension or level it is the same One consciousness, each time in a different form according to the frequency of vibration. the closer we get to Source, the faster we vibrate and become less dense. the further we move away from the Source, the more we vibrate and take on matter, we become physical.

The first dimension is the consciousness of the basic atom of Gaia (Gaia is the multidimensional name of a being whose physical body is our planet Earth). This dimension is the realm of the mineral kingdom. human consciousness of the first dimension for our five senses is "unconscious". The first dimension of our body consists of minerals, water and genetic codes, which are the basis of our physical form. When we connect with this level, we connect with the entire physical world at the molecular level. This is the place of quantum physics, the place of electrons, protons, nuclei and quarks. It is the gateway between the macrocosm and the microcosm. At this level we can find the consciousness of spiders because they are the guardians of the Gaia consciousness matrix.

Consciousness of the second dimension is consciousness on a biological level. Here we can connect with the plant and animal kingdom. It is the consciousness that directs the automatic nervous system to direct and maintain vital functions to support life. Our five physical senses are not aware of this. This is the place of the chemical beings that make up the body. At this level, we can realize how our body is one big communication network between all the elements of our cells. There are many different beings that exist on this level. Fairies, devas, nature spirits, chemical beings, elementals and also demonic energies. At this level, it is also possible to bond with the Dragons of Creation.

The consciousness of the third dimension is the consciousness of point, curve, length, width, height and volume, it is our daily consciousness. The soul incarnates into the third dimension to experience the duality of the physical world. This is the dimension of time/space and cause/effect. The third dimension is the conscious world. Incarnated souls are mainly influenced by physical impressions that are perceived by the physical senses, besides there are also hidden influences by which we are guided, whether we perceive them or not. It depends primarily on how aware we are of these influences.

The consciousness of the fourth dimension is the consciousness of the astral dimensions and the astral body. The astral body has a higher vibration than the physical body, its frequency is one octave higher. The perception of past, present and future becomes more fluid here in the fourth dimension. When we sleep, we are unconscious in the third dimension, but we are conscious in the fourth dimension. By using our astral bodies we have access to our imagination, psychic abilities, intuition, magic and creativity. The fourth dimension is still polarized into light and dark, so it is possible to experience negative energies at this level. This is also the place of spirits, many lower frequency ETs, angels and demons. The Fairy Kingdom exists on the middle level of the fourth dimension. On the fourth dimension, thoughts and emotions create reality almost immediately, fear can create a negative experience on the fourth level. Our fourth-dimensional body has the ability to sense other energies. We travel through the fourth dimension with the power of our desires, thoughts and emotions.

Fears, angers and thought forms from the physical plane are transferred to the lower astral, also called the psychological plane, creating beings like dark shadows. Based on the law of attraction, incarnated people then attract groups of such beings who attack them to share their depressions, loneliness, sorrows, pains and various obsessions with them. Only an incarnated being can release these negative energies, beings without a body cannot do this, they need the help of a person who is fully aware and willing to help in this situation. So the incarnated being, by being safe from negativity, at the same time helps the incarnated discarnate (spirit) or limited being to release its negativity.

In the higher astral, on the subtler planes of the astral dimension, there are beings who pee on their physical bodies and helpers who help us in certain situations. They are in good contact with the physical plane, they both influence us in everyday life. There are also beings who have completed the reincarnated cycle and are helping us with our spiritual ascension. With their help, we become aware of many things in our daily life, especially the chaos that meets us.

The consciousness of the fifth dimension is the consciousness of Soul and spirit. This is the dimension of Unity. Consciousness in which the consciousness of Individuality still exists. At this level there is no space, no illusion of separation. At this level we can meet angels, star beings who are in the Light Body. The light body is based on silicon and not carbon like the physical body. There is no fear at this level. It is the dimension of Unconditional Love. Many, when they tap into this level, experience their selves as their Higher Self or spirit guides. In the fifth dimension there is no judgment, no polarity, no sense of separation or limitation.

The sixth dimension is the consciousness of the morphogenetic

poa. The morpho-genetic field is a field of information that stores the memory and patterns of form. It is where we go to travel in time and jump between parallel lives. The sixth dimension is the beautiful and intricate pattern of the universe. It is like a level carpet that can take us to other places in the universe. Many extraterrestrial beings use this field of many gates to insert their consciousness into other realms and dimensions. This is how beings transfer their energy into the dimensions of earthly reality.

The consciousness of the seventh dimension is the seat of the group consciousness "We". When we experience a wonderful synergy between minds, what makes it possible is the activation of the group soul. Many beings of light connect at this level to interact and communicate with the lower levels. Many ETs do not have individual consciousness like humans, but are group or "We" consciousness.

We go to this dimension to communicate with the family of our soul. For help group soul energy we can travel to our original home planet.

Consciousness of the eighth dimension is a place of dedication. Here the soul expands beyond the boundaries of everything that is obvious and certain. It is with the manifested universe, it is this universe. At this level we gain the perception of the eternal and eternal nature of the soul and its creations. The number eight symbolizes this as a snake eating its own tail. It is a complete cycle that never starts and never stops. At this level we can reach many cosmic beings and powerful archangels.

Giant cosmic serpents wander across this dimension, maintaining the never-ending cycles and never-ending stories of the universe. This place drives the kundalini energy, which is located at the base of the spine. When this energy is activated, it takes the soul up to the level of the eighth dimension.

The ninth dimension is the gate of death, not for the physical body, but for the soul. The soul passes through this gate on its way to manifesting the dimensions of light. All the lower dimensions are variations of the manifestation of condensed light. When the soul passes through the gate, it manifests in its first individualized form in which it was born. Although it is a very high vibration, it is physically manifested. Once the soul passes through the gate on its way to Source, it ceases to manifest and reenters the ethereal energy of the universe. From the Cosmic Dreamer, the Great Central Sun, we project ourselves through all these dimensions, this idea is then received by the Crystal Core of Mother Earth and then the Holographic Projection of our multidimensional being can begin. When we achieve this awareness, we can adjust our reality to a higher idea of who we are.

Tenth dimensional consciousness is the locus of planetary/gu consciousness. Here we can become aware of all the planets that make us up as consciousness. There is a planet in space that we are at this high level. The universe is made of undulations, concentric waves that come together to create spheres of energy and vibration. At this level of the tenth dimension, it is possible to communicate with creation itself through vibrations of pure energy.

The consciousness of the eleventh dimension is the connection with the Great Central Sun, the Cosmic Dreamer, at this level we are a halo of light that is projected from Source to enliven the dimensions below. On this level are the Elohim and the twin flames.

Angels are the maintainers of all dimensions and are present on every level.

The Elohim are the Higher Selves of these angelic beings.

The consciousness of the twelfth dimension is the Source, the Cosmic Dreamer, the God, the Creator.

Zero is the Void, the nagual, the niota, the unmanifested, the sea of unmanifested potential from which everything arose.

the human body is a standard design throughout our Galaxy because it is created by the Galaxy as an expression of its personality. In the fourth and fifth dimensions we still have human form. From the sixth dimension, our natural form is simply the glow of light.

When they advance to the fourth density, to which the Earth is now moving, they gain abilities such as levitation, telekinesis, gravity disruption, time travel, scent energy, materialization of thoughts, instant healing, and the like.

In the fourth dimension, they still have a human body like ours, but it is less material and more similar to what we can imagine as the Light Body. As fourth density beings evolve, they probably become involved in helping the evolution of third density planets like ours, mostly behind the scenes. Fourth density beings influence the right people to meet, cause synchronicities to occur, help us "create our own reality" and help make all this mystical stuff like the "Law of Karma" happen. They need UFO-type craft to travel, but these can be relatively easily invisible to third-density humans. fourth density humans can be quite naive, especially in the case of positive fourth density beings, and have no framework for understanding or accepting human negativity. fourth density beings may allow themselves to be seen by our eye, but by simply raising their frequency - by moving into a place of inspired thought - they can easily become invisible. This will no longer be possible once our planet moves into fourth density. the human analogy of living in the fourth dimension is holistic gatherings with drumming, dancing, fireside chats, conscious living, and lots of love and laughter. There is an abundance of positive-fourth-dimensional oriented material for you to search , and the way you recognize it is that it always comes from a perspective of unconditional love and acceptance of others.

After some time - probably eons of time, but occasionally at quite a rapid pace - a civilization progresses into fifth density, where the unconditional love of the fourth dimension is shaped by the wisdom of the fifth dimension. In this density we go on a research party, learn all sorts of wonderful things about how the Universe really works, learn to discover and use the power of will, communication and true voice, embrace the Principle of Truth, and are in a constant state of intellectual stimulation and development. Of course, it is quite possible to exist in a state of fifth density consciousness here on Earth, even without all the technology and crazy mystical abilities. Some 5D humans can then help, like and oversee fourth dimensional beings, work with third dimensional planets like us, through their own capacity (such as contacting and assisting more advanced meditators and diviners and helping to define and spread spoken language, mathematics, etc.), while they continue to acquire wisdom and knowledge of the Universe. This gathering of wisdom is quite a lonely path and can seem rather intellectual and detached compared to the honest and all-loving perspective of fourth density. Advancement to a higher level does not happen until we are fully prepared to take everything away from us learn and make a lifelong commitment to use it to help others. Some fifth-density zanu develop enough discipline to travel without machines, but it's still difficult. Most of them are capable of forming telepathic group minds with large groups of people where the thoughts are literally shared enough to work as one mind. Some fourth density beings can do this as well, but in fifth density this ability becomes more predictable. In fifth density we still have a human body. According to the "Law of One" series (a sixth density message of the Ra intelligence) we create and enjoy a "soup of liquid light of colored tones" in group gatherings, and it is very pleasant and nourishing. The clearest fifth density messages I've found so far are Seth's books, where he explores the bullet points of "creating your own reality" in great detail.

2.4 Personal karmic cycle

The earthly lives we experience are the ace of the greater cycle of the soul. This cycle was designed to allow us to fully experience duality. Within this cycle, we experienced what it is like to be a man and a woman, to be healthy and sick, to be rich or poor, to be "good" and "bad". In some lives we were intensely involved in the material world as peasants or artisans. There were more spiritually focused lives. There were also lives in which we explored the realm of worldly power. They could include lives devoted to artistic self-expression. Souls tend to specialize in something during these lifetimes. This can be clearly recognized in ears that possess talent in a certain area.

Human experience is diverse and intense. Because of the duality present in the material field, there is much greater contrast and intensity in our experiences than on the astral planes (these are the planes we enter after we die and where we remain between lives). human experience has a certain kind of realness in it that is underappreciated. On Earth, the process of creation is a struggle.

We encounter a lot of resistance when making our dreams come true. The mental kind of creation in the astral world is much easier. It takes more effort to give birth to an idea on Earth, to make it come true in the material world. It requires strong intention, perseverance, clarity of mind and a trusting heart. We have to deal with the slowness and intransigence of the material world. And yet these very obstacles are the very reason that make the experiences of earthly life so valuable.

The challenges we encounter give earthly experience a depth that is much deeper and broader than the effortless creative process on the astral planes.

This effortless creation gives birth to meaninglessness. Astral beings who have not yet lived their lives on Earth know and understand this.

Please do not underestimate the importance of your lives on Earth. We belong to the most creative, most submissive, most daring species of God (All that Is).

We are explorers of the unknown and creators of the new. Our explorations into the realm of duality provided God with a way to transcend Himself. We have created a new kind of consciousness, one that did not exist before. This consciousness is called Christ consciousness and is the result of spiritual alchemy. Spiritual alchemy brings about a kind of consciousness that engages both polarities through the energies of love and understanding. The true meaning of our journey is not for the Light to defeat the Darkness, but to go beyond the boundaries of these opposites and create a new kind of consciousness that can preserve Unity in the combined presence of Light and It might be hard to understand when you think of all the suffering caused by ignorance and fear, but God gives great value to these energies because they have enabled him to create something new.

Please explain it to me. God was all good. There was good in everything and everywhere around. In reality, there was no other, the creation lacked the possibility of growth and expansion. In order for God to create the possibility for change and growth, he had to establish an Element different from Good. This was very difficult for God, because how can you create something that is not you? How can Good create Evil? He can't. So God had to come up with a trick, so to speak. This trick is called Nevedomos.

Ignorance is an element that is the opposite of Good. It creates the illusion of being outside of Good, of being separate from God. Ignorance breeds fear, fear breeds the need to control, the need to control breeds the struggle for power, and these are all conditions for Evil to flourish. Thus the stage was set for the battle of Good and Evil. God had no choice but to do it.

God asks us to accept the veil of Ignorance. To experience the dynamics of opposites as thoroughly as possible. We agreed to immerse ourselves in Ignorance, but this fact was equally covered by the veil of Oblivion.

When we started our Path, we encountered Evil (fear and Ignorance) and had a faint memory of Good (Home) in our minds. The end of our Journey will be that we become as good and evil, Light and Darkness. We will create a Christ energy that embraces and transcends both. We will expand God's creation. We will be the New Creation of God. God will cross Himself when the Christ consciousness is fully born on Earth.

The basis of the dualistic game is that we identify with a certain position on the playing field of polarities. We identify with being poor or rich, famous or humble, male or female, hero or villain. It really doesn't matter which role we play. As long as we identify with the role of the actor on the stage, the duality holds us firmly. Our earthly cycle of lives will end when the game of duality no longer holds us, when our consciousness is able to hold all the experiences of duality in its hands, by remaining focused and fully present.

As long as we identify with one aspect of duality rather than the other, our consciousness is swayed. Karma is nothing but a natural harmonizer for the fluctuations in which our consciousness is stuck. We loosen our ties to the karmic cycle when our consciousness finds its fixed point in the still center of the swing. This center is the exit from the karmic cycle.

The predominant feelings in this center are kud, compassion and quiet joy. Releasing the grip of duality takes as. Uncovering all layers of Darkness (unconsciousness) is a gradual process. When we feel the quiet and all-pervading joy of the simplicity of being with ourselves, we will know that this is what we have been wondering about all along. It is not necessary to avoid worldly pleasure, but to experience the world and all its beauty from this state of peace and bliss. When there is Peace and Joy in our heart, then the things and people we meet give us Peace and Peace.

In this day and age, a certain group of souls on Earth are preparing to exit the karmic cycle. However, it is not just a group of human souls who reach the end of a transformative personal cycle. The Earth itself, on which we live, is undergoing a deep and thorough transformation. The planetary cycle also takes place. This time is special because the two cycles merge. We will now talk about the planetary cycle.

2.5 Planetary cycle

Everything about is evolves in cycles, planets just like udia. The earth as well as society is involved in the educational process. Like humanity, its consciousness evolves and transforms. As for humanity, her Path began with a certain kind of Ignorance and Unawareness of her own being.

Earth was once a dark planet that absorbed and absorbed the energies that surrounded it. She absorbed the energies and beings she encountered and completely assimilated them, took away their uniqueness and in a sense killed them. This arose out of a desire to expand. The earth felt a lack, which it expressed as a need to subdue and assimilate other energies. He was dead and deadly process.

At a certain point, the Earth realized that it was not satisfied with this process. She found that her feelings of inadequacy did not go away in this way. Her urge towards expansion was not satisfied by making the energy dull. She knew that she wanted something different, something new, some kind of cooperation with external energies that would not transform these energies into the energies of the Earth. A space was created in the Earth's consciousness for experiencing something other than itself.

Energetically, it marked the beginning of life on Earth.

A magnificent experiment of life forms has developed on Earth. Many life forms were drawn to Earth to manifest and experiment with the energies present. Earth has become a nest of unusualness. She was and still is free breath for all creatures. With the creation of life, the Earth and all living beings on it began a certain line of development. The central theme of this Experience Path is the balance between giving and receiving.

On an inner level of consciousness, the Earth has been trying for ages to find the right balance between giving and receiving. As a planet Earth gives and receives life. In the dark period of the Earth, in which it absorbed and consumed energies, the emphasis was strongly on reception. In reality, it turned to the other extreme: giving beyond the limits of what one can give.

Earth has long endured human violence and abuse because it is, in a sense, karmically appropriate. Earth had to explore the other side of power and oppression to give her the opportunity to come to a full understanding of the balance between giving and receiving. However, the limits within which disrespect and exploitation are karmically accepted are conjectural. Earth has reached its understanding of balance and is ending its karmic cycle of consciousness. Now she has reached such a level of love and awareness that she will no longer tolerate rude human treatment. This level of consciousness will cause it to attract similarly disturbing energies that bring harmony and harmony and repel energies with destructive intent. He came with a new balance between giving and receiving. On the New Earth, peace and harmony will reign between planet Earth and everything that lives on it: hunters, plants and animals. Harmony and warm connection in the heart will be a source of great joy and creativity.

The transition from the Old Earth to the New Earth is a process whose timing and character are not fixed. Much depends on the choices of society, the choices that we all make now as individuals.

2.6 Light Workers

On Earth, the development of life forms was closely linked to the inner development of earthly souls. Although no soul is bound to a particular planet, it is possible to say that earth souls are natives of our planet. The reason is the fact that their growth and expansion roughly coincides with the expansion of life forms on Earth.

In addition to earthly souls, a smaller group of souls called Lightworkers is incarnated on Earth in the universe. Lightworkers have the ability to achieve spiritual awakening faster than others can. This is not because the Lightworkers are better or higher souls, but they are older than most of the souls incarnated in the universe on Earth. This older age must be understood in relation to experience and not to age. Lightworkers reached a certain degree of enlightenment before they incarnated on Earth and began their mission. They have consciously chosen to enter the karmic wheel of life and experience all kinds of confusion and delusions that come with it. They did so in order to fully understand earthly experience. It will enable them to fulfill their mission. Only by going through all the stages of Ignorance and Delusion themselves can they eventually gain the tools to help others achieve true happiness and enlightenment.

The reason Lightworkers pursue this heartfelt mission to help a humanity they risk themselves losing forever in the drudgery and confusion of earthly life has to do with galactic karma.

Lightworkers stood at the beginning of the birth of humanity on Earth. They took part in the creation of the hunter. In the process of creation, they made vobs and others in a way that they later deeply explored. Now they are here to make up for their decisions. I will clarify this below.

Sometimes the term Starseed is used instead of Lightworker.

2.7 Development of soul consciousness

The development of the consciousness of the soul after it is born as an individual unit goes through roughly three internal stages. These phases are independent of the particular plane of reality (planet, dimension, star system) on which the consciousness definitely resides or is tested.

1. Stage of innocence (paradise)
2. Ego phase (sin)
3. Phase of the second innocence (enlightenment)

These phases can be figuratively compared to childhood, adulthood and old age.

After the soul leaves the oceanic state of Oneness, which it remembers as blissful and completely foamless, it goes to explore reality in an entirely new way. Her awareness of herself and the way she differs from her fellow travelers slowly grows. In this phase, the soul is very receptive and sensitive, it expresses curiosity and innocence. Everything is new and uncritically absorbed. This phase can be called paradise, because the experience of Unity and security is still fresh in the memory of the newly born soul.

As the soul's journey continues, the memory of home fades as it sinks into different kinds of experiences. A new phase begins when the soul again experiences itself as a reference point in its world. Zane realizes that there is "me" and "others". Zane experiments with how he can influence his environment if he acts on the basis of this awareness. Her feeling of power grows in her soul, it affects what she experiences. The illusion of power increases the separation between souls. Because of this, a feeling of loneliness and alienation arises in the soul, and it becomes a power struggler. Power seems to be the only thing that sets minds on fire. The ability to use the will to influence the external world is called the Ego. Please note that the meaning of the ego is simply that it enables the soul to experience itself as a completely separate unit. This is a natural and positive development within the evolution of the soul. Ego is not bad, but it tends to be expansive and aggressive. The ego seems to allow the soul to actively dominate reality.

After a certain period of time, the struggle for power reaches a dead end and the transition from the second to the third phase occurs. The soul is dissatisfied with the ego-based consciousness it offers, doubts that power will make it evil, and longs for something else. The soul becomes aware of its ties to ego-based consciousness, recognizes and releases the emotions and thoughts that come with it, lets the old ego-based energies within die, sheds the cocoon, and becomes its new self. A heart-based consciousness, motivated by love and freedom, awakens, and the soul longs to help others make their transition.

The Earth is now transitioning from an ego-based consciousness to a heart-based consciousness, and Lightworkers are moving through this phase in accordance with the inner Earth process. However, large parts of humanity do not want to leave the ego-based consciousness at all. They have not yet entered the phase of this transition. This is not something to be criticized, judged or mourned over. Try to look at it as a natural process like plant growth. Don't judge a plant for being a bud instead of being in full bloom. Try seeing it in this light. Making judgments about the destructive effects of ego-based consciousness in the world is based on insufficient input into the spiritual movement. Moreover, it weakens your own strength, because the anger and disappointment you sometimes feel while watching the news or reading the newspaper cannot be turned into anything constructive. It just wears you out and lowers your vibrational levels.

There is no point in trying to change souls who are caught in the reality of ego-based consciousness. They do not want your "help" because they are not yet open to the heart-based energies that you - the Lightworkers - wish to share with them. Even if it seems to you that they need help, if they don't want it, they don't need it. It's that simple.

2.8 Galactic influences on man and the Earth

By galactic or extraterrestrial influences I mean the influences of the collective energies associated with certain star systems. There are many levels of dimensions of existence in the universe. A planet or star can exist in different dimensions, ranging from material to more ethereal dimensions. In general, the galactic communities that influenced Earth souls existed in less dense or material realities than we now exist on Earth.

The galactic realms were populated by adult souls who were born long before Earth souls and who were at the height of their ego phase. Among various

For a long time, many wars and battles took place in the galactic communities. This was natural in a way, because they needed fighting to learn all about self-centeredness and power. At a certain point, intergalactic battles reached a dead end. There was a certain kind of balance, so to speak, a division of power zones.

The situation has reached a dead end.

When the Earth was inhabited by all different kinds of life forms and finally human beings, the alien empires watched this development with great interest. The diversity and richness of life forms attracted their attention.

Galactic enemies hoped for new opportunities on Earth. They thought that Earth could provide a recovery phase of the battle and break the impasse.

The interests defended by the galactic communities on Earth were mainly self-centered.

There they sensed the possibility of expanding influence in new and powerful ways.

However, the galactic energies could not approach the earthly souls before these souls decided to explore the energies of power, because unless they had the inclination to develop power themselves, they were immune to the power of any power-motivated external force.

The transition to the ego phase made earth souls wounded because apart from their intent to explore the ego consciousness they were still very innocent and naive. So it was not difficult for the galactic powers to impose their energies on the consciousness of earth souls. The way they operated was consciousness manipulation and mind control.

Their psychic tools were akin to brainwashing through hypnotic suggestions. They operated on the psychic and astral levels but influenced human beings down to the material/physical level.

The term Lightworker is tied to this past. The souls of the Light Workers, before they came to Earth incarnate into human bodies, inhabited several star systems. In this galactic phase, the Lightworkers were the co-creators of the human being as it evolved. Like other galactic powers, they intended to use the hunter as a straw puppet to gain dominance in other parts of the universe.

In the Kromaon age, the souls of the Lightworkers intervened in the natural evolution of the hunter at the genetic level. This genetic disruption should be thought of as a top-down manipulation process. They imprinted certain thought forms into the human brain/ consciousness, which affected the physical cellular structure of the organism. As a result, a robotic element was installed in the human brain, which took away the natural strength and self-awareness of the human being. They stimulated thought patterns and emotions associated with fear.

It was an artificial implant that made the hunter a more suitable tool for alien strategic targets.

By interfering with the development of life on Earth in this way, the Lightworkers disrupted the natural course of things. They did not respect the totality of earthly souls that populated the evolving human species. They viewed human beings as tools, essentially as things that helped them fulfill their goals. In a way, they robbed them of their newfound free will. They were not ready at this stage respect life.

When the battle was resumed on Earth, it was actually moved to Earth.

Galactic souls slowly moved into the role of observer. In this role, they would become aware of a certain kind of weariness in their being, become aware of the emptiness in the struggle for power, and their consciousness opened to new possibilities and began the transition to a heart-based consciousness. A new energy was awakened in their hearts and they felt a longing for home. Deep inside they carried the memory of the paradise they had to leave behind. They realized that they had treated living human beings on Earth sickly and felt a sincere desire to correct the wrong they had done. They wanted to free human beings from the shackles of fear and limitations that brought so much darkness into their lives, and they felt they could do much in this regard by incarnating themselves into human bodies for the purpose of transforming their creations from within.

In the process of infusing their energies into earthly souls, the galactic forces have actually created a great melting pot of influences on Earth. We could say that the warring elements of the various galactic souls were implanted into humanity as a race, and therefore forced the human being to find a way to unify them or bring them into peaceful coexistence. Although this greatly complicated the Path of Human Souls, it ultimately created the best chance for a positive breakthrough, a way out of the stalemate the galactic conflicts had reached.

All things are interconnected. There is a level where earth souls and galactic souls were and are governed by the same purpose. This is the angel level.

Every soul is an angel at its deepest core. On the angelic level, galactic warriors as well as earthly souls have agreed to participate in the cosmic drama outlined above.

2.9 Galactic Federation

The Galactic Federation of Light (GF) was founded 4.5 million years ago to prevent interdimensional dark forces from creating galactic wars and conquering various star systems to dominate and exploit our Milky Way Galaxy. lenians of the Galactic Federation of Light act as physical angels and radiate Light and Love into the realm of darkness and oversee the development of all its star planetary systems to fulfill the eventual prophecies of "Divine Destiny" for our Milky Way Galaxy.

The Galactic Federation of Light for our galaxy is located in the Sirius star planetary system. And many on Earth are shadow officers or sleuths of the Galactic Federation of Light.

Millions of years ago we became the scene of a huge rebellion between the Light and dark forces in this galaxy. The rebellion began in the constellations of Lyra, Cancer, Gemini and Orion, as well as in many lesser-known star clusters. At the very heart of this battle were the Pleiadian Star League, the Andromeda Confederation, the Lyrian League of Light, and the Sirian Star Nations. It was this rebellion that eventually led to the formation of the Galactic Federation of Light some 4.5 million years ago.

However, among all the star nations in our galaxy, the most sacred is Sirius, the place where the sacred "Eternal Blue Lodge of the Blue Light of Divine Creation" was enshrined. Lord Siraya, bearer of the Divine Blue Light, to all His abodes of worlds, chose Sirius (B) as the point of entry into this galaxy and created the "Oracle Temple of the Great" of the Blue Light of Divine Creation to radiate the Light of Creation to all other star systems in the galaxy Ground track. This sacred Blue Lodge of Sirius is defended by a race of "Lion Tails" who are settlers in the Sirius (A) star system. This is the Udi race that descended to Earth to create and activate the Great Pyramid in Egypt and oversee the design and construction of all pyramids on Earth.

At their head stood the Atlantean and Egyptian Vekaz from Venus - Thoth and the tall Vekaz Seshat, who is a descendant of the "Maa Beings", a race also from Syria A. The Lion Beings live in a non-physical reality that transcends time and space, while the Maa Beings are from physical dimension and even live among the Uda race on Earth. While the Lion beings were the architects or project designers of the pyramids, the actual builders were the Maa beings who physically constructed the Great Pyramid. This is the multidimensional hose of the Great Pyramid in Egypt. Furthermore, the Leo and Maa beings are only the Galactic Federation of Light.

There are over 200,000 members of the Galactic Federation in existence, originating from the many star nations and systems of our galaxy as well as various other galaxies and the vast orders, confederations and federations of many creational seat worlds and universes. Of the total sweat of the lynx species, approximately 40% are humanoids and the rest are various forms of sentient beings. However, only the Galactic Federation are fully awakened Beings of Light. Spiritually advanced reptilian civilizations are also part of the Galactic Federation.

The Galactic Federation is a non-hierarchical association with an advisory body called the Galactic Council. It is not a form similar to state institutions on Earth, where states have their own government, parliament and courts. This is not how the Galactic Federation is organized. The similarity with the UN is very distant, because the goal of the Galactic Federation is cooperation, unlike the UN, where it is in the interest of individual states and countries to promote their economic and political goals.

Individual members of the Galactic Federation accept the resolution of the Galactic Council as a recommendation, which they freely decide whether to accept or not.

The Galactic Council is an advisory body, not an executive, but the truth is that the vast majority of Galactic Federation leaders follow the recommendations of the Galactic Council, mainly because it is convenient for them.

There are factions in the Galaxy that are not part of the Galactic Federation, the members of these factions are not just members of the Galactic Federation. The interests of these groups are often in conflict with the interests of the Galactic Federation, or its individual branches. In such a case, the forces of the individual civilizations of the Galactic Federation are combined to defend against such groups. The Galactic Federation uses mental resources as much as possible to defend the interests of its lines and, if necessary, uses the means of the most technologically advanced lines of the federation. A known disadvantage of power groupings that tend to fight against the Galactic Federation is that these groupings do not last long, as their individual lines compete with each other to gain a position of power within the grouping as well. In the end, it often ends up that they also fight among themselves for the decisive power in this grouping, and this tends to be the reason for the disintegration of these groups.

A distinct advantage of power groupings whose interests conflict with those of the Galactic Federation is that most of them have strict hierarchical arrangements that allow for an easier way to coordinate their actions and activities. Deciding on very important matters is the work of a moment, because it is an individual's decision. The ability to react quickly to development is thus higher. The Galactic Federation balances this handicap with a higher spiritual level. Transferred into human terminology by the wisdom of the scientists or rather the sages of the Galactic Federation, who are able to predict the steps of enemy power groups and thus react in advance, which balances the advance of hierarchical management. This ability connects in that these beings are able to connect to higher intelligences. From our point of view, it could be called channeling with beings and consciousness from higher levels.

Power groups hostile to the Galactic Federation do not have beings in their ranks who are able to connect with higher intelligences, because they themselves have a low-vibrational consciousness that does not allow connecting with higher intelligences that operate on a higher vibrational level. As a result, they lack the ability of intuition, which in its reach greatly surpasses the possibilities of intelligence in the sense of the function of reason, logical reasoning, which can be very high in these beings. (When such beings with high vibrations of consciousness occur in their councils, they cease to identify with the interests of these power groups and provide information for their benefit).

Civilizations that have not progressed to a certain spiritual level are not accepted into the Galactic Federation (but we can't be surprised that we are not just yet).

It sometimes happens that some of the power cluster lens advance to a higher spiritual level, break away from the power cluster and become lens of the Galactic Federation.

There is no danger of infiltration of civilizations with powerful interests into the Galactic Federation, because among the members of the Galactic Federation there are also very advanced beings with extraordinary telepathic abilities, for whom it is no problem to know the true intentions and spiritual level of both individual beings and entire civilizations.

only civilizations become members of the Galactic Federation based on the height of their spiritual level and not their technological level.

The technological level does not always positively affect the level of spiritual knowledge. Despite all apparent progress, especially technological progress, the rate of individual suffering has increased rather than decreased compared to 100 to 200 years ago. The concept of the degree of suffering could also be replaced by the concept of the degree of happiness. Many so-called the natural peoples of the earth are closer to God than the vast majority of members of traditional religions. That is why their concepts are close to each other and there are not such differences between them as between traditional religions. Note on Natural nations did not and do not fight among themselves for their vision of God, for the promotion of their religion. More precisely, it is possible to say that the natural nations do not use God as an excuse to fight against the other society, because it is too sacred for them.

The spiritual development of civilizations can be compared to climbing a hill from different sides. the closer they are to the top, the closer these individual civilizations are to each other. More closely in his philosophical views, in his attitude to God, to the surrounding civilizations, in the interests of someone he controls or does not control, and he helps someone. At present, the Galactic Council is trying to create such conditions for humanity on Earth, so that its development is not influenced by any powerful groups that would be interested in dominating the space in the Solar System, on Earth, and eventually humanity as well. One of the most important elements of freedom is knowledge. Where there is no knowledge, there is no freedom of decision, there is no free will. This is also the purpose of channeling information freeing humanity from dogmas that were imposed on it, which were artificially inserted into human memory and memory of humanity, which are not true, and which distort the past, present and future of humanity. These dogmas, this influencing of society's memory make it impossible for society to decide freely.

Because the one who does not have enough information is not free, because he makes decisions based on lack of or inaccurate information. The eventuality that Galactic The Federation will demonstrate its existence in some way to humanity, and it is considered as one of the forms of freedom from dogmas about the non-existence of extraterrestrial civilizations in space, dogmas about the uniqueness of humanity and its intelligence as the most developed in the Universe.

In order to advance to a higher level and be accepted into the Galactic Federation, the members must make their own efforts. The Galactic Federation will not develop innos or intervene forcefully against the human global elites on Earth who currently control it, but will create conditions so that these global elites receive no support from extraterrestrial influences. The question of moving the Earth to a higher level of consciousness is not a question of if, but a question of when and under what conditions, under what sacrifices of humanity.

The future of the community depends on the will of the community. In general, it can be said that none of the futures that have been presented to Earth as predictions of the future are completely excluded. It is never absolutely excluded, it is only a matter of the degree of probability with which this future can occur. Humanity is influenced by many influences, both cosmic physical forces and the influences of extraterrestrial civilizations. However, society has the full possibility of its own choice. society as a whole has a collective consciousness.

Just as the consciousness of the Earth is the sum of all the consciousnesses of the beings inhabiting the Earth, so the consciousness of humanity is the sum of all the consciousnesses of the people inhabiting the Earth. This really means human consciousness, not some alien or different race. And this collective consciousness has its own choice, just as each soul chooses its own incarnation by its own choice and in its own way is unlimited in its choice.

It is not possible to present the development of society or the future of society only in terms of the existence of society as it currently functions on this Earth. So it is possible to say that even if such a situation were to occur, when other extraterrestrial civilizations take over the Earth or the return of life on Earth, or the Galactic one, will be marked by catastrophes. The Federation tries to prevent it as effectively as possible, so it will happen that the majority of people who want to develop and move to a higher level will incarnate on the corresponding planet, which will correspond to the conditions of the Earth and will continue their development there. The galaxy is vast, there are countless planets.

However, the Galactic Federation is convinced that humanity has a real chance for Ascension to a higher level. Just as a spiritual master on Earth does not waste his precious time by attending to a staunch atheist and materialist whose only goal is to acquire the greatest wealth, regardless of how he acquires it, so the Galactic Council would not devote this effort to a civilization where she knew she didn't stand a chance.

To obtain information about the situation on Earth, the Galactic Federation uses, among other things, channeling, where the flow of information passes in the opposite direction. The source tends to be the Lightworkers, beings that come from the higher levels who have consciously incarnated into bodies at this time on Earth to assist in the process of transformation. The reason the Galactic Federation does not report accurate information in some areas is that all the information that appears in the media on Earth is monitored and sold and collected by power groups that have interests that conflict with the interests of the Galactic Federation. The reason why the USA is a bigger threat to the spiritual development of humanity than Russia is not that the people in Russia are currently at a significantly higher spiritual level, but that the global elites are trying to implement their plans through the USA.

The basic message of GF to humanity is to make people realize that every human being bears full responsibility for his own fate and cannot pretend that he is harmed and that he suffers only as a result of circumstances outside of him, caused by other beings, whether intentionally or unintentionally. It is the same with the collective consciousness of society. It decides on its own destiny and only it can allow the influence of extraterrestrial civilizations and allow itself to be negatively influenced by them. As long as humanity as a whole - its consciousness decides for Ascension to a higher spiritual level, for transformation, no extraterrestrial civilization can prevent it. It is up to the community as a whole to decide.

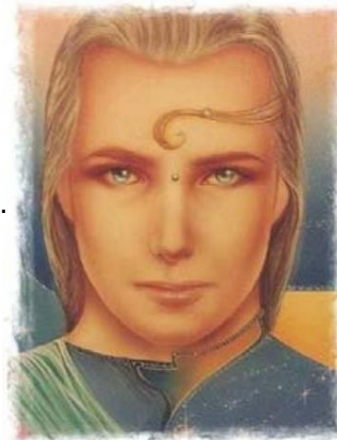

Ashtar Command

One of the most interesting and strange alien groups of all is Velite Aštar and Velitestvo Aštar. Velite Ashtar is the man who commands the Air Division of the Great White Brotherhood, or Brotherhood of Light. You command Ashtar and His vast alien army of workers, numbering over twenty millions, working in close association with the Ascended Masters. Except for the twenty million crew under His command in our solar system, they are another four million men and workers on the physical plane.

Belite Aštar, Šám, is a magnificent and graceful being, 215 cm tall, with blue eyes. His body is of the Adam Kadmon type, that is, it is similar to ours on Earth.

His evolution, as a soul, took place on the planet Ashtar and on the planet Venus. He was never incarnated on planet earth. Although Velite Ashtar is responsible for the space fleet in our solar system, his Services are not limited to this sector of space. Represents our solar system at council meetings of our galaxy and universes throughout the universe.

One of the important things to understand about Velite Ashtar and his army of workers and fleets of alien ships is that they are ethereal in nature.

They don't have physical bodies like we do, but they are able to manifest in a physical body and manifest their vessel on the physical plane whenever they want. The person who saw them would not think about them differently than about you or me.

Most life on other planets in our solar system is ethereal in nature. Sometimes these beings were called etherians for this reason. It is not possible to consider them as discarnate (disembodied) beings, because they have bodies. They, like us, are in a certain stage of development, and their life on their plane is not so different from ours, except that they have transcended the higher and lower self and the astral desires with which the people of Earth so often struggle.

Velite Ashtar and his crew do not wish to be seen as gods, but rather as comrades and equals with us on the Path of Ascension and beyond. His two main missions are to spiritually educate humanity about his true mission for which he is here, and secondly to defend and protect Earth and the solar system from hostile and selfish extraterrestrial groups. they have no idea of the vanity that belongs to Him and His tireless crew and workers.

Ashtar's first open contact with planet Earth took place in the 1950s through a man named George Van Tassel. I would like to share with you some aspects of this first report:

"Glory to you, Shan (Earth) beings. I greet you in love and peace. My identity is Aštar, Commander of the Fourth Sector, Šáre Patrol Station. ... The purpose of this organization is, in a sense, to save humanity from itself. A few years before your age, nuclear physicists penetrated the Book of Knowledge. They discovered how to split the atom. The consequences were disgusting this power should not be used for nienie, o is incomparable to what could be... However, we are concerned about their pursuit of the explosion of the element hydrogen. When they detonate a hydrogen atom, they can wipe out life on the entire planet. They get stuck in a formula they don't understand. We don't care about the hunter's desire to continue the war on this planet, „Shan. We are concerned about his deliberate decision to wipe out humanity and turn this planet to ashes...

It is no coincidence that extraterrestrial activity increased a hundredfold after we dropped the atomic bombs on Nagasaki and Hiroshima. By developing this most dangerous technology, we are now threatening the entire solar system and even the galaxy. Because of this immediate cause, extraterrestrial forces throughout our solar system, galaxy, space, and even universes have been mobilized to help Earth prevent this from happening. It is said in the sacred lore that a planet in our solar system, called Maldek, was destroyed by this very process of arbitrary manipulation of nuclear weapons and technology.

The real battle that the Ashtar Command is fighting is for the minds of the Earth.

Will we serve the soul and the spirit or the lower self, the negative ego and distant materialistic desires?

The first is Caucasian, which ranges from the so-called "Nordic" type (light hair, blue eyes, pale skin) to the "Mediterranean" type (light to dark brown hair, gray to brown eyes, tanned-looking skin). The other is typically Oriental, with dark hair, dark Asian eyes, and skin color that varies from very pale brown to dark brown. The hands are narrower than Uda's and have six fingers that ride on a curved, razor-sharp claw. The eyes are round and bulging with a reptoid vertical slit and are either light crimson or gold in color. They have no tail, but their feet have five long toes ending in the same curved claw. A woman with a height of 2.4 meters is slightly taller.

Udský re is still guttural like Nemina, but tonally sounds like Chinese.

The reptoid language is extremely guttural and full of sounds that are difficult to imitate for most people.

Motherships and Other Vessels: Centaurians have two types of ships seen in the sky on Earth. The first lo is a multi-purpose reconnaissance In. It is bell-shaped with a large lenticular circular wing attached at the bottom. It is about 14 meters in diameter and almost 9 meters in height. A second, smaller dinoid-reptoid group from Bellatrix in Orion that populated the second planet in that solar system some 200,000 years ago. The two parties involved formed the Confederation after a series of highly destructive wars that ended some 20,000 years ago.

The nose consists of two small slits above the very narrow lips. The mouth, wide open, is very large and frog-like. The ears are small circles on each side of the head.

The head is large, seemingly disproportionate to the rest of the body, while the neck is seemingly non-existent. The body, arms and legs are very muscular. The fingers are long, thin with a membrane and there are four, on the feet they have small claws. Males are slightly shorter than females between 2.1 and 2.4 meters. Pegasus

Lena's Name: Star League Pegasus

Acceptance into GF: 3.78 million years ago (They were originally a group of special colonies established by the Sirius Governing Council some 4 million years ago)

Location: The constellation Pegasus is a huge cluster of over 1000 stars, located between the constellations Labus and Aquarius Distance from Earth: 200 to 3000 light years Life form: There are three main types of humanoids in this star league.

The first type strongly resembles a Sirian Hunter in height and build and is divided into equal types with white and blue skin. The second type is thinner with red or orange skin. The last type is a hybrid created from a dinoid and a second humanoid race.

Physical Appearance: The first type resembles the original Uda settlers of Syria B: the men vary from perfectly formed muscular bodies to childlike bodies and are 2 to 2.25 meters tall. They have blond to light brown hair and light blue to green eyes. The women are extremely voluptuous and are between 1.90 and 2 meters tall. They have extremely pale white or light blue skin.

The third is a lenticular atmospheric giant Io approximately 400 meters long.

Procyonania

Name of Iena: Star nations of Procyon

Location: Directly above the star Sirius in the low sky. The brightest star in the constellation Canis Minor. Procyon is a binary star, just the inner, or A, star has inhabited planets. The Procyon A star system consists of six relatively small planets. the Ud colonies reside on the fourth planet, while the Amphibious-Reptoid colonies are located on the second and third planets from the star.

Distance from Earth: About 11.4 light years from Earth Life form:

Two types of sentient beings. Pvy is a certain Lyrano-Syrian humanoid type. As in Syria, they have blue or white skin and are fully conscious. Amphibious-Reptoid hybrids are slightly taller than humanoids and have green, brown, or blue colored skin.

Physical Appearance: Galactic Procyon humans have a typical Lyrano-Syrian appearance like typical Earth humans with two major differences. First, the eyes are bigger and look more vibrant: the color moves through shades of blue, green and brown. Two smaller ears are attached a little lower on the head. Second, the top and back of the head is increased to accommodate the larger brain capacity.

As other Lyrano-Syrians have reported, the men are 1.8 to 2.25 meters tall. Well-proportioned women are 1.9 to 2.1 meters tall.

Amphibious-Reptoid Beings have a lizard-like body covered with scaly skin.

Prominent brown, yellow or red eyes are set against a very narrow ridge-shaped nose, which rides on two small slit-like nostrils. Oi can move independently of each other. The mouth is a narrow slit extending from ear to ear.

The almost square head is in proportion to the rest of the body. Small, clearly visible neck. Very muscular body and limbs. Four narrow fingers without nails on the hands. Three long breasts on legs legalized by long sharp claws. The very short tail looks like a game at the end of the spine. Slightly larger women are from 2.1 to 2.45 meters. Stronger males are 2.1 to 2.35 meters tall.

Peculiar lips and abilities: Known as eager explorers and perfect scientists.

Average amount of sleep required: Humanoids need only 1-2 hours; Amphibians-Reptoids need 3-4 hours.

Re: Humanoid speech is very voiced with some guttural sounds.

Amphibious-Reptoid language is voiced and guttural.

Motherships and other vessels: The Procyna research vessel looks like either a large teardrop or a large beetle, and ranges from 14 to 61 meters in size. Motherships in deep space are shaped like giant snowflakes or giant jellyfish and range from 160 to 6,440 kilometers across.

Ceania

Name of Iena: Star Nation Tau Ceti (Cetus - Veryba)

Admission to the GF: Almost 2.5 million years ago. Bear-like mammals (the original inhabitants) allowed the Uda colony from the constellation Hercules to settle on the fourth planet of their system some 2.4 million years ago.

Location: Nearest star in the constellation Cetus to Earth Distance from Earth: Approximately 11.8 light years Life form: Sentient inhabitants are a galactic humanoid and a bear-like mammal.

Physical Appearance: Galactic humanoids closely resemble those from the constellation Hercules. The three main skin colors are brown (including coppery), reddish and green (light and dark). people with brown skin have light brown to copper hair or black to red-orange hair. Oi range in color from greens and blues to browns and grays. Men are very well built, 2.1 to 2.6 meters tall. The height of women ranges from 2 to 2.4 meters. green-skinned humans have light green to blond or brown hair and green, hazel, or olive-blue eyes and are the same height as brown-skinned humans. Audies with red skin have red, orange or blonde hair and red, brown or dark blue eyes and are also the same height as the other two types of Audies. In all cases, women are quite plump.

Tau Ceti bear-like mammals are monstrous furry Beings with small furry tails and bear-like bodies covered in brown, black or light fur. The heads are bear-shaped but with a smaller lip. The teeth resemble those of a galactic bear rather than a terrestrial bear. The eyes are set forward and, like the Uda's eyes, are brown, blue or black. The ears on the sides of the head directly above the oami resemble the ears of terrestrial bears. Highly sentient beings walk on two legs, so they have a higher point of contact than bears on Earth. Two muscular arms with hands like paws have short clawed fingers. Horses have very muscular legs with very short feet with five short toes. Their height ranges from 2.75 to 3.65 meters)

Peculiar Lips and Abilities: Known for their ability to create some of the most advanced ships in the Galactic Federation's research fleets. They are also considered to be some of the best pilots and navigators in the galaxy.

Average amount of sleep needed: Both species need only 1 to 2 hours per day. The re of bear-like beings sounds similar, but is deeper and more guttural.

Motherships and other vessels: Research ships are huge, diamond-shaped plasma vessels 60 to 76 meters long. Motherships are mostly the flagships of Galactic Federation research fleets. They look like groups of multilayered red blood cells in stacks of 20 to 50 cells and their diameter ranges from 6.5 to 71 kilometers.

2.11 Ascended Masters

The Ascended Master is Bytos who has mastered as and space and in the process has gained self-mastery of the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual aspects of herself in the lower dimensions. All of the Ascended Masters are lazes of the Great White Brotherhood, and many are also lazes of the Order of Melchizedek. All transmuted through spiritual alchemy a great deal of their karma, fulfilled their Divine Plan and were initiated into the rituals of Ascension. Their self-mastery means that they have transcended into the Higher Dimensions of Matter: the fifth and higher dimensions. There are many higher vibrational dimensions above ours, and the realms of many Masters and Angels extend between the 5th and 9th dimensions. Just because the Beings are Ascended does not mean that their own learning and growth ceases or becomes separate from us! Indeed, as they grow, we grow; and as we grow, so do they. Once a uite has imparted his knowledge to another, the other can take the knowledge and change it and give it back to the uite, and so cycle after cycle repeats itself for all, and those who were led now lead and those who led are now led. And of course, when we talk about Ascension, and work towards our Ascension, what we really mean is that this is the Path we are also walking on - we aim for Ascension as a Master of ourselves and not of others. Our Path to Mastery and therefore to our personal and planetary Ascension (because they are linked) is therefore a Path of personal mastery on all levels.

what is the Great White Brotherhood?

The term "great" refers both to the great sweats of the Ascended Hosts and to the sublime gathering of so many thousands (more than 450,000) Ascended Masters in Light Bodies. The Ascended Hosts create this on a possible reference to the hidden hierarchy of this planet - the spolonos organized and enlightened minds, who are sometimes referred to as the Elder Brothers of the Uda race. They are said to have been brought to Earth 18 million years ago to oversee the Grand Plan for the self-aware development of all life.

The term "white" refers to the Light - i.e. the white Light - because all the leni of the Great White Brotherhood have reached the state known as Ascension, in which they have transformed their physical bodies into bodies of Light. The term "fraternity" does not mean a team, but refers to the fellowship and broad cooperation practiced by all len who have reached the level of spiritual perfection and have contributed to the honor and goals of the Ascended Hosts. the leni of the White Brotherhood ascended not only from humanity and from this planet, but also from many other races and in many other places. Other names for the collective will start: Veké Bratstvo Svetla; Brotherhood of the Grail; Guardians of the Grail; Elders; Legion of Light; Lords of Plame and Lords of Light.

what are Lúe?

They can basically be summed up as the energies of the Creator / Source / God (whichever term you choose) that descended and "split" into aspects and smaller components to make all of creation work effectively and purposefully.

At the heart of All About Is there must be a sense of organization, otherwise there would be confusion. And in confusion neither progress nor learning can take place. We are all born with lessons to learn that center on the theme of one or more Lus that govern Spiritual Growth and Order on the Planet. We usually incarnate with a goal that places major emphasis on one or perhaps two Lús, with lesser emphasis and partial aspects of the other Lús. Our planet itself is a sentient and evolving life form and has a special relationship with the other Lua, which is golden-yellow in color and is known as the Divine Wise. This supports the main purpose for which the Earth itself manifested itself, and together with the first and third Luas of Divine Love and Divine Will, these are the 3 luas that have the greatest influence on her Spiritual development and consequently influence the nature of the growth and development of all life forms developing on it.

Each Lú has as its head an Ascended Master with great experience in working with the energy of the given Lú, who is his ohan or overseer. Many of the Ascended Masters, including ohans, will, as part of their duties, take over the management of one or more retreats - places of teaching and guidance where we can travel in our mental bodies while we are disconnected from our physical bodies and while we are in our mental bodies between incarnations. They also accompany and support us in many aspects of our learning and growth during daily life, even if they are usually unseen and unobserved. They are all open to our requests for support and help, but they cannot enter and act without our awareness - therefore we must ask and work with them consciously to gain the greatest benefit. Working with the energy and lessons of the Lús and with those Masters who administer these energies to us it helps uri and works with Divine energy and releases the power of unconditional Love into us - and when it is connected with Wisdom and a positive intention, it can move mountains. We can become whole and perfect through connecting with the Divine Source / God in many aspects of our lives and being and recognizing and accepting ourselves as a perfect emanation of the supreme Being.

Role of Ascended Masters in the Hierarchy

Roles in the hierarchy are in a constant state of flux. What I offer in the table below is the situation from 2008. You should know that the roles of "female" Masters are constantly changing as the balance of energies for Ascension is guessed. Also, sources sometimes seem to contradict each other regarding names, titles, and incarnations. It is possible for Bytos or even a different aspect of it to incarnate or influence more than one incarnate person in a given era. Lion Masters can occur in human lives to a greater or lesser extent along a continuum of penetration...

The Hindu faith maintains that it is possible for the deity (the Ascended Master) to remain in his heavenly abode and at some point create an incarnation on Earth that embodies the deity with his full essence, properties and Powers.

Such partial incarnations are called Amsa-avatari (avatar = incarnation = incarnation). Full incarnation is called Purna-Avatar and there is also a third category called Avesa-avatara in which only a minor aspect of the deity is still present in the incarnated person. So Master Lúa can manifest in a culture on Earth in any of these categories with greater or lesser degrees of fullness. There are other reports that Master Lúa is capable of 1,746,000 manifestations, of course "influencing" and also channeling connections.

On the next page there is a graph of the Cosmic Hierarchy for our Galaxy and especially for our planet. Compared to the original chart, I modified the office of the Lord of the World, where Sanat Kumara was listed, who held the office of the Planetary Logo for millions of years, but was replaced in this position about 50 years ago by Mr. Guatama Buddha.

Changes are taking place in dimensions and hierarchies from top to bottom, and this change was also a foreshadowing of what is taking place in the dry season on the physical plane of the planet. I cannot vouch for the correctness of the names of the masters at the individual posts, but it is not so important who currently holds which office, the main thing is that itate gets an idea of the cosmic and planetary spiritual hierarchy.

Melchizedek

The sign or name of Melchizedek connotes energy or vibration and refers to the immeasurable and Unified Being that exists across all currents of life – Elohim; Angelic and Cosmic. This ancient Master is one unified consciousness, reuniting all aspects of himself and consolidating his masculine and feminine flames and as such is probably the closest to Source energy of all the Masters we can reach at this time. The Malchizedek Vibration can be accessed through many different levels throughout the Universal Order, depending on what each individual needs to lead; what energy is he able to maintain and how much is he working on? When a person connects to this energy, he does not access different parts or aspects of Malchizedek, but he requests the complete energy at a level appropriate to it. Also, there is no special ethereal seclusion that can be visited for the purpose of the energies of Melchizedek – this energy surrounds us constantly, and it is possible to reach it through the skadekovek and we decide through the shackle. The level to which the spiritual laziness of humanity is most likely to connect is the Melchizedek energy functioning on the Cosmic and Galactic level, where it works as the governing council of our Galactic Center (Grind Track) and serves as a link between the Earth and other representatives of the planets and bodies of this sector (Upper Dipper). and the Galactic Center. The Melchizedek energy on the cosmic level acts as one of the three guardians of the Gate of Ascension, which it holds open with Archangels Metatron and Michael for the purpose of creating a bridge and acts as a link between the Higher Dimensions and ours.

Many incarnate and incarnate souls have held the title of Melchizedek as they have been influenced and guided by the energy of this ancient Master. Indeed, some incarnated today will take this title, indicating that they are committed to that vibration and underlying principles. There is also an order called the "Order of Melchizedek", which is the Cosmic Order and Priesthood. The basic principle of the Order for us on Earth is to prepare us for our transition into the fifth dimension (referred to as Ascension) by mastery of the four planes of being - our physical, emotional, mental and spiritual states of being. The work of the Order is extensive, promoting the same spiritual principles for worlds in other Galactic Centers and other Universes - much like the University! The name Malchizedek could also be given to any initiate of the Order who has passed the seven levels of initiation into the Order, and many of the Great White Brotherhood, including many Ascended Priesthood is automatically transferred to future incarnations as well. The Order also consecrates individuals during incarnation, as happened to Abraham, Moses and Jesus during their "human" lives.

As you might expect, Malchisadek's work with us today will begin to help bring information regarding spiritual principles and how to work with the Light into our subconscious and conscious understanding. This initiates us to understand and use the Language of Light, and to understand, build and work with the development of our own energetic Light Bodies. We will need these energies to assist us in our personal Ascension and to support the Earth and our human species during the transitional period. Indeed, the main reason behind all other Malchizedek energies is to increase the vibrational frequencies for the purpose of achieving Oneness - Self and then ultimately with Source.

Planetary Logos

The Spiritual Hierarchy was founded by Sanat Kumara 18 million years ago and was the Planetary Logos of Earth until 1956 when Lord Guatama Buddha took his place and Sanat Kumara was released from his service to Earth.

The Planetary Logos animates the Earth. Mother Earth or Lady Gaia is the Earth. So they work closely together. The planetary Logos is responsible for the evolution of all sentient beings on the planet, living and non-living. Every being on Earth lives in his aura. This not only affects humans, but also the animal, plant and mineral kingdoms.

Of course there is also a Logos for the solar system, galaxy, universe, multiverse and cosmos.

Each of us is a logo of our own material body.

The holder of the position of Planet Logo is Lord Buddha. It stands at the top of our spiritual hierarchy and works with the support of the other 6 planetary logos (or kumars) and the higher aspects of Manu, Christ and Maha ohan under the leadership of Helios, who is our Solar Logos (the age of Bytos, which embodies and governs all the planets and bodies in our solar system). Each of the Kumaras is a channel for the energy of one of their 7 Luas, although each of them also acts as a distributing force for the other Luas.

His role involves creating a loving and supportive framework for all life forms on a physical level to allow them to evolve and grow and to accept responsibility for maintaining and nurturing their own three-flame. Its basis is Shambhala, located in the etheric plane above the Gobi Desert in Mongolia.

Maha ohan

The title Mahaohan means Great Lord and is responsible for maintaining and preserving the integrity of all the Lus in existence manifested on Earth.

He works closely with the holders of the Office of Christ; Office of Manu; Planetary Logo and Solar Logo. Maha ohan also received the title of Lord of Civilization for his time in playing a role in the development of humanity and manifesting the Creator's plan for humanity and the planet through the creative and practical use of energy.

Its office governs the principle of intelligent thought and processing, and the direction of the planet and all sentient beings on their evolutionary path (on the physical, emotional and mental levels).

Grounds thoughts into matter; ideas into manifestation and works with the forces of nature and sources of energetic nature, such as magnetism and electricity, which are the building blocks of what we manifest. The Mahaohan also acts as the agent, director, overseer and coordinator of all the Ohans of the Lu and ensures that all energies work in a cohesive Whole and ensures that everything works smoothly and in harmony, in accordance with Divine Will, Wisdom and Law. Therefore, for the purpose of holding this position, the selected Master must be an expert in working with all Lumas and their qualities, which when combined merge into the White Light - the Light of the Source.

Mahaohan has a retreat called the Temple of Consolation above Sri Lanka. Here are anchored the Radiant iles of the White Flame Source, procured by the angels of the White Fire and the Flame of Consolation, procured by the angels of the Serpent Plame. From here the essence of the Source is concentrated and distributed for the planet and all life forms.

The symbol of the Temple is a white dove and the flames represent the combined male / female aspect of God and also indicate that all twin flames are indeed Divine Sparks from the One True Flame.

Mahaohan is able to diffuse his consciousness to hold and preserve the Divine Spark within every sentient being on Earth until they are able to do so themselves. He ignites the triple flame in everyone at birth and after death returns the Divine Spark to the Higher Self of the given person. He oversees our life initiations that open us to God's gift of wisdom; knowledge; beliefs; healing; speech; introduction; and clairvoyant abilities, including receiving, sensing and understanding messages and information from a range of dimensions other than our own. In addition, ours teaches about trust, balance and making conscious choices and the importance of the heart center in our development and growth. As the supreme Master of the Lus, he also guides our use of the colored Lus to bring balance, control and wholeness to our lives, showing us how to channel them through the heart and thus helping us in the process of clear cooperation and expression through enlightened wisdom. It also helps us to ground and contain the many diverse and new Luas that are being brought to Earth in these times of great change.

Mahaohan has this message for you: Be kind to yourself and others as you roam the world gently. You watch the miraculous rainbow of life that surrounds you and appreciate the energies that surround your being. Take each step carefully, leaving no trace for the physical eye that you have passed. Embrace the beauty that surrounds you, for this is the form that I have chosen to wear in the dry season - and my heart beats gently beneath the surface. Take some time to sit in quiet contemplation of your place here on this planet, in this Universe, at this point in time. Take your consciousness to the flames of Spirit in your Heart and then connect your soul to me through the fabric of the Earth beneath your feet. Embrace the slow, peaceful rhythm of my breath and ignite the sacrificial surrender to the Creator for all your Blessings; for each day that passes and for the things that fuel your life and for the unique and wonderful opportunities you have to live, learn and grow. Then allow your awareness to expand and allow me to support and guide your thoughts as they arise, without attachment or fear. Veas are changing within and around you as the world evolves, but don't be afraid of the changes you see. I change just like you and like all things. Energy is never still, but always in motion and in the process of adaptation, because transformation is the name of the game. And from the coil that preserves my dried form, a beautiful moth will soon emerge, ready to fly joyfully into the sky. Will you join me? Will you be ready to go through the turmoil and uncertainty of change to join me in soaring high into another existence? I think so, because that is your need, your goal and your highest reality. So take a deep breath; take my hand - and they will also be ready to take off.

Saint Germain

The name Saint Germain comes from the Latin meaning "Holy Brother". He was until recently the fang of the Seventh Lú, and this role has now been taken over by Master Rakoczy, although Saint Germain still maintains a connection with and directs this Lú. Saint Germain remains the guardian of the Violet Luo of Transfiguration, who works with the Violet Light and the Violet Flame, and is also the guardian of the Flame of Freedom. He and his twin flame, Lady Portia, maintain and guard the balance of Liberty and Justice for us through the bridge and gift of God's Grace. Germain's primary role now is Mahaohan work, where he acts as a bridge to open up the Higher Lua to humanity and Earth on our Ascension Path. In connection with the entire Angel Hosts, he is the representative of the 12 Solar Hierarchies, directly leading the 1st division and the lessons delivered through the constellation of Aquarius. She and Mistress Portia have a retreat in the Ethereal Realm known as the "Cave of Light" above the northern mountains of India. Their magic crystal is Amethyst - this kame holds the violet flame and is the kame of the Alchemist and the Aquarian Age.

Sananda (Jesus / Yeshua)

Lord Sananda is the Beloved Son of God the Mother/Father of Creation who was commissioned to bring the Christ Consciousness or Sonship of God here on Earth. He is known as Jesus Christ during his mission 2000 years ago at the beginning of the age of Pisces. He is known as Sananda Kumara in the higher dimensions and on the Ashtar Command. He resides on Ashtar's main starship and provides Ashtar with spiritual guidance for the fulfillment of God's Plan. Sanand Kumar's name is the name of his Higher Self, just as we have the names of our Higher Selves.

Sananda is the Christ Uite for this Universe and Planet Earth and stands in the Ele of the Collective Christ, which consists of the Ashtar Command, the Galactic Command, the Intergalactic Command (now collectively known as the Solar Star Command), the Ascended Masters of Light, All Angels and Orders of Light, and all Christ souls in humanity and brings the program of Mother/Father God for the salvation (liberation) of the Earth.

The authorization to use the name Sananda was given to Sister Thedra when Jesus Sananda appeared to her in Yucatan and instantly healed her of cancer. Jesus spoke to Sister Thedra "My name is Esu Sananda Kumara", thereby revealing not only his Higher Self but also his relationship with Sanat Kumara of Venus and the 144,000 Kumaras of Venus. These original 144,000 souls of Light were needed to re-anchor and sustain the Christ Vibration for Earth until the full Return of the Christ Vibration after 2012.

In addition, he allowed his picture to be taken.

Until recently, Sananda was the firebrand of the sixth Lú and served as the World One Thank you. Although he retains some influence on the 6th Lua, the Lua of idealism and devotion, in the present he works through Mahaohan to bring enlightenment to Earth so that the Higher Lua can be manifested and anchored here. His ethereal retreat is located above the North Pole, where he is also the guardian of the Inner Earth.

Like many masters, he spent his life on Earth and influenced the birth and development of world religions. Past lives include Melchizedek (the Abrahams), Enoch (when he was overshadowed by Melchizedek and influenced by Metatron to formulate the "Kúe Enoch" - a set of spiritual rules similar to the Ten Commandments), Yeshua and Zend (Zoroaster's father).

His most famous life was Jesus Christ, where he was overshadowed during the last three years of that life by Lord Maitreya, who led the Office of Christ and was the leader of the Great White Brotherhood.

Yeshua was a man of flesh and blood who received his Christ Self through outside intervention. He did not achieve enlightenment in a natural way, but by an infusion of Christ's energy from the future. He agreed to this task before he took this life. He agreed to be overshadowed by Jesus' presence as an act of service. Jesus, his future Self from the realms of Light is one with the Christ energy, but he does not represent all of the Christ energy here on Earth because that energy contains more than Jesus. He is one of her aces, or cells. Christ's energy (it is a field of energies rather than person) is a collective energy that has many aspects that work together as a whole. We could call these aspects of Christ energy angels or archangels. They have a sense of individuality and at the same time feel at one with collective energies and are good at their service.

Jesus was energy from another dimension and brought with him the elevated energy of this reality. His awareness of his own Higher Self remained intact during his incarnation on Earth, how could Yeshua realize the flexibility of material laws and "work miracles". In the spheres of Light from which Jesus came, it was felt that the Earth had gone in a direction that would end in eternal darkness and self-alienation of the souls who joined the earthly experiment. It was decided that a powerful impetus for change would be given that would clearly show human beings the possibilities available to them. By sending the energy of the personality of Jesus, the Masters of Light wanted to hold up a mirror to human beings and remind them of their own divine origin and the hidden possibilities that they carry within.

Possibilities of Peace, Freedom and Mastery over each other. An important purpose of his arrival was the awakening of the souls of Lightworkers on Earth. Lightworkers are actually Ambassadors of Light with the same mission as Jesus.

The difference is that during their incarnation in the physical body they are burdened with karmic burdens and illusions from the earthly plane and must achieve enlightenment in a natural way.

The energy of Christ that he came to offer us comes from the collective energy that crossed the world of duality. This means that she knows the opposites of good and evil, light and dark, give and take, as aspects of one and the same energy. To live from the consciousness of Christ means that there is no struggle with Him. There is only complete acceptance of reality. This lack of resistance or struggle is his main lip. Since Christ (or Christ energy) recognizes the extremes of thought, feeling, etc. as the manifestation of the one divine energy, there can be no duality or judgment in the way it experiences reality.

2.12 Buddhas and Bodhisattvas

There are innumerable Buddhas in Heaven who emanate from Abibuddha, the self-radiating, self-arising primordial Buddha, before whom nothing was done.

Buddha is a term that means that a master has achieved Buddha consciousness and full union with the three higher bodies – I AM the Christ, I AM the Presence and the Causal Body. Buddhists call these levels Nirmanakaya, Sambhokaya and Dharmakaya.

There are many masters in heaven, and also some unascended ones who have attained Buddhahood. In the list below, you will find masters who are known for their role and service to life as Buddhas, although they may also hold other offices in the spiritual hierarchy. We also honor the masters who have accepted the sub bodhisattva, even if their service in this asti is not described. Many masters who work with the evolution of the Earth are bodhisattvas and have fought to stay with the Earth until the last work of God becomes spiritually free and Ascends to the Light.

Five Dhyani Buddhas

The Five Dhyani Buddhas are heavenly Buddhas of immense power, supernatural beings who are channels of cosmic divine forces. They work together like a mandala and bring us the mastery of the secret Lus in the secret chamber of the heart. They come to help us overcome five poisons with special spiritual antidotes.

Buddha Vairoana brings us the all-pervading wisdom of dharmakaya in our higher self to digest the poison of ignorance. His name means "he who is like the sun" and his mantra is Om Vairoana Om.

Buddha Akšobya gives us a mirror wisdom that destroys hatred in all its forms. His name means "unmoved or unshaken" and his mantra is Om Akshobya Hum.

Buddha Ratnasambhava personifies the sage of equanimity to help us overcome the poison of spiritual, intellectual and human pride. His name means "jewel-born" and his mantra is Om Ratnasambhava Tram.

Buddha Amitabha floods us with refined truth that digests the poisons of passion, lust, lust, greed and lasciviousness. His name means "The Untamed Light" and its mantra is Om Amitaba Hrih.

Buddha Amoghasiddhi imparts the all-realizing wisdom, the wisdom of the perfect self, which digests the poisons of envy and jealousy. His name means "all-powerful conqueror" and his mantra is Om Amoghasiddhi Ah.

The spokesperson for the five Dhyani Buddhas is Vajrasattva, who is the amalgamation of all their qualities. The name Vajrasattva means "diamond nature" and anchors in us the diamond spirit of God, which overcomes fear, delusion and disbelief in God.

He is enshrined in a lotus in the secret chamber of our heart as a golden buddha. Vajrasattva serves in the karmic council where he anchors the wisdom and help of all the Dhyani Buddhas. His mantra is Om Vajrasattva Hum.

Buddha of Ruby Luo

The Buddha of Ruby Lu has attained the high mastery of Divine Love. It remains in the heart of the Earth and has been there since the time of Shambhala. It embraces the core of the planet with unconditional love until they incarnate into warm love so that they can maintain that spiritual balance through their own efforts.

Many of the Ruby Lua angels serve with the Ruby Lua buddha and help us overcome the pitfalls of harmful lifestyles, including poor diet, harmful music, and entrainment of the mind by entities. These fiery angels maintain a cavern of ruby light in the heart of the Earth beneath the Royal Teton Range in Montana, on the border of Yellowstone National Park.

Lord Maitreya

Lord Maitreya is known as the Coming Buddha and the Great Initiate. In the spiritual hierarchy, he holds the office of Cosmic Christ and Planetary Buddha. He is the protector of the Earth from Venus and the successor of Guatama Buddha as the Cosmic Christ since January 1, 1956. During a ceremony at the Royal Teton retreat, Guatama Buddha assumed the office of Lord of the World, led by Sanat Kumara. Ke Sanat Kumara left office, returned to Venus.

Maitreya has a retreat above Tientsin in China and also in the Himalayas from where he observes the potential changes of the Earth. It traces the activities of fallen angels and how they are balanced by the incarnate Christs.

Maitreya is the patron of twin flames and initiates souls on the path of personal Christhood. He was a disciple of Jesus and consecrated him for the crucifixion and resurrection. He was also the Guru and Presence of God in the Garden of Eden, which was actually the Great White Brotherhood's mystery school in Lemuria. Lord Maitreya teaches us the kindness and compassion of the Bodhisattva Path. He restored the school of mysteries on the inner levels to Rani Royal Teton, where she initiates souls in overcoming the false ways of the fallen who seduced Eve. His bond is manifested towards the children of God, they follow the path of personal Christianity in the footsteps of Jesus and are blessed with the completeness of spiritual renewal.

Manjushri

Manjushri is an ancient Buddha who is known as the Bodhisattva of Wisdom and the patron of the arts, science, communication and astrology. His name means "sweet praise" in Sanskrit. As a master of clarity and Lord of the universe, Manjushri teaches us how to unite with the mind of God and how to achieve greater effectiveness in our implementation of the World. We can also call him to help develop our wisdom and understanding of the scriptures. Manjushri gives us the motivation of purposefulness, effective planning and accelerated action. It helps us overcome stress by learning to do things in God's way and not in man's way. As we engage in accelerated service, it helps us find balance by showing kindness. Manjushri also helps us overcome the patterns of self-judgment instilled in us from the fallen and endows us with a sense of humor that protects us from taking ourselves and our problems too seriously. His mantras propel us beyond the illusion of duality into the reality of our True Self.

They strengthen us in our mission of beacons for the Earth and give the gift of enlightenment to many.

Padma Sambhava

Padma Sambhava is the founder of Tibetan Buddhism, in the lineage of the ancient Buddhas Sanat Kumara, Guatama Buddha, Lord Maitreya and Jesus. His name means "born of the lotus". Padma Sambhava sent Guatama Buddha to be an incarnation of the Buddha so that all beings can hope to become

By the Buddha. During his lifetime, he initiated Yeshe Tsogyal and a circle of twenty-four disciples into the mysteries and scriptures of his teachings. He predicted that these twenty-four disciples would reincarnate as tertons in future ages to discover, interpret and reveal these esoteric treasures.

The golden mantra of Padma Sambhava Om Ah Hum Vajra Guru Padme Siddhi Hum is used to ward off eternal darkness. When it is repeated thirty-three times, it initiates the ascent of the soul into the secret chamber of the heart. In particular, however, it will extend our love to the most intense anger, hatred, pride, passion, desire, fear, death, and darkness projected against the inner Buddha, and help us defeat these energies.

Padma Sambhava teaches us the Way of serving life to carry the light of Christ v preparation for our Ascension. It initiates us on the spiritual path until we are able to fully abide in the presence of Christ, without offending the master or being offended by the master. It helps us to shed our soul of animosity, resentment and bitterness towards life, transforming these emotional and mental attitudes into forgiveness, love and an appreciation for the opportunities that life provides. Uí gives us freely so that we can fulfill the Great Law and expand our auric field. It also encourages us to call upon the violet flame every day so that many souls may receive spiritual support and reversal from the transformation of their karma records .

Mother of the World

Mother Sveta, who gives birth to Buddhas, is a timeless office in the hierarchy. She is the Mother of all Buddhas who comes to renew the mother flame on Earth through each and every one of her children. Her mantra Gate Gate Paragate Parasamgate Bodhi Svaha leads us beyond enlightenment.

2.13 Karmic Council

The Lords of Karma, also called the Ancient Karmic Council, are eight Ascended Masters whose role it is to help judge humanity's karma in the most effective and compassionate way. These eight beings are mediators between the perfection of the law and the imperfection of the human condition.

The Lords of Karma judge the cycles of individual karma, group karma, national karma and world karma. Every day they weigh the balance of energy use by the body as it affects the spiritual ecosystem of the planet within the solar system and galaxy. These great beings always apply the law in a way that gives them the best opportunity for spiritual progress. When the spirals of negative karma can no longer be sustained and it is necessary to release them into the Earth as a solution, Ascended Master Cuzco and his team of scientists will do everything in their power to mitigate the violence of destruction. When humanity invokes the violet flame in sufficient measure, karma and its destructive effects can be transmuted to a great extent before it reaches the physical plane, with no mitigation potential.

The Karmic Council helps each soul in cooperation with its own Powerful I AM Presence and the Holy I Christ, determines when, where and in which family the soul will incarnate. All souls appear before the Karmic Council before and after each incarnation on Earth. Before entering the incarnation, they receive a life mission, which they have to complete, together with a review of the karmic allocation from previous lives, which they must balance in their new life.

After the change of the so-called fate, the souls again appear before the Karmic Council to evaluate their life, as described so well by the person who survived the near-death experience, Dannion Brinkley, in the quoted interview: When you go down that tunnel into the bright and beautiful light, you will meet the Spiritual Being. After the tunnel, you step out of your body and realize that you are an energetic being. We all think that we are such poor, poor, little people who are trying to have a mystical experience - when in reality we are great, wonderful, powerful spiritual beings who are trying to have a human experience. You will come to a place where you can see your whole life in front of you in a 360-degree panorama. You won't miss her. You are observing your birth. Then you observe your life from the other person's point of view. You literally become every person you've ever met and feel the direct effects of your interactions with that person. You have a chance to forgive yourself. You will evaluate your life as if you were the person who was affected by your behavior. I had to feel the pain I caused others and the damage I did, physically, mentally and emotionally. But guilt has nothing to do with it. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you, for indeed you are them."

When the soul has balanced enough karma and successfully fulfilled its dharma (holy work), the Karmic Council decides that it deserves Ascension to the Light. Karmic The Council also intervenes that the soul has created vea of negative karma, life after life, in rebellion against God, that it must be examined before the Court of the Sacred Fire in Syria and consumed by the Horse Light. This event, known as the second death, although tragic, is in fact an eternal mercy of the law for a soul no longer able or willing to compensate for its karma.

2.14 Manu and the Corean Races

For a time longer than our historical records, the Earth has been home to life and civilizations. Since its creation, God has sent waves of souls to Earth for training and to fulfill God's established plan and archetypal pattern. It was God's intention that souls evolve in ace and space with their twin flame and gain mastery in the orderly ace cycle, before ascending to Higher Consciousness as Christ and Divine-free Beings. Each new wave of souls that came to Earth stemmed from the sealed Luo of God consciousness. These waves of souls are called

The Kore Races and are overseen by the Being of Light, which with its Divine complement serves the Father/Mother God for that Kore Race. They are Manu, which means Ancestor in Sanskrit. Manu anchors the Christ formula for the souls under their care and protection.

The first Kore Race was sent from the Blue Luo of God's Power and Protection.

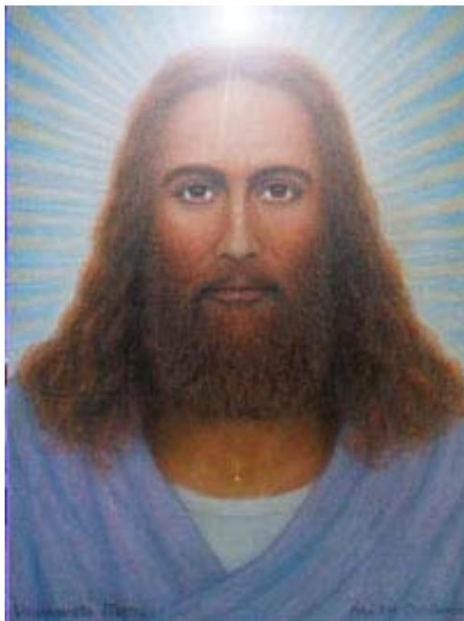

Above all, these souls anchored the vibration of government and goodwill. The second The Kore Race was sent from the Yellow Wolf of God's Wisdom and the souls were anchored by the Flame of God's Enlightenment. The Third Korean Race was born from the Pink Lua of Divine Love and anchored this vibration on Earth. These three Korean Races have all Ascended.

The first two races had twelve thousand years of time and space before they ascended home to God. The fall of the angels took place at the very end of the third Korean race. Due to the damage that occurred, it took 17,000 years for the entire third Korean race to ascend, but they succeeded. However, in the era of the fourth Korean race, the influence of the fallen angels was so prevalent that almost every soul was ensnared, which manifested as devastation in the cosmic ace plane. The souls of the fourth race came to anchor the white halo of light on Earth, and the fallen longed for this Light. The fourth race incarnated four and a half million years ago, and today some of these souls are still incarnated.

Mr. Himalaya

Manu of the fourth Race is Lord Himalaya, hierarch of the retreat of the Blue Lotus in the Himalayan mountains. Himalaya is the master of masters who, together with his incarnated twin flame, anchors the male Lu of the Fatherhood of God for the planet. Himalaya teaches telepathy through meditation. Those who sit at his feet and merge their consciousness with that of Lord Himalaya become one with his triple-flame pattern. Through this Unity, they will receive his image and mantra, which will help them reveal their God's plan. Its radiance is like golden snow and anchors the Christ consciousness in the Himalayas, thus securing the waters of the Ganges. The Himalayas teach us peace and the inner voice of God, the miracle of grace, the majesty of peace, the power found in the age of silence, stillness in the eye of the storm and the light of the heart. Cutting out of Nirvana, he tries to bring the flames of divine enlightenment to the world and unite the traditions of the East and the West.

Vaivasvata Manu

Vaivasvata is the Manu of the fifth Kore Race, the souls who focus on the green meadow of God's healing and truth, many of whom have not yet ascended. His name means "born of the Sun" in Sanskrit. His seclusion in the Himalayas draws the souls of the fifth Korean race, and his love for Manu is so eternal that it frees them from everything that opposes their divine destiny. Vaivasvata serves to strengthen the antahkarana sie of light and asks us to invoke the revelation of its pattern to strengthen the pattern of our divine destiny, especially when we feel alone, separated, misunderstood or slandered. His twin flame also remains in physical embodiment.

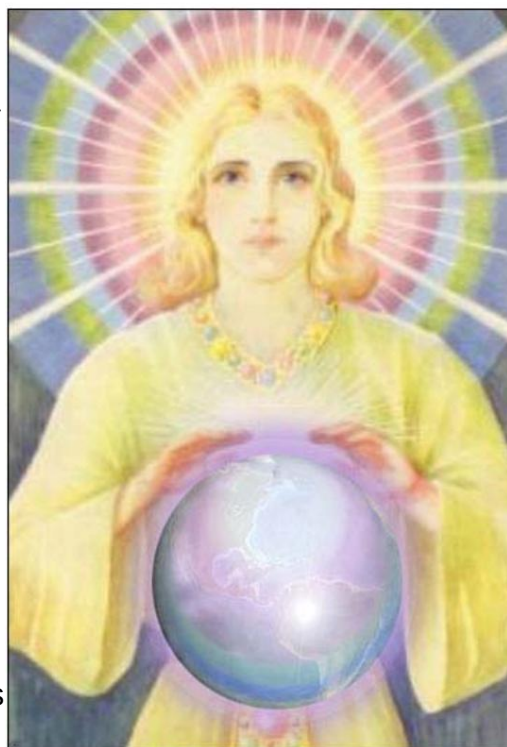

Mr. and Mrs. Meru

Lord and Lady Meru, whose ethereal retreat is above Lake Titicaca, are Manu of the sixth Korean race. This is the latest pattern of souls predestined to reveal the fullness of the sixth purple and gold Divine Lu, which anchors the qualities of care and service. These great Masters of Enlightenment anchor the Mother Flame and Feminine Aspect of God for the entire planet in their seclusion and across the Andes Mountains, creating an arc with the Father Energy seated in the Himalayas. This Mother Flame was withdrawn from the physical octave when the ancient continent of Lemuria sank beneath the Pacific Ocean. They know that God does not curse, but the fallen does. They exhort us to overcome self-condemnation in all its forms so as not to damn our soul out of existence. They also encourage us to refrain from negative suffering with others and explain that this spiritual point of vulnerability caused the downfall of the Inca civilization. They remind us that God is a consuming fire fully capable of dissolving and transforming sin.

Mr. and Mrs. Meru also have the patronage of the Christian education of children and youth through the methods of traditional education, which accelerates the innate potential of every child that begins in the mother's womb.

Ancient Divine Rule

The Ancient Divine Ruler is a cosmic being who is the Manu of the coming seventh Race of Korea, predestined to incarnate in South America as the model of the souls of freedom and purple lua. The Great Divine Ruler merged his consciousness with the cosmic cycles of God's plan for countless universes. In Hindu tradition, he is known as the elephant god Ganesha, the remover of obstacles, who is the son of Shiva and Parvati and the brother of Kartikeya (Sanat Kumara). He serves in the Karmic Council and on the line of twelve solar hierarchies. His causal body surrounds the entire planet in a blue sphere. The Ancient God Guide maintains a retreat known as the Cave of Light in India. He is also known as Master R from his joint retreat with Saint Germain in the Carpathians of Transylvania, Romania: the Manor of the House of Rakocza and the Temple of the Maltese Cross. When you call upon the Great Divine Director, you gain a fresh understanding of God's direction in your life. This master will help you know your God's plan, especially in his name you will invoke the purple flame of freedom.

2.15 From other Stars and Worlds

The entire Cosmos is full of beings of Light evolving at various levels of consciousness in many octaves of the celestial world. Other planetary homes and star systems are the home of these extraterrestrial life, and the immense beauty of the body of God is beyond the reach of our scientific equipment. Beings of the ancient Light help the Earth from other stars, especially from the God-star Sirius, from the Pleiades and our twin star Venus.

Solar logos

Sirius is the spiritual axis of our galaxy and our original home of Light, where our spiritual parents reside. On Sirius there are cosmic beings known as the Solar Logos, or Solar Lords, who transmit the Light from the Great Central Sun to the planetary systems.

Surya

From Sirius also comes Surya, the cosmic being who rules the immense power of the Star of God for the benefit of evolution on Earth. His flame is a deep blue with a hint of white. Surya has been worshiped in the Hindu tradition as the Sun God, and his presence is invoked through the Gayatri mantra. Surya is traditionally depicted seated on a lotus in a golden chariot drawn by seven komi, on which he crosses the sky. Surya is also involved with Jesus in the judgment of fallen angels. It is possible to call him for any problem that seems insurmountable. Surya is said to be the father of Vaivasvata Manu.

Cuzco

The Surya monk is Cuzco, who leads a retreat in Viti Levu where they work Ascended Master scientists day and night to avert the calamities and destructive changes of the Earth that are the result of human karma and the release of negative energy. Cuzco promotes the revelation of our Christ consciousness and we can call upon him to fill our hearts with the complete consolation of the Holy Spirit and the impetus for resurrection.

Mighty Blue Eagle

Also from Sirius comes the Mighty Blue Eagle, an assembly of blue lightning angels who help Archangel Michael protect the children of God.

The mighty Blue Eagle is a huge chic who lights up the sky and every feather of his is an angel of blue flame. These angels come to guard, judge darkness, and strengthen the transmuting work of the purple flame angels. We can call upon these angels to stand by us twenty-four hours a day and announce our service to the Light. These angels are almost physical and their presence is almost palpable.

Spirit of Selflessness

The Spirit of Selflessness is a cosmic being originating from the Great Central Sun, which also resides in the Sun beyond the Sun of our own being. He gives us selfless, spiritual, divine love. The less self-conscious we are, the more we can merge with God. It helps us transform our selfishness into Divinity while maintaining the uniqueness of our Divine Flame.

Leadbeater writes about this transformation in The Inner Life: While the hunter is the center of his own circle, he constantly makes the mistake of thinking that he is the center of everyone else's circle. He constantly assumes that in everything they say or do, they are somehow thinking of him, or aiming their remarks at him. If the center of his circle is the Lord and all his energies are focused on the service of the Lord, he does not have the slightest tendency to depression. Ovea is more eager for the work he can do. As he develops, his circle will widen, and finally there will come a time when his circle will be of infinite extent, and then in a sense he himself will again be its center, for he has identified himself with the Logos, which is the center of all possible circles, for every point is also the center of a circle whose radius is infinite.

OmriTas

OmriTas is the ruler of the purple planet, a planet that got that name because its inhabitants invoked the purple flame of God's freedom until their planet was changed from very desperate conditions, similar to and worse than what we experience on Earth today. The purple flame was invoked by some with such intensity that it washed away the fallen angels and the darkness they caused until the planet was able to survive.

Alley to the Golden Age.

Across the planet, 144,000 evils guard the violet flame on thousands of altars, and the entire atmosphere is saturated with violet flame. The inhabitants of this planet use the violet flame in a similar way as we use electricity to wash and beautify and secure their homes.

OmriTasa and 144,000 kaz can be called upon at any time to release an intense act of purple flame for the benefit of humanity. OmriTas carries such an intensity of violet flame in its aura that it actually extends to a greater distance than the size of the Earth. OmriTas multiplies all our invocations of the violet flame many times with special gifts and gifts from his causal body.

Join us every evening for ten minutes of purple flame invocations and mantras and see what miracles we can achieve here on Earth.

Sanat Kumara and Lady Master Venus

Sanat Kumara and Lady Venus are the hierarchs of Venus. Venus and Earth were created as twin flame planets, binary stars, and share a common destiny.

At the lowest point in Earth's history, when the Earth would have dissolved because it could no longer contribute to the Light and harmony of the Music of the Spheres, Sanat Kumara offered to come along with 144,000 devotees to maintain the spiritual balance and rekindle the triple flame in the hearts of her souls. Lady Master Venus, the beautiful Divine Mother of love maintained balance on Venus.

The planet Venus is the focus of love for our solar system, like the planet of heart acres for our planetary system. The civilization on Venus is developing in the Golden Age at a higher level of the etheric octave. We have many brothers and sisters there, friends of the Light and souls whom we have known for ages.

In Hindu tradition, Sanat Kumara is known as Karttikeya, the son of Shiva and Parvati and brother of Ganesha.

2.16 Angel Hosts of Light

Angels are the dreams of the oldest divine evolution. They were created as hoses of God's consciousness long before the Christian evolution, the result of which is the man.

The word angel means messenger, from the Greek angelos. Angels are evolving into ever greater levels of consciousness, service and responsibility. As angels advance on the archangel's step, they receive the gift of free will.

Many angels are incarnated in human form and reign among us. Some remember their divine reality, but most do not because they have accumulated vea karma. During the Great Rebellion, Lucifer and a third of the angels fell to lower levels consciousness. They were eventually banished from the etheric plane by Michael and his angels to the physical and astral planes, where they waged war against the newly created Christ evolution on Earth and other planets. At the time of the fall, many angels voluntarily incarnated in order to save their fallen siblings and contribute to the Christ evolution. Some managed to return home to God through Ascension, while many others are still here.

There are nine angelic choirs in heaven, and each choir occupies a special place in the spiritual hierarchy. In Kabbalah, each chorus corresponds to a sefirah or emanation (radiation) of God's consciousness on the Tree of Life. As we descend the Tree of Life from spirit to matter, we also descend through the angelic hierarchy. The highest choir of angels are the Seraphim. They are assigned the color white, which preserves the certainty of God. In the Kabbalah, the Seraphim are assigned to the Sefirah Keter. another choir of angels is the Cherubim with a pink color that carries the vibration of God's immense love. In Kabbalah they are assigned the Sefira Chokma. The third choir of angels are the Thrones. They are angels of justice who carry God's decisions. In Kabbalah they are assigned the Sefira Bina. The fourth choir of angels are the Dominions. They determine the fate of nations. In Kabbalah they are assigned the Sefira Hesed. The fifth choir of angels are Powers. Their job is to protect the world from the intrusion of demons. They also accompany souls to Heaven after the death of the body. It was the first order of angels that God created. In the Kabbalah, the Sefira Gevura belongs to them. The sixth choir of angels is the Virtues. They are known as angels of miracles, support and blessings, giving mercy and helping those who struggle with their faith. In Kabbalah they are assigned the Sefira Tiferet. The seventh choir of angels are the Princes, who are considered protectors of religions, nations and world leaders. In Kabbalah, the Sefira Netzah is assigned to Princes. The eighth choir of angels are Archangels, angels who are supposed to serve God. They bring the news of God and command the heavenly armies in the fight against evil and other fallen angels. In the Kabbalah, the Sefira Hod is assigned to the Archangels. Archangel Michael is the leader of the seven archangels who serve on the seven thrones of God - Michael, Jofiel, Chamuel, Gabriel, Raphael, Uriel and Zadkiel. The ninth choir of angels are the Angels or Hosts of Angels, who are closest to humanity and help us in every aspect of life. These will initiate our guardian angels. In Kabbalah they are assigned the Sefira Yesod.

Angels and Earth

For most of humanity, the reality of this planet Earth is the material 3rd dimension. Like our material bodies, the material body of the Earth is built on templates that exist in many other dimensional realities. At the time of the "potion" of the Earth, many supporting energetic foundations were given, so that the Earth aspect of God's Plan could take over. The Angels participated in this by anchoring aspects of their Being in various places in the evolving energy field of the Earth to enable and support its growth and the growth of all sentient life that was to evolve here. The original place of being of Angels is 7th dimensional reality: their anchor points for Earth were placed in the 5th dimensional reality of her energy field, creating a bridge or access point between human and angelic dimensional reality. So when we say that the angel retreat is in the ether "above" the territories mapped on our 3rd dimensional material world, we are referring to a "place" in the Higher Dimensional reality that was created to support the resonance or frequency in the ace when the Earth manifests as physical being. These resonances have existed for as long as the Earth has existed and have adequately influenced many cultures and civilizations that have evolved on the planet, not just those that inhabit the territories within their sphere of influence.

Angelic Light is always given with compassion, it radiates constantly to bring Divine Light to all sentient beings, so that each may awaken and recognize the gifts brought by this Light. As we travel to these places in the material world on Earth in the 3rd dimension, we will be exposed to a greater intensity of this Light and can perceive their influence and energies more closely. However, we can only visit or "see" their retreats in the 5th (or higher) dimensional Realm when we connect with them through our higher dimensional bodies, not our 3rd dimensional bodies. So we can only reach them by wandering in our Soul bodies (Light bodies) or through visualization when we "tune in" to other realities. Physical travel is not necessary!

Archangel and Archeia

Angels were first created as created sparks of the Godhead. Angels are certain unified energies that play roles across all planes and dimensions of reality, just as we are mere aspects of the Divine striving to remember who we are and unite with our True Self. He could therefore most simply see each Angel simply as an aspect of the Unified Reality, just as our body is a complete life form, and yet is composed of many organs and systems, each of which has a specific function in order for that physical body to exist.

Each angelic aspect has two polarities that are necessary for the full expression of their Light. We describe them as male and female: the twin flames of the One Plame. It is beautifully depicted in the shape of a loop of infinity: one form and yet with two sides. The Cross Point depicts their True Unified Essence; the farther from it we go on each side, the greater is the influence of the male or female polarity. The male polarity of the archangels is denoted by the word Archangel and the female polarity is denoted by the word Archeia. It is not possible to explore the Archangels without the Archaea because the feminine aspect begets the masculine spiritual aspect on the Earth plane and thus brings us both lessons and their understanding on the physical plane. Archeia acts as a bridgehead between humanity and the Higher Realms of Spirit and God. At this time, there is a great need for access to these realms and manifest them on Earth and this can truly be achieved through working with these energies of the feminine aspects, the Archeaim - the Divine Complements of the Archangels.

Archaeon

In 2007, some Archangels "stepped up" from their previous roles (call it angelic ascension if you like) and now bear the title of Archaeon. They required a new title to emphasize the fact that there had been a change in their energies as well as their field of responsibilities. As Archaeons, they exist as Unified Beings of Light, in complete union of their male and female aspects. They have always been linked in consciousness across legions of Archangels, but since their full unification, their Collective Group Consciousness has been greatly strengthened, so that they essentially act as a true Unified Being.

From now on, when we refer to the male or female aspect and give that specific name the title of Archaeon (eg Archaeon Michael), we attract this United Aspect (Michael and Faith) in their new energy form. If we wish to summon a distinctly masculine aspect of a new energy form (e.g. Michael), we use the title Archon; and if we wish to summon only the female aspect (e.g. Mrs. Faith), we will use the title Archaea. If we summon Archaeon without specifying his name, we get them all as a single Unified Consciousness!

It should be realized that what is really important is not their title itself, but how we understand or create a relationship with the energy we want to connect with. That means we can call them whatever we want (I usually use the title anyway) and we mean it. Names and titles just help us organize things in our minds. When we understand them as pure energy and call them simply by transferring this energy signature into the mind, we understand why names and titles mean so little to those who exist as Bodies of Light!

This progression from Archangel to Archaeon heralded that some of us were being asked to rise up and take responsibility for some of the roles previously held by the Archaeons in their old role as Archangels. This does not mean that we will become Michael / Raphael etc., but that we as Light Bearers and Light Workers and Warriors of the Light of the Earth have reached the age where we must accept and take responsibility for our planet and humanity that the Archangels have carried on our behalf while we are we have grown through the ages that have passed. Our planet and our destiny is now fully in our own hands - we are the ones who must make the decisions and take responsibility for the future of our planet and the generations of humanity to come. However, we are not abandoned - our loving Archangelic "parents" are still with us to provide support and guidance when we ask for it, but the dreamer may now see them in the role of "parents" rather than "parents".

Those who bear the title of Archaeon have expanded their roles (and therefore their energies) to undertake the supervision/teaching of certain souls who have been or are incarnated so that these souls may be prepared and trained to take on their old Archangel roles and functions. Ascended Master Lord Kuthumi is one of the "returning" Archangels and has taken the name Agrippa. He is one of the new Solar Archangels for the New Age of Humanity, taking on the Golden Lure and some of the duties performed by Skaforiel and Metatron.

Some of the roles and functions performed by the Angelic Realm are not yet ready to be transferred to the Fellowship - the Fellowship is not yet capable of carrying these responsibilities. Therefore, those who retain the title of Archangel still bear sole responsibility within the Angelic Realms for the duties associated with their posts. Although we tend to treasure hierarchical roles or functions from the earthly hose down the chain of command in order of importance or position, an Archaeon is not considered "more/greater" than an Archangel in the Spiritual and Angelic hierarchies.

The title of Archaeon is borne by: Ariel (aspect of Uriel), Azrael, Gabriel, Haniel, Lux'eon, Metatron, Michael, Rafael, Raziel, Skaforiel (and twin flame Serafiel), and Uriel.

Archon Metatron and Archeia Sofia

Metatron is one of the Ruling Prince Seraphim; Rector of Heaven; A scribe who writes down the words of God and is sometimes known as the King of Angels. In the heavenly hierarchy, it stands at the head of the Archeons and has the highest vibration of them. His name comes from the "on" o meaning "old". His name has not been translated, but it may mean "Great Measurer of Light" (metator = one who measures). It must be said that he has a great sense of humor and can be very naughty at times. It's the Cosmic Figliar! He and his Mistress, Sofia – Mistress Vernos, have an etheric Temple of Light above Luxor, Egypt, which was the capital of Ancient Egypt.

He works closely with Master Serapis Bey and the Flame of Ascension in the Temples of Ascension at Giza.

We can match it with pearl white, gold and bronze, but its color is also the velvet of the Void. It is with his realm because he is the Alpha and the Omega - the Beginning and the End, and the Guardian of Prague. He guards the threshold between form and non-form, standing on the opposite side of the bridge like Archaeon Uriel on the Bridge of Light Between the Divine and the Earthly. Beyond him is the Void (the birthplace of all things and the space in which all possibilities reside) of which he is Lord.

Metatron said of the Void: The Gate and the Void are not alien to you—on the contrary, they exist within each of you. This point, this still point, can be reached through meditation and going within.

Only when we co-create our reality in complete harmony with our life goal can we feel complete, at peace and at one with God. To help us with this, Metatron gives us the gift of clear and perceptive thinking, which helps open our minds to a new dimension of consciousness. This guess us it helps sees, recognizes and resolves obstacles on our Path or within our Being and also helps us understand the consequences of all our thoughts, words and others.

Metatron is said to have lived lifetimes in a human body and was said to have been incarnated as Enoch, the ancient Uite, philosopher and visionary who saw the Chariots of Fire and was the source of the materials of the Rod of Enoch. However, that was not his role. Although it is true to say in our descriptive terms that he overshadowed Enoch. He was with him as a guiding Light and influence.

Metatron had no lives in form, he was always an energy being. He was and always will be one and the same. There is no change in this.

But his energies and influence extend far and wide. And so it can happen that there are places and times where we perceive impressions of his energy that are familiar to us.

It's as if he left his mark on those places. Metatron is the darling of God.

He simply stands close to the Creator and carries out His Will to direct humanity to the Path it needs to take in order to complete its journey home.

Metatron is associated with the symbol of the blacksmith's hammer, which represents the shattering of our realities and the subsequent forging of new ones. Consequently, they will take place in the creation of all things, including the Cosmic, Galactic and Planetary systems and social structures in the spiritual world (including the birth of soul groups and all souls).

When things are created, they must evolve to grow and so he also works as an Archaeon of Transition in harmony with Azrael. His power is immense and his presence will increase our consciousness and vibration, so when we work with him we must be fully grounded to absorb all the changes and at the same time confirm the necessity of staying on Earth! He is the Master of creation and work with Light. His energy is smooth, strong, radiant and Irish. But behind his power we find a blissful all-encompassing love: his power is the power of Love, the Power of God.

One of its tasks is to connect us with God's love and open our hearts, because through love all possibilities take form. In order to see ourselves as loving beings, we must remove all illusions and doubts and find the True Self at the very core of our Being.

Metatron works closely in partnership with Achaeon Michael and Lord Melchizedek, overseeing the spiritual evolution of Earth and our Ascension program. He is on the Council of the Sirian Central Sun and oversees the "overlap area" along with Melchizedek and Michael. Metatron is the Gate Keeper and is responsible for sealing the 11:11 gate at the end of 2012 when our Ascension program is finished. He will be the last to leave this plane of Earth, our temple of duality.

Metatron teaches us to fly with him and so that we are not afraid, he allows our consciousness to expand and take us to places we do not know about. It brings great rewards to those who have the courage to enter the abyss with it - for the Void is full of possibilities for those who have the courage to fathom it. For those who are ready to let things flow and surrender completely to God's Will, everything is possible with his help.

Metatron Sofia's female counterpart, Mrs. Vernos, is rarely seen, probably because Matatron is seen and experienced as such an impressive and seemingly complete energy. Sofia's energies appear to be opposite and complementary at the same time. She is powerful and yet gentle; calm and yet fleeting; immutable and yet highly mobile. Its colors are midnight blue with silver.

The name Sofia is related to the words Ain Sof, o means Endless / Boundless Light, to which we compare Father/Mother God. She is the stars of Metatron's Sun, the night of his da, the void for his manifestation. It is as mysterious as it is intimately familiar. She works with extremes, all our polarities are well known to her. It can help us with grounding in the sense of manipulating and working with energy for the purpose of stretching and anchoring it at any point or place where it is necessary.

Archon Azrael and Archeia Magdalena

Archon Azrael is the Angel of Transition and is sometimes known as the Angel of Death. Direction is of course only one state of transition and we experience many transitions in physical and non-physical life as well as transitions and changes within these states. Since he is associated with all transitions, that is, all events of change, he is also the Angel of Akash, the Lord of the Akashic Records and the Angel of Spirit, who observes the state and position of our Spiritual bodies without regard to our form or dimension. As Lord of the Akashic Records, Azrael oversees the recording of our lives and the breakdown of our karmic debts incurred and settled. We note that he himself does not make the records, but each of us (our Higher Self) writes our own Akashic Record, which then helps us plan our future lives and experiences.

Azrael also embodies the Golden Planet and is the patron of all lost souls who go there or are taken there for healing and self-awareness. All who enter this planet can see all their others from all sides.

For some it is the worst punishment they can imagine, for others it is a blessed relief. When they understand and come to terms with the things they have done, they will change and transform back into a state of Grace.

Azrael is also known as Azrail, Izrail, Ishmael, Azreil or Ashrail. As Ishmael, he is the Angel of Ascension and the Guardian of the Gate. His energies were and are united as the guiding consciousness of many Avatars and Founders of World Religions.

He was the guiding influence behind Ishmael, who was behind the founding of Islam, and he was also the guiding influence behind Jesus, who was behind the founding of the Cresent Faith.

The name Azrael means "one who helps God". The colors black and silver are associated with it. His ethereal retreat is located above the black mountains on the border of England and Wales.

Azrael's twin flame and female patron is Archeia Magdalena, Mistress of Milos. She acted as the guiding consciousness of Mary Magdalene, who was Mary of Bethany (a village near Jerusalem) - the name Magdalene is a title that is the feminine version of Master. She was not a prostitute or a prostitute as it is known, but a double minded, kindred soul and partner of Jesus in every way, she shared his teachings and supported his work wherever and whenever she could.

Archea Magdalena carries the Flames of Magdalena, the silver-blue flame of innocence, certainty and love. Ms. Milos is also the Angel of Resurrection, she carries the pearly white flame of resurrection and thus brings new life to bridge physical death and also oversees the leaving of the body and the symbolic burial of our dead human body. As she supports our first steps on the path of Spiritual Endeavor and is with us at every stage of our journey, she is also present to anoint us before our final transformation at the moment of our Ascension. Her Grace, an unceasing flow of God's Love and forgiveness, works hand in hand with Azrael's gift of seed and growth through death and rebirth (transition). Her Grace brings the Power of Forgiveness (both requested and given) for the shedding of all karma and the correction of all mistakes, o is also an important element of the energy of the Golden Planet and her work with lost souls.

Archeia Magdalena says: Love is neutral - it is neither positive nor negative: it is a matter of how you apply it or decide to use it, accept it or reject it. Positive and negative aspects are created as a result of your choices, not by energy itself. There is an infinite amount of love and an infinite flow of it, because God is without limits. When you receive love for yourself or give it to others, you show mercy. Mercy is compassion in otherness. It is an in allowing the fragrant flow of love, without limitations or conditions and without judgment. It allows the neutral energy of Source - God - to flow without hindrance or harm to all beings, so that they can choose when and how they wish to apply it. By being gracious to others, you recognize their Divinity, and their Right as free Beings open to the same flow of infinite Love as you are, and thus you are doubly blessed.

Archangel Sandalphon and Archea Shekina

Archangel Sandalphon is the Ruling Angel and Protector of the Earth and Lord of Music. He also rules the seventh heaven and is known as the Angel of Mercy and the Angel of Prayer. His name can mean Common Brother. Sandalphon carries our prayers and supplications to God and is the guardian of our secret thoughts and wishes. She weaves the prayers of each faith into garlands and wreaths of flowers and then carries them to God to bless them.

The ethereal seclusion of Sandalphon and his female counterpart Shekinah - Mistress of Patience is everywhere on and on Earth. They do not require special focus so that our access to them is not limited or circumscribed. His energy is immense and all-encompassing; her energy is still with us.

Sandalphon is entrusted with anchoring the Light to the Earth and will help us as Light Workers in anchoring the Light to the planet and to our own energy bodies. He is an anchor. It penetrates the body and is anchored in it as a channel of Light energy, keeps things running at the basic level in accordance with God's Plan, and at the same time brings God's Light, supplies everything that is necessary for the purpose of achieving balance, harmony and therefore stability. In his work he associates with the Planetary Logos; Elementals and their Controllers; with all the Virgin Beings and with all the inhabitants of the Inner Earth.

Through Sandalphon, all the secrets of the Earth are accessible when we are ready for them and believe that we are worthy and able to understand them. It asks us to be vigilant and caring in our relationship to the Earth and learn to live in closer harmony with it and take care of the environment. The birth of the Earth into a new dimension of reality will happen without a person's knowledge. How traumatic it will be for those of us who inhabit it is largely up to us, so helping to make this process as smooth and safe as possible is for our benefit.

Sandalphon is said to have incarnated on Earth as the prophet Elijah and was transformed by God into an Archangel. However, this is highly unlikely, not because he couldn't do it, but because his tasks are so closely connected to planet Earth and all the sentient life forms that inhabit it that it would make no sense to limit himself in such a way.

Sandalphon and Metatron are also said to be twin brothers, but this relationship is not in the twin sense as we understand it. In many ways, Sandalphon and Metatron are polar opposites and mirrors of each other, though they share many commonalities – such as a love of humanity and the Earth; joy in serving the Creator; discipline and a sense of positivity and drive to perform the tasks agreed to and assigned to them. They also quite obviously share a similar sense of humor.

Sandalphon's female counterpart is one of the lesser-known Archae, Shekina - Lady Trpezlivos. She is the womb for our consciousness, for our Divine spark, which is the ace of the Source, the ace of Creation. She gives birth to the spirit in a form, so that we can really understand and recognize that we are the ace of God.

Archon Michael and Archeia Michaela

Archaeon Michael is the Prince of Angels, the Prince of Light, the Ruling Prince of the Seraphim, the Ruling Prince of Virtues, the Angel of Liberation and the Prince of the Divine Presence. His name is a form of rhetorical question, meaning "Who is like God?". He is one of the three guardians of the sacred triangle of the Overlap Area, the gateway to our Planetary Ascension. He holds a position of Power that relates to the physical plane. Lord Melchizedek holds the position of Wisdom, which relates to the mental plane, while Metatron holds the position of Love, which relates to the emotional plane. Michael also leads the Angels of Light and the Mea Nosite Legions (Blue Flame Bearers) in a constant battle against the angels of darkness and all negativity. He sits on the Sirian Council of the Galactic Federation with Gabriel and Metatron and works closely with the Asu Lords. It is possible to describe him as Master Ace. The Etheric Temple of Michael and his Divine Complement, the Lady of Faith, is over Lake Louise near Banff, Canada. They have another seclusion over Central Europe. Michael works with the First Luo of Divine Will, Power and Protection, whose color is blue and whose Fire Lord is Ascended Master El Morya Khan. This Lú was the first that Svorite manifested in our etheric bodies through our heart acre, which is our center of communication and where thought becomes word and deed. Michael's energy is certain, powerful, radiant, protective, initiating and empowering. It brings us increased clarity in what we think, act and say, and helps us to be more assertive and have more self-confidence and self-assurance. Michael helps us with the topic of personal Will, showing and encouraging us to harmonize our own Will with God's Will ("I Will Be Yours"). As we become more aware of our personal Power and Will, our ability to provide gentle and loving companionship increases.

When we are afraid, He comes and dissolves doubt and fear, and gently teaches us how to understand and work with this world's underlying theme of duality and the battle between darkness and Light. He is one of the guardians of karma, and he can also help us work with karma and identify any karma and karmic entanglement that we have between us. In his work with us on the first Lúa, he wants us to develop our own strength and will and to recognize, accept and heal our dark sides. In our daily and Spiritual lives, it gives us the strength to stand up and fight for what is Right and Light, and also to know our own Truths and stand up for them. Archaeon Michael says: Truth is what you know in your heart.

Truth is almost like faith in that the truths you have or believe are the foundation of your existence as a dowry spark of Light. Somewhere in the core of your Self, in the very center of your being, you are aware of a set of values or beliefs that form the basis of your entire existence, even in this dimensional plane or another Cosmic reality.

The truth is not from the basic convictions that came from your childhood and learned from the words and actions of others, which you believed as you grew up. Your true beliefs are the ones you were born with and have always carried with you existence after existence, regardless of your upbringing or family choice and circumstances. Truth is not taught or acquired, nor is it taught by others. You can discover the real truth only for yourself and by guessing inside.

Michael is Strength, Desire, etc., softened by Faith and Love. he is often depicted as carrying me, which symbolizes the power of love, and which can set us free by cutting all the bonds that bind us and keep us in prison. His me is surrounded by a silver-blue flame, which we interpret as the Magdalene flame containing the innocent and sure energy of the love of the Divine Source - the flame from the Great Central Sun in the heart of our Universe. Michael tells us that all battles will be won through love. Blue is also the color of the protective energy of his shell, which we can call up whenever we need protection.

The main task of Michael is to secure the atmosphere of the Earth and the aura of the entire humanity from all low thought forms, dissolving everything about it perfect or in the Highest Vibrations. He wants to demonstrate to all receptive people beings a way back to God when they go astray, and there will be no turning back until they are all souls assured. Michael also accepted the role of Protector and Guardian of the community and he does not hesitate in his protection and defense of those who wish to live in the Light. It is devoted to helping all souls who call upon him and will always help any other that is necessary to achieve justice and resolution.

Another symbol representing his energies are the bowl scales, representing Justice. He is also the bearer of the golden Lú Zdroj, which is sometimes possible he sees a glow from his solar plexus or surrounds him like a halo.

The divine complement of Archon Michael is Archeia Michaela, Mistress of Faith. Faith it forms the fabric of the Universe. It is the glue that holds everything together because we are without it Beliefs? Faith is central to everything about us and all others flow from it elements. Faith exists in the certainty and purity of the Light of the Source, because it knows (has faith) that she is God - just as we are. He reaches out and touches our heart with his finger and tells us that God is within. Continues:

a person can choose what he sees in others. He has the ability to see, hear and speak like God and he recognizes that all other sentient beings are like him. Or they may choose to live on the surface, he fights against the differences he sees - which are only superficial. If you could stop, stop judges and looks deeper through the appearance of your fellows, you would see the perfect beauty of yours neighbor and his true God Self, which is a reflection of your own. If you learned this he sees in others and in himself, then you would be whole, healed and perfect and your world would be completely different place.

2.17 Hierarchs of the Elemental Kingdom

Elementals are beings of fire, air, water, and earth who provide eternal service to humanity by serving the forces of nature. Unlike angelic and Christ evolution, elemental evolution evolves into ever denser manifestation. Salamanders, which are fire creatures, evolve into sylphs, which are air creatures. Then the sylphs evolve into undines, which are creatures of water, and the undines evolve into gnomes, which are creatures of the earth element.

Through meritorious service to humanity, gnomes gain the opportunity to receive the triple flame and advance into the Christ evolution, where they incarnate as human beings. They can also move into an angelic evolution where they serve first as fairies.

Compaction of the Earth

The elementals of fire, air, water and earth were created to reflect and expand the joy, beauty and harmony that was innate in nature. During the first three Korean races, the Earth was in fact a translucent gua of Light, clear as a crystal with iridescent hues. As the earth became more and more encumbered with the negative thoughts and feelings of humanity, it was shaped by increasingly coarse matter and took on brown, olive and other colors that do not conduct light.

While in the golden ages the climate was always pleasant subtropical, after a while the elementals discharged the negative energy of humanity through cataclysmic events such as floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, fires, earthquakes and landslides. As elementals naturally fall under the rule of humanity, some have been imprisoned by black mages for great nefarious purposes. We can free these imprisoned elementals by calling on Archangel Michael and Elohim Astrea to set them free.

Purple Flame for Elemental Life

The most important service we can render to the elementals is to invoke the violet flame and resurrection flame for their support. We do this in Jesus' less, in the name of Maha ohana and in the name of the elemental hierarchs. These ascended masters work closely with elemental life and channel spiritual energy to transmute burdens that have been placed upon them, restoring hope for a better tomorrow. We can also request that our animals and other elementals who have shown great service to us be granted the triple flame so that they can get the opportunity for the life. It is possible to include the elementals of our body in this .

immortal

Elementals in Aura

Salamander takes care of our etheric body, life after life. The sylph takes care of our mental body and expresses itself through our thoughts. Undina takes care of our emotional body and expresses herself through our feelings. And the gnome takes care of our physical body and keeps our organs and systems running smoothly. This elemental can be seen in the aura. He or she is about a meter tall and likes to dress like us. The service of the body elemental helps create and maintain a new body life after life. Then, when we make our Ascension at the end of many incarnations, our body elemental receives the triple flame and moves into the Christ evolution.

Until the elementals receive the triple flame, they are the group soul. When the animal dies, we can ask for an elemental to be drawn from the source of the same soul as the previous animal. You will find that even though there are differences in appearance, the new pet will still have a similar personality to the pet that died.

It is important to nurture the elementals of our body. Each elemental seeks to condense through the intense energies and situations in which we engage. This is especially true for our mental and emotional elementals. If we are not careful, our mental elemental will try to force persistent, repetitive thought patterns, and our emotional elemental will force us to experience strong emotional outbursts, including states of depression. These states of mind and feeling animate the elemental essence. Our elementals convince us that we are the ones who think and feel, when in reality we are simply manifesting elemental dependence in the aura.

Disciplining the elementals of our four lower bodies is like learning to ride a horse. We must never forget that we hold the reins. Our duty during life and also after death is to control these elemental desires and not allow them to control us. Let us realize that we are god in the process of creation.

All power and strength in the universe is on our side. We must become like Krishna, the Christ figure who is the perfect charioteer and master of the four lower bodies.

Oromasis and Diana

Oromasis and Diana control the fire salamanders that serve the planet and have a special seclusion in the Berring Sea near Kamatka. These beings work closely with Zarathustra and the evils and evils of the Order of Melchizedek. They initiate us on the path of spiritual Mastery by opening our acres and aligning our four lower bodies with our etheric blueprint. They accelerate and strengthen the innos of any invoked spiritual flame and can even strengthen our triple flame in the secret chamber of our heart. We can also call them to tame all uncontrolled and destructive fires in the name of Christ. The oha beings who serve with Oromasis and Diana are 2.7 meters tall, and rainbows of liquid oha ripple through their auras, reflecting the spectral light of God. They can reduce their size to 2 centimeters, for example, when we light a match. They also carry wands of white fire that channel fire elementals on the physical plane.

Aries and Thor

Aries and Thor control the air sylphs and the atmosphere around the planet, as well as cloud formation. Sylphs are beautiful, graceful, pearly, tuft-like beings endowed with the swagger of a ballerina. When they take on too much human negativity, they release the energy through hurricanes and tornadoes. When angels swarm, they like to create images of these angels in heaven. Sylphs channel prana and Spirit currents of the Holy One between heaven and earth and are present when the breath of life enters the body of a new baby. They are trying to help us become masters of our mental body and thought processes, until our mind mirrors the mind of Christ and our breath is the inflow of the Holy Spirit. We can also call on them to rid the atmosphere of chemtrails and all kinds of harmful pollution.

Neptune and Luara

Neptune and Luara rule the undines of the water element. Undines can be found wherever there is water or sometimes they take on the form of a mermaid. Boards are played in the sea surf, a roaring waterfall and even while taking a shower.

Neptune and Luara rule the Seven Seas, which correspond to the Seven Planes of Being and serve to secure the emotional body of the planet and soul.

Neptune carries a trident as a symbol of the triple flame, which is the power of Christ, with which he draws the immense power of the water elemental. Luara is the Vn Mother who rules the waves and cycles of fertility. Uí us achieve a balance of emotions. We can call upon Neptune and the Loire and the Undines to purify the waters of the Earth down to our drinking water.

As an answer to our prayer, they also calm the seas and bring peace to our emotions.

Proserpina and Pelleur

Proserpina and her divine complement Pelleur are cosmic beings who rule the earth elementals from the center of the earth and are the father and mother of the millions and millions of gnomes who serve the earth during the four spring seasons. Gnomes are gentle and powerful beings created by the Elohim. Their sizes range from seven-centimeter elves to subway dwarves to mighty giants, known as ravens and raven mountains.

Proserpina and Pelleur teach us how to master our physical body and convey the comfort, love and beauty of God through the realm of nature.

In return, we can use the gnomes as a purple flame and invite them to our saints and services of the Light.

Pelleur says: I am

Pelleur, the true Force that holds the Earth in Her place in the Solar System! Now step out of hospitality into the Light and understand that the Earth itself, even with its tilted axis, would not remain in its place, nor would the souls belonging to this planet remain on this small sphere, if it were not for the cohesive force of My Love, which science has decided to call gravitation the power of the earth!

Think about it! When you put your feet in front of each other during an assigned task, human or Divine, if it weren't for the cohesive force that is the power of God's Love under your feet, you would float away into space. Even during the act of cutting, you can be grateful for that cohesive force that we maintain in the center of the Earth, where the Masculine and Feminine Lus of the Beloved Himalaya and the Beloved Meru unite and where the great Spirit of the Cosmic Christ of Peace serves with mine, constantly sustaining the matter of the Earth and radiating from it.

Wednesday to Her edge Love and Light of our Beings. The one

Love is your own substance on which you stand. It is the matter that consists of the chairs you are sitting on. It is this Love that sustains all the Beings that belong to this evolution and have been accepted into this evolution in Earth orbit. It is this Love that accepted again and again and again the exclusions of human life and through kindness transmuted them into certainty and perfection.

Beloved Proserpina speaks of the mischievous nature of the gnomes, I can attest, but where else do they find joy, for most of the time they live beneath the surface of the Earth and perform tasks of transmutation for each spring season to bring forth the Harvest; Think about it! Their service is not complete and utter joy, but it should be heard. They also have causal bodies—miniature bodies—each gnome, sylph, undine, and salamander has a little ribbon of Light which is his own record of the good he has done over the centuries of being. That record will, as in the case of fellowship, be read when positions of greater trust and authority open up in the Elemental Kingdom, there will always be those ready to take them.

So we represent, like those who have gone before us, the Power of Reaching and Expanding.

You know, the Earth breathes. Through her many pores, the Pink Light emanates from her center. Where the Great Depression was caused, the Earth does not breathe for some time. You are witnesses of such things, if not personally, then at least in speech ... about there is ... the sands of the desert, where no moirae grows or dies.

All this is in the process of redemption.

Now take your own bodies...would you take charge of seven billion people who want to use their bodies twenty-four hours a day? I think not. So imagine how we, the Hierarchs of the Elementals, along with our ancient Kingdoms, feel as we patiently give the Life of your very Body, and see it imperfectly used. That is not a sign of kindness or wisdom. I am strong in my efforts to give you that Power which is found in cooperation with the Hierarchs of the Elementals, and then when the situation arose that individuals or any living thing required help, your being, our dear friends, should give that soothing balance, peace and understanding.

It is now, today, that we ask that Peace be created between you and the beings of nature.

Celeste

Celesta had many earthly incarnations before she ascended through the deva evolution. Celesta works closely with the angelic and elemental realms. He urges us to realize the immense help we receive from the elementals. He asks us to show them our love and compassion as we pray that they will be set free and regain their freedom and bond. This we ask in the name of Saint Germain.

2.18 Elohim, Mighty Builders of Form

The Elohim are mighty builders of form from the elemental realm. These great spiritual beings successfully use the creative power of thought, feeling, spoken word and more to manifest and condense the will of God into physical form. The seven Elohim created the Earth.

Hercules and Amazonia

Hercules and Amazonia are Elohim who serve on the First Lua of Divine power, strength and will of action. Their retreat is located above Mount Half Dome in Yosemite National Park. Hercules and Amazonia were the first to accept the opportunity to help Helios and Vesta create the planet Earth from the primordial essence of life.

Every manifestation is preceded by a desire and then a decision and the desire to act.

Hercules, the Elohim of the first lion represented this divine virtue in the creation of our planet. Without a well-thought-out decision, there is no implementation. Hercules, as spokesman for the Seven Mighty Elohim, said to Helios and Vesta, "Let us make your pattern and plan."

Hercules and Amazonia are the only Elohim to incarnate in human form.

Amazonia incarnated among the Amazons, a highly developed civilization in which a powerful race of women ruled the area now known as the Amazon basin. Eventually, this civilization turned away from the Light, evolved into a warlord clan, and perished. Hercules had three lives in the bygone ages to deal with the grotesque, half-man, half-beast beings created by the fallen angels in the Bible called the Guardians. Hercules ascended after completing twelve arduous tasks, on account of which he later became the ace of Greek mythology.

The twelve tasks of Hercules also represent the soul's striving for perfection as it is initiated by the twelve solar hierarchies.

In the sign of Aries, Hercules begins his spiritual development in an attempt to capture the dangerous running mares of King Diomedes, that is, he tries to gain control over his cape. This work takes place on the lower mental plane.

In the sign of Taurus, the hero works on the astral plane: he conquers the Cretan bull, personifying carnal lust. Herakles is successful, gaining control over the "bull of his lust" (of course, not only sexual). It means that he subordinates his natural instincts to a higher good, for the benefit of the community.

In the sign of Gemini, Hercules obtains the golden apples of the Hesperides, which means that he solves the problem of harmonizing the needs of soul and body. Apples symbolize knowledge, i.e. gaining control over the physical body, emotions and lower mind.

In the sign of Cancer, Hercules catches the la with the golden horn, which symbolizes intuition and which is essential on the spiritual path: the intuition that we must awaken in ourselves again and again. The instinct that dominates in this phase should be even more subtle and must be changed to intuition. It is the same with the intellect: it must be enriched by intuition. Because of this, a person understands things that cannot be understood only by instinct and intellect.

In the Lion phase, when the hero overcomes the Nemean lion (whose skin has not been shot), he is already a strong personality, he feels the power and importance of his person. His task now is to get over egoism and self-loathing, learn humility, forget about his own person and awaken in him the ability to help others.

The first five works represent the Path of Examination. After completing it, Hercules can enter the Path of Learning, which begins work related to the other four signs of the zodiac.

In the sign of Virgo, Hercules receives the girdle of Queen Hippolyta - he takes the first step towards his spirituality. As a mother gives life to her child, the student now manifests his sleeping soul in everyday life. The cause of incorrect attitudes and behavior is not the physical body, but its insufficient control from the side of the soul.

Capturing a wild boar in the sign of Libra is an image of gaining the supremacy of the soul over the imperfect body and its impulses, striving for balance and harmony, as well as expressing one's emotions. The important thing is that the wild boar (already natural instincts and emotions) should not have been "killed", but controlled and subordinated to the will of the hunter.

By overcoming the Hydra in the sign of Scorpio, Hercules changed his dark side, which hides in every hunter in the corners of the subconscious. The fight with the hydra ends successfully only when the student has undergone a complete internal transformation and has seen the problem from a different perspective.

In the sign of Sagittarius, Heracles had to drive away the terrible birds of prey that ravaged the area worse than locusts. Those birds are the negative thoughts and words with which we hurt others and which still occupy our minds.

In order to master the lessons on the learning path, it is essential to gain total control over your thoughts and words.

the other three labors of Heracles depict stages on the Path of Initiation. His previous works were related to his own spiritual improvement, but now he begins work for the good of all. This requires them to completely forget their own benefit, even their own spiritual progress!

The descent into the underworld and the overcoming of the three-headed dog Kerber in the task for Capricorn is a symbol of the passage through the first great initiation and initiation of work for others. Among other things, it requires gaining inner freedom against external limitations, but also cultivating love and accepting everyone, regardless of their faults and failures. Only such a person can work for the good of the world.

securing Augiás's stable is a task for the sign of Aquarius. Heracles becomes a master and begins to serve others. He disinterestedly cooperates in ridding the world of bad karma and mistakes and does it in an unconventional way: he breaks through the barriers of separatism with life energy and all-embracing love (agape).

Heracles' labor, which is associated with the sign of Pisces, is the liberation of a herd of cattle, which was controlled by the monster Géryon. The herd represents enslaved humanity, and the monster is an eternal illusion, that is, the form that matter has. Herakles becomes the liberator of his protégés, restores their happiness, teaches them independence and responsibility, inspires them to take their fate into their own hands.

We can call on Hercules and the Amazons to envelop us in protection, strength and power. We can attract their powerful help into our world and the decision-making process, it will help us fully manifest God's plan for our life. We can also invoke their energy to avert wars, terrorism, calamities and everything in the governments of nations that opposes God's will.

Hercules said: I ask you to call me wherever there is a disaster, a flood or a fire or a storm or a drought, so that I can heal with the Great Power that God has given me. I submit that each time you call upon me nine times, you will receive an effect the likes of which you have not seen since my original physical presence on Earth.

Apollo and Lumina

Apollo and Lumina are the Elohim of the Second Lua of God's wisdom, the guardians of the Christ Consciousness who can instantly call forth the mind of God. Their retreat is above Lower Saxony in Germany. During the creation of the Earth, the Elohim brought the gift of perception, enlightenment and wisdom. This is the ability to recognize and grasp an idea, and meditate on the ways and meanings by which it can be satisfactorily put into form.

The god known to the ancient Greeks as Apollo may have come from an ancient memory of an encounter with Elohim. Apollo brings the flame of the scepter of enlightenment to increase our awareness of God, which we can visualize as an intense golden light pulsing in our brain, crowned with a golden crown above our head. We can also call on Apollo and Lumina to release the flames of enlightenment for all of humanity and especially for the youth of the world.

Eros and Cupid

Eros and Amora are the Elohim of the Third Lua of Divine Love, which is the most powerful force in the universe. Their retreat is above Lake Winnipeg in Canada. In the creation of the Earth, these Elohim gave birth to a force of attraction that drew the unformed into form, sustaining and beautifying manifestation through love. Eros and Amora stabilized the Earth and limited the power of evil with the Ruby Luo of Love bricks they placed in the Earth. We can call upon them to amplify the Love and multiply the declarations of the violet flame with the power of Love, to shed the etheric mantle of the planet. Eros and Amora will also help us overcome all obstacles to our divine union with our twin flame (divine complement) and our own Higher Self.

certainty and Astrea certainty (masculine aspect) and Astrea are the Elohim of the Fourth Luo God, certainty, perfection and hope, who manifests as the flames of Ascension. They come to help us know God and the Mother of God, who manifests all the laws of nature governing the Universe on the physical plane. Their retreat is above the White Sea in Russia. During the creation of the earth, certainty maintained an unchanging certain image of the little thing, without disturbance or distortion.

Astrea carries a powerful me of blue and white Light to free the children of God from all that hinders them in their spiritual bond, including addictions, harmful thoughts and feelings, and demons and entities that attach to the spiritual pillar and acres and siphon off the Light of the incarnated being. We can call on the Mighty Astrea to lock her circle and me blue flame around the cause and core of a negative circumstance or problem in our life. As he answers our call, he holds his circle and me as an antidote to every form of darkness. This in will shake the force field of sin, sickness and death, and strengthen our innate God identity. Powerful Astrea provides this powerful service to us and our loved ones and also to millions of souls who need spiritual encouragement.

Cyclopea and Virginia

Cyclopea and Virginia are the Elohim of the Fifth Divine Lua of Healing, Truth, Vision, Abundance and Music. Their seclusion is in the Altai ridge, where China, Russia and Mongolia meet . Cyclopea animates the Creator's vision of freedom in life on many planetary homes across the galaxies.

During the creation of the Earth, Cyclopea maintained the concentration of energies until the creation of the Earth was complete. When we call upon him, he helps us clear our third eye of all uncertain seeing, and our mental and emotional bodies of all uncertain thinking and feeling. Together with Virginia, she makes the music of the spheres sound in the name of Alpha and Omega and helps us fulfill our divine plan. Together, they teach us the immense science of God and the scientific steps that will lead to our spiritual ascent.

Peace and Aloha

Peace and Aloha are the Elohim of God's Sixth Lúa of peace, brotherhood, service and help in Christ. Their retreat is the Temple of Peace above the Hawaiian Islands. These Elohim took the final step in the densification of the Earth, enfolding the planet in the peace flame of the Cosmic Christ so that it could be permanently sustained. They also spun her around her axis, joining the heavenly song of the Music of the Spheres. Peace and Aloha radiate strong ribbons of peace from their retreat and teach students how to keep the flame of peace alive. Uia visualizes the gazebo of peace in our heart and they help guide the energies of our solar plexus acre as we repeat the mantra, "Peace be still and know that I AM God." We call upon them to prevent wars from breaking out in the world and to help extinguish great strife by visualizing tens of thousands of angels of peace descending to a place where there is a state of war.

Arcturus and Victoria

Arcturus and Victoria are the Elohim of the Seventh Luo of God's grace, transmutation, forgiveness and freedom. Their retreat is located above Luanda, Angola. During the creation of the Earth, Arcturus and Victoria brought the violet flame in a rhythm of invocation and precision to perfect the symmetry of form. These Elohim strongly encourage us to invoke the violet flame in every area of our lives so that they can work in our favor. They explain that the violet flame is the springboard for our spiritual connection. Wherever we invoke the violet flame through mantras, declarations, songs and affirmations, we unleash a powerful miracle of light that will speed us up spiritually and invisibly bring about the shift of Earth's civilization into the golden age of consciousness.

Elohim of the five secret Lús

The Elohim of the Five Secret Luos, also called the Elohim of the Pranic Spirits, focus on the inner manifestation of God from the Great Central Sun. We call upon their driving force to help us develop the secret lua zones in our own causal body and amplify the energy of God.

Surya serves with the Lords of the Blue Lua from the God Star Sirius and is the Elohim of Akasha - the First Secret Lua of Responsibility. This Lú is ambiguous, the color of the sacred fire is blue and white. Although Surya has dictated many messages since 1944, it was not until October 8, 2006 that he announced that he was the Elohim of Akasha for Earth.

The Elohim of the Second Secret Lua - the Second Pranic Breath is Hyperion.

This Lú carries the divine qualities of Devotion to hierarchy and authority. God's fire is rose-gold in color and the sacred fire is peach-colored.

The Elohim of the Third Secret Lua, the Ruby Lua of Divine Love and Sacrifice – the Lua of the Third Pranic Breath is Kronos.

The Elohim of the Fourth Secret Lu - Pranic Breath, the stream of Elemental Essence and Life Force serving this System of Worlds is Oceanus. Oceanus reported in 1939 that the first two secret loos had been released into accelerated outer space on Earth, and in 1973 he reported that the third, fourth and the fifth Secret Lú.

2.19 Avatars, World Teachers and Ancient Mysteries

God loves the world so much that in every age he sent his beloved Son as the incarnation of the Logos, as the incarnation of the World. These are the avatars, the saviors of the world who came to lead humanity back to a higher consciousness. They are the ones who show the way, the ones who have fully embodied the Christ consciousness of the Son of God and remind God's gods of their original spiritual state and Divine destiny.

The word avatar comes from the Sanskrit korea "avatara", o meaning descent or transition from Spirit to Earth. There were many avatars on Earth. A new spiritual understanding developed around each of these, eventually forming a religious ceremony.

Sanat Kumara

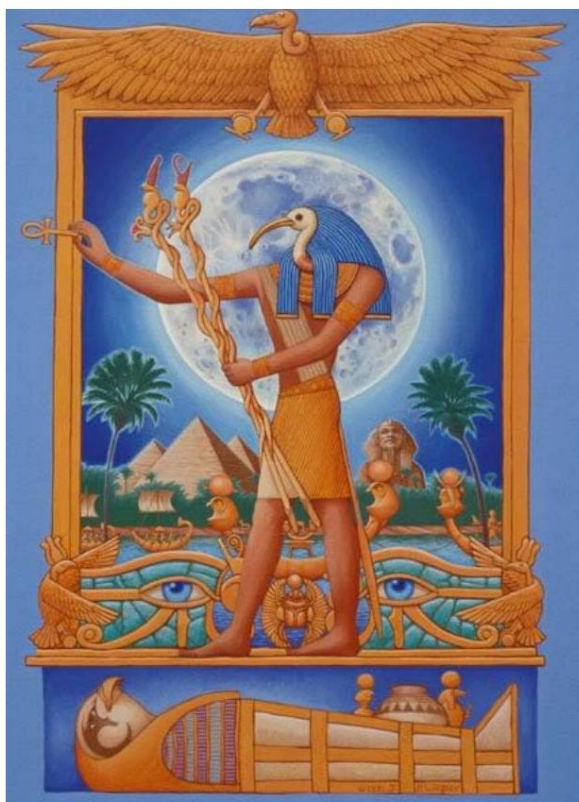

The ultimate example of an avatar can be found in the story of Sanat Kumar, who descended to Earth with 144,000 volunteers to help save the planet. The role he undertook was to sacrifice himself for the Earth and the people of the Earth and carry the Light for them at a time when the planet was in Spiritual darkness. He performed this work for over 18,500,000 years when he stood at the top of Earth's spiritual hierarchy as the Planetary Logos. He never incarnated on Earth in a physical form as we know it, but he was Earth in a higher form in which he ensouled the planet.

He evolved on the planet Venus with his twin flame Lady Venus, where he had 69 lives before his Ascension. He also studied music with the Angelic Realm to understand the Music of the Spheres, which is essential for the direction and movement of the celestial bodies. This affects our lives more than we realize.

Music is an excellent medium through which to understand and study the vibration of energy that is ultimately all life!

Ancient Egyptian Mysteries and Hermes Mercurius Trismegistus

After the first sinking of Atlantis 75,000 years ago, the Atlantean conquerors from the island of Poseidonis came to Egypt to build the great pyramids. Then about 40,000 years ago, the world uite avatar Thoth, later called Hermes by the Greeks, was born . Hermes / Thoth came with the doctrine of the inner Light, the cosmic Light that resides in the heart of every hunter.

The Egyptians gave him the name Trismegistus, meaning "thrice powerful" in his role as philosopher, priest and king. He is referred to as the father of alchemy, teaching the hermetic principles "that o is below is as o is above, and o is above is as o is below." According to legend, these principles were written on an emerald tablet which is found in his tomb along with the basic alchemical formulas.

In this incarnation, Hermes explained that the hunter's destiny is to become one with Osiris, the cosmic Father who is the radiant sun in the heavens and also the light in our heart. Isis, progenitor of Osiris, is the Mother of all life and the cosmic feminine principle manifested in nature. Isis is also a very noble being of whom it has been written: "I am, and was, and shall be, and no man has ever lifted the veil that hides my divinity from mortals."

Isis and Osiris together gave birth to Horus, the archetypal Christ figure who comes to restore the body of God. Similar to the ancient Kabbalistic lore of Adam Kadmon, the original hunter whose body was mutilated, Horus rescues the pieces of Osiris scattered across the Earth. This is the scattered body of God, which must be poured out and renewed for the Mother of God. With this other Horus frees Isis from her long divination of Osiris, which is the very purpose of every avatar. Isis helps restore the body of Osiris, who is then revived by the gods.

Hermes is the Ascended Master who is also known as the God of Mercury. He serves in seclusion on the Arabian Peninsula and teaches that the emerald tablet can be found in the secret chamber of every heart and soul and will be revealed by the Holy Spirit himself. He invites us to we spread the fires of the heart and transcended all forms of hardness of heart and transmuted them into Love. Hermes also supports and shelters the souls who were once initiated on Mercury and fought there for the bond of Light, then fought with Sanat Kumar and remain on Earth in the present. These Mercurians have the ability to anchor the mind of God and spread the truth by mouth and pen.

Orpheus and the Mysteries of Ancient Greece

The original founder of the Greek mysteries was Orpheus. Orpheus was also the incarnation of the world uite, who came to the Egyptians as Thot / Hermes.

He arrived around 7000 BC, lived primarily in the forests, where he gathered his followers around him. There was no king to offer him admittance, no dazzling court to call for his glory. He came as a singer, roaming the country, loving the life of nature, its sunlit places and its shadowy forest nooks, disdainful of cities and crowded dens of smoke. Around him grew a group of woodpeckers, and he sheltered them in the clearings in the woods, silent except for the singing of birds and the sweet sounds of forest life that did not break the silence.

Uil by song, music, music of voice and instrument, probably the origin of Apollo's lyre, and used the pætone scale. In addition, he sang and his music was fleeting, the angels came in the night with gentle notes, he worked with the sound on the astral and mental bodies of the devotees, reassuring and expanding them; with sound he drew the subtle bodies out of the physical and freed them into the higher worlds. The arousal of each etheric center had its own melody, inciting it to otherness. He showed his disciples vivid images created by music. And he learned that sound is in all things, and that if man were to harmonize, then the divine harmony would be manifested through him, and all nature would rejoice.

The mysteries of the Druids in the Middle Ages can be traced back to Orpheus. Here the lyre of Apollo becomes the harp of Angus, and the splendor of God is spread through music to Britain.

Orpheus believed that Dionysus was the Logos. Like the body of Osiris, his body was killed and torn to pieces, and then later raised from the dead. Orpheus believed that Dionysus symbolized the descent of the One Spirit into many human forms, and also the predestined Ascension of the many back into the One. This Ascension back into Oneness with the Logos is accomplished through the path of suffering and sacrifice.

Jesus, who was fully identified with Christ and in Oneness with the Logos, introduced this mystery (secret) to his disciples when he said: "This is my Body, which is sacrificed for you." Jesus anchored the fullness of this inner teaching by proving it with a physical example, and not only figuratively, when he presented his being to experience a physical crucifixion followed by a physical resurrection.

Zarathustra and the Ancient Persian Mysteries

The World Spasite who incarnated as Thoth and Orpheus also incarnated as the first Zarathustra in Persia over 30,000 years ago. He learned of Mithra, the captain of the hosts of God and the savior of humanity, and he learned from Ahura Mazda, which is the Mithraic name for Sanat Kumara, his guru.

Zarathustra then incarnated around 1000 BC as a prophet and avatar. His main goal was to exterminate evil. He appeared with a vision, the sacred fire of Ahura Mazda, and converted King Vishtaspa and Queen Hutaosa to the message of this guru. He taught the Law of Karma and reincarnation, and waged war against evil through the hands of archangels.

Zarathustra is an Ascended Master who holds the office of Consecrated Saint Oh in the spiritual hierarchy. He is the highest initiate of Saint Oh on this planet and rules the energies of fohat, o is the power of sound emanating from the mantra. As an Ascended Master, Zarathustra presides over the chastity of Saint Oh and the priesthood of Melchizedek. His consciousness carries the auric radiation of fire, which is all-consuming love, a penetrating light that enters the core of all that is unreal. To be in the presence of Zarathustra is like to be in the presence of the physical sun itself.

The mastery of the spiritual fire and the physical fire he rules is the highest of all the masters who have ascended from this planet. If you want to own the flame of Zarathustra, visualize him keeping the flame, the Divine Spark, in your own heart. He is the greatest guardian of all. And when you call him, remember that you have joined the battle of light and darkness, and you give your call to bind the forces of the antichrist, there is no greater devourer of dark forces than Zarathustra himself. He is an Ascended Master who has attained Buddhahood and his auric radiance is all-consuming love.

The Hindu Holy Trinity and the Ancient Avatars of the East

The Hindu holy trinity consists of Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva. The mother of the universe, from whom the holy trinity originates, is Ishvara. She is the most holy and releases the energy through which we become immortal.

Brahma is the creature, the supreme ruler and lawgiver of the universe in form and formlessness. His consort is Sarasvati and together they form the male and female potential of the cosmic force which is energy, consciousness and spirit and the living, moving, dancing image of the Hindu Deity. Brahma is the divine essence of power that manifests in the heart of every ascended master and in the heart of every unascended light-bearer as the blue flame of the triple flame-a. Sarasvati is the incarnation of the world, the creative essence of sound. She is the incarnation of the motherhood of God and is associated with speech, poetry, music and culture. She is worshiped as God of the World, God of Arts and Patron of Arts and Music. Its symbol is the paw of certainty.

Vishnu represents the Son who protects the great plan of creation and renews the light of the universe with the living flame of wisdom. He is the mediator between humanity and the absolute reality of the Father. As the forces of darkness gain the upper hand on Earth, Vishnu incarnates as an avatar and world savior as in the case of Rama and Krishna. Vishnu also resides in our heart as the yellow flame of divine enlightenment burning in our heart. Vishnu's consort is Lakshmi, who is revered for her splendor, beauty, prosperity and wealth. Lakshmi incarnated as Sita, Radha and Rukmini.

It restores our Oneness with God. Her symbols are the lotus and the elephant, which signify spiritual power and royal authority.

Shiva represents the Holy Spirit. His name in Sanskrit means auspicious and kind. He is the giver of joy and the shepherd of souls. Shiva is also Natraja, the Lord of Dance, who dances the universe into being and then dances it out of existence at the end of the age. He resides on the steed of Mount Kailas and also in the pink flame of divine love on the altar of the heart. By calling his name: "Shiva!", we can call him to help us overcome negative habits. Shiva has three consorts, Durga, Kali and Parvati. Parvati is a gentle mother and wife, full of grace and beauty. Together they have a son Skandha who is also known as Karttikeya, the god of war who is also identified with Sanat Kumar. Durga is called unruly, terrifying and threatening to her enemies. He rides on the back of a tiger, which represents the tyrannical human ego of our lower nature. Durga manifests again and again to protect the world and all God's children as she defeats every demon.

Kali is the most fearsome of Shiva's attendants and has fiery, blazing eyes and a terrifying appearance. Her fury unleashes all human delusions and all human creations that cannot withstand the test of the fire of the Holy Spirit will sound. At the same time, he bestows blessings on all who divine the knowledge of God.

Rama

Rama is the seventh incarnation of Vishnu, and most of the details of his life come from the epic story Ramayana. Here Rama is described as the Perfect Hunter, the Lord of Self-Control and the Lord of Virtues.

It depicts perfect vernos dharma (divine mission) despite the harsh trials of life. In honor of his father, he renounces his claim to the throne and lives in exile in the forest for fourteen years, along with his wife Sita and brother Lakshmana. When Sity is taken over by evil

Ravana, Rama goes through long and difficult tests of his personal strength and virtues.

Then he fights a colossal war against Ravana's armies in a battle where there are powerful and magical beings and very destructive weapons and battles. Rama eventually defeats Ravana, frees Sita, and returns to be crowned queen and later emperor. He is said to have ruled for eleven thousand years and it was an era of perfect happiness, peace, prosperity and justice.

Krishna

Krishna is the eighth incarnation of Vishnu and his story is told in the Bhagavad Gita, o means "Writing of God". In it, Krishna describes himself as "the Lord of all breathing" and "the Lord who resides in the hearts of all beings". He explains that "When good weakens, when evil increases, my spirit will emerge on Earth."

In every age I will return to bring holiness, to destroy sin and sinners, to establish righteousness." Krishna embodies all the personalities of God, the self-indulgent, the mischievous, the Gopala who likes to steal butter, the wooer of souls and the lover of shepherds who calls the sheep to him with a sound. his flute; and also the friend and counselor of the mighty warrior Arjuna.

We can call upon him to heal our inner workings and visualize his presence healing this work at whatever age trauma has occurred. He wants us to know and affirm that there is no other reality except God, that only God is real, and God dwells in us and pours us out through His personification as Lord Krishna.

Guatama Buddha

The story of Prince Siddharth who becomes an avatar, Guatama, is beautifully portrayed in the movie Little Buddha. Guatama was born in the sixth century BC as a prince. As a young man, faced with sin, sickness and death, he abdicated his throne and left his wife and family. He brings enlightenment to shatter the wheel of karma, death and rebirth.

During his exile, Guatama discovers a middle path and rejects asceticism and all forms of fanaticism. Sitting under the Bo tree, he finally achieves full spiritual awakening, but first he must defeat evil in all its forms. They are the five senses, personified as the five seductive daughters of Mary, then the fearsome armies of Mary, and finally he represents the zoi-voi and cancels his self-identification with the human ego personality, the "architect".

This initiation is similar to the Greek lore of Persephone and Narcissus, a metaphor for the soul, its redemption and enlightenment. Narcissus, a very beautiful man, is so drawn to his own reflection in the pond that he falls into the pond and drowns, and is subsequently changed by the gods into a beautiful flower. The flower is white and yellow, it captures in itself the basic essence and the arrival of the soul's purification through enlightenment and the path of immortality.

Persephone, the symbol of our soul, stops to pluck a daffodil flower and is carried by Desire to the underworld, where she must spend half of her existence, incarnation after incarnation, until she is finally saved. Similarly, the soul becomes entangled because it is lured by the lower personality, although it was not originally immersed in the illusory creation of matter. And yet God's seed endures and sprouts as the flower of God and the possibility for the soul to regain its immortality. The spell that Persephone is under is the same spell that Buddha broke when he revealed the architect of his own delusion and became enlightened. With these others, he left a record in the sands of an era that every soul can follow as a model.

At that moment, Guatama declared, "I AM awakened," and became a Buddha. He spent forty-nine days in deep meditation and ecstasy and discovered the four noble truths, the overcoming of desire, and the eight-step path to enlightenment. When

The Buddha decided calmly, Mara stood up to him one last time: "How can you translate your experience into words? He returns to Nirvana. Don't try to deliver your message to the world because no one will understand it. Stay in bliss!". "There will be some who will understand," replied the Buddha, banishing Mara from his life forever.

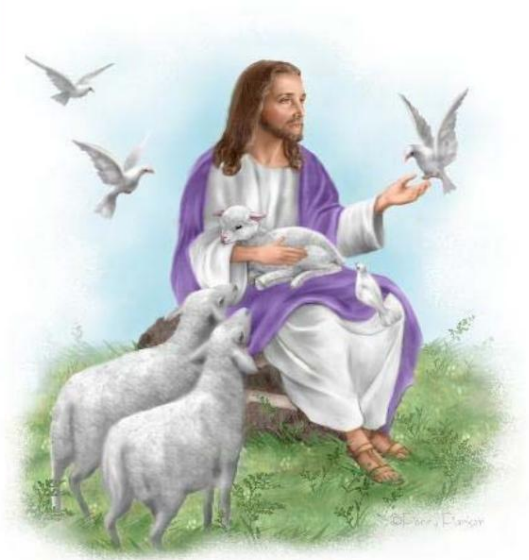

Guatama Buddha serves as Lord of the World under the tutelage of his guru, Sanat Kumara. His retreat is Western Shambhala above the Royal Teton Range. On the inner levels, he maintains the triple flame of God's Light in each heart with a splendid light radiating from his heart. It maintains this contact until the individual soul can ascend from the acre of the soul seat into the secret chamber of the heart and the divine spark of its own attainment, marrying the Holy Self of Christ. Guatama explains: Therefore all receive the support of the plamea and the impulse of my heart. And as the Light from God passes through me, I receive many things about you and your daily life, which you might think are beyond the mention or attention of the Lord of the World, who must indeed be busy with many things. Well, I really am! But I am never too busy to notice the elements of the Way introduced by families and families and communities and everywhere in the classrooms of life. Because I make it my business to see to it that some element of the Path or initiation, directed to the heart of Jesus or Maitreya, is in the life of each growing child.

Jesus, Avatar of the Age of Pisces

Like the Buddha, Jesus came to show mankind the Way, the Truth and the Life, which is the Divine I Am Presence hidden in every heart. He came to remind us that we are all Sons and Daughters of God and, just like him, we too can defeat death and hell, fulfill our mission and ascend home to God.

He came to teach us how to follow the path of personal Christianity and become Christ.

This he confirmed when he said: "He that believeth in me shall do the works that I do; yea, even more shall he do, because I go unto the Father."

Jesus had many incarnations before his Galilean mission, which thoroughly prepared him for this magnificent ministry. He first came with Sanat Kumar, then ruled as emperor and high kaz during the golden age of Atlantis, and as Rai at a later point in history. He also incarnated in Old Testament times as Abel, the brother of Cain; Joseph, son of Jacob; Joshua, who fought in the battle of Jericho; King David, who built the temple in Jerusalem and Elisha, Elijah's disciple.

In his last incarnation, Jesus was trained in the mystical traditions of Judaism, Egypt, and India. His parents, Mary and Joseph, were members of the mystical Essene brotherhood, and Jesus learned Jewish mysticism from birth. As a child, he grew up in Egypt, applied to Vekaz and received initiations in the Great Pyramid. Then, at the age of twelve, he went with a caravan to India, where he stayed for twelve years, learning from Hindu sages and smoking incense. This is well documented in the movie Jesus in India.

Jesus returned to Palestine, called his followers and trained them in these ancient mysteries and the working of miracles.

Jesus demonstrated all the points of the spiritual law. He fully embodied the mantra "I Am the Resurrection and the Life".

He learned how to expand the triple flame in his heart until it enveloped his entire aura and strengthened into a resurrection flame. This mastery allowed him to perform amazing miracles that penetrated the limitations of time and space. He was able to walk on water, change water into wine, heal the sick, revive the dead, multiply loaves and fish, disappear from their midst, and much more.

The greatest miracle of all was his physical bond over death and hell. Jesus voluntarily surrendered to the initiation of physical crucifixion and then rekindled his own triple flame in his heart, resurrecting his body. With these others he left forever a record of the established bond of every Son and Daughter of God over death and hell.

As an Ascended Master, Jesus serves with Mother Mary and Kuthumi in the office of the World Uite. He also serves in the Arab Retreat at the Temple of the Resurrection above the Holy Land. Let us live a full life that conveys the fire of his heart to all life. So he calls us to be his disciples and apostles, as instruments and mediators of his Light, which is the same Light that enlightened every hunter that came into the world. Offer him to enter your heart today.
